WM. M. McMORROW,
DURING YEAR 1922.

For Public Schools, 26.94 cents; Public Works, 14.62 cents; Debt Requirements, 12.08; State Tax and Assessments, 10.14; Police Department, 8.32; Fire Department, 6.76; Institutions and Poor Relief, 6.18; General Government, 3.83; Hospitals and Health, 3.70; County Courts, etc., 3.35; Public Recreation, 2.66; Public Library, 1.42, making a total of 100 cents. This excludes all expenditures from loans, etc., but includes Special Appropriations from Tax Levy and other General Income.

The revenue of the departments (i. e., $7,281,083) amounted to 16.43 per cent of their gross expenditures. The revenue of Public Service Enterprises alone (including Water Service, Printing Plant, Markets, etc.) amounted to $4,336,436 or $642.719 more than their total expenditures. The fractions of the dollar above stated represent net expenditure computed after deducting department revenue.

Revenue from another class of public service enterprise, i. e., Rapid Transit subways and tunnels, $1,703,937 or $77,922 more than the interest and sinking fund requirements of the Rapid Transit debt in 1922.

EXPORTS AND IMPORTS, MASSACHUSETTS CUSTOMS DISTRICT FOR THE YEAR 1922.

Dating from July 1, 1913, the district includes Boston and the eight minor ports of the state. Value of exports in calendar year, 1922, $50,544,530 or $9,706,424 less than in 1921. Value of imports $238,509,916, an increase of $73,587.41 (44.62 per cent) over 1921. Total foreign trade $289,054,446 or $63,880,993 (28.37 per cent) more than the total in 1921. Boston's rank in total trade was sixth in 1922, New York, New Orleans, Galveston, San Francisco and Seattle, showing larger totals in the order here stated. As to imports alone, Boston's ranked second, and as to exports alone, 15th in 1922, the unusual decline in exports due largely to discrimination against Boston in through railroad freight rates.

Tonnage of vessels in foreign trade in year 1922, entered, 4,289,416 or 1,289,823 more than in 1921; cleared, 2,476,011 or 662,379 in excess of 1921; number of vessels entered, 1,837 or 403 more than in 1921; number cleared, 1,214 or 237 more.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT OR "GREATER BOSTON", 1922.

Consists in the most inclusive sense of 40 municipalities, including Boston, or 14 cities and 26 towns, all within 15 miles of the State House. The 7 cities in the first zone, i. e., adjacent to Boston, are these, viz., Cambridge, Chelsea, Everett, Newton, Quincy, Revere and Somerville; the 6 cities in the second zone, not adjacent, are Lynn, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Waltham and Woburn. The 6 adjacent towns are Brookline, Dedham, Milton, Needham, Watertown and Winthrop; the 20 other towns are Arlington, Belmont, Braintree, Canton, Cohasset, Dover, Hingham, Hull, Lexington, Nahant, Reading, Saugus, Stoneham, Swampscott, Wakefield, Wellesley, Weston, Westwood, Weymouth and Winchester.

North and northwest of Boston are situated 11 of the cities and 12 of the towns; south and southwest, 2 cities and 14 towns. Area of Northern Division, 150.8 square miles and population in 1920, 699,685, or a density of 4,619 per square mile; Southern Division, 214.8 square miles and 211,191 population, or density of only 983 per square mile, in the whole Metropolitan District, 4,051 per square mile. In percentages Boston shows 10.5 per cent of District's area and 45.09 per cent of population; Northern Division, 36.2 of area and 42.18 of population; Southern Division, 53.3 of area and 12.73 of population. In the period 1915-1920, increase of population 34,798 larger in Northern than in Southern Division.

Total land area of District, 409.5 square miles; population by census of 1920, 1,658,936 or 4.08 per cent increase over that of 1915. Corrected population for 1920 (Boston's total increased by 54,808) 1,713,744. Of the total population of the State "Greater Boston" 44.48 per cent; of total valuation, 51.11 per cent; of total value of manufactures, 32.53 per cent.

Total valuation of taxable property in District on April 1, 1922, $2,919,179,075, which exceeds the 1921 valuation by $114,300,666, a gain of 4.07 per cent. Of said total 57.47 per cent was in Boston and 42.53 per cent outside.

The four organized Metropolitan Districts existing for the purpose of conserving and maintaining certain extensive systems of public works under State control are as follows: Metropolitan Park District, established by chapter 407, Acts of 1893, including all the cities and towns except Lexington, and managed by a State Board of five commissioners; Metropolitan Water District, established by chapter 488, Acts of 1895, including 10 cities and 9 towns, and covering an area of 175 square miles; Metropolitan Sewerage District, established by chapter 439, Acts of 1889, consisting of the North System and South System, including 17 cities and towns in the former system and 8 in the latter, and covering an area of 225 square miles; the last two districts managed by a single State board of three commissioners: Charles River Basin District, established by chapter 465, Acts of 1903, including all the cities and towns except Cohasset and Lexington, and in charge of the Metropolitan Park Commission. By Chapter 350, General Acts of 1919, the two Metropolitan boards were abolished and a single Metropolitan Commission of five members was established.

Another Metropolitan District, viz., the Fire Prevention District, was organized in 1914 by the enactment of chapter 795. In this district are the 14 cities of "Greater Boston," but only 10 of the towns, to which were added Reading and Rockland, a total of 25 municipalities. The District is in charge of a single commissioner, assisted by a deputy commissioner, both appointed for a term of three years. This office was also abolished by said Chapter 350, the work of same being transferred to Department of Public Safety.

Total gross Metropolitan debt for water, parks, sewers and Charles River Basin improvements on July 1, 1922, $77,599,512; sinking funds, $31,419,635; net debt, $46,179,877 or $164,911 less than in 1921. This net debt is divided thus: Water supply, $24,514,519; sewers, $11,265,640; parks, boulevards, etc., $7,318,353; Charles River Basin, $3,081,965.

Of 1922 tax rates, the highest of the cities was Quincy's ($36.20) and the highest among the towns, that of Saugus ($38.00); the lowest among the cities was Boston's ($24.70) and among the towns, that of Weston ($18.90). Mean tax rate of the 13 cities in the District outside of Boston, $32.48 or $1.00 more than in 1921 and $3.38 more than in 1920. Mean tax rate of the 26 towns, $27.72 or $1.16 more than in 1921, and $3.11 more than in 1920.

There were in the District in 1920, 4,471 manufacturing establishments, value of product, $1,421,528,434; capital invested, $846,928,136; value of stock and materials used, $814,021,722; total wages paid $266,902,177; average number of wage earners, 207,066. Rank, 1 to 12 in value of products; (1) Boston, $674,344,180; (2) Cambridge, $156,430,827; (3) Lynn, $143,039,476; (4) Somerville, $81,605,860; (5) Watertown, $56,663,659; (6) Everett, $53,100,183; (7) Quincy, $41,244,061; (8) Chelsea, $36,412,602; (9) Malden, $32,326,117; (10) Waltham, $23,895,120; (11) Weymouth, $21,822,189; (12) Newton, $16,295,778. Boston's total product value was 47.44 per cent of the Metropolitan District's.

MASSACHUSETTS CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

NEW FIRE HOUSE FOR ENGINE 40 IN EAST BOSTON ENHANCES SECTION'S BEAUTY.

MAYOR CURLEY APPROVES OF ANOTHER CIVIC IMPROVEMENT FOR DISTRICT—BUILDING TO COST $60,000 AND BE FINEST OF KIND IN NEW ENGLAND—CONTRACT TO BE LET IN SEPTEMBER AND FINISHED IN FOUR MONTHS.

NEW $60,000 FIRE STATION TO BE ERECTED IN EAST BOSTON FOR ENGINE 40 APPARATUS.

Another civic improvement of which East Boston will have a right to boast when it is completed will be the new fireproof fire house for Engine 40 which is to be built on Orleans and Sumner streets soon. This structure is to be the most up-to-the-minute fire house in the East, according to plans approved by Mayor Curley this week after submission to him by Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn. The structure is to cost $60,000, and will house the newly motorized apparatus purchased by the direction of the Mayor.

Contract for the building is to be awarded early in September and the building will be ready for occupancy in about four months thereafter. Under Mayor Curley East Boston is not being neglected as had been charged in previous administrations for this is the third large civic improvement being undertaken and soon to be completed. The others are the new high school structure, and the memorial playground at Wood Island Park.

The new fire house is to be 40 feet wide, 75 feet long and three stories high. The basement floor and walls of the building are to rest on concrete piles. The basement is to contain an oil-burning apparatus, with provisions made for coal, if need be. It is also to have storage space.

The first floor will contain an apparatus room, with cement floor and walls of salt glazed brick, for seven feet, and with enameled brick from there to the ceiling. It is also to have a shop in the rear of the building.

The second floor will be given over entirely to living quarters and is to include two officers' rooms, with adjoining baths and a men's bunk room of sixteen beds, with adjoining shower and locker rooms.

On the third floor will be a recreation room, 16 by 37, with an open fireplace; also a kitchen and roof garden. The kitchen is to be as well arranged as that of any fine hotel. In most of the old fire houses the kitchens are in the basements. Mulhall and Holmes are the architects.

MAYOR HYLAN TO BE COLUMBUS DAY ORATOR.

Mayor Curley received definite advices from New York, Thursday evening, that Mayor and Mrs. John F. Hyland will be in Boston as guests of the city upon Columbus Day, Friday, October 12, to deliver a public address upon the "Message of Columbus Day" upon the afternoon of the holiday.

Mayor and Mrs. Hyland will be accompanied from New York by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. O'Brien.

Mr. O'Brien is chairman of Mayor Hyland's Committee on Parks and Public Playgrounds of the city of New York and one of the best loved gentlemen in the country on the subject named.

MAYOR FELICITATES CONVENTION.

Mayor Curley sent the following reply to the invitation extended by the State Branch of the American Federation of Labor to come to their convention at Worcester and address them:

MR. MARTIN T. JOYCE, Secretary-Treasurer, State Branch American Federation of Labor, in Convention Assembled, Worcester, Mass.:

DEAR SIR,—I beg you will convey to the representatives of the American Federation of Labor in convention assembled my sincere appreciation as Mayor of Boston for the acceptance of invitation to convene in Boston during 1924.

It would, I assure you, be a source of extreme pleasure to accept of the invitation so graciously extended to address the Massachusetts State Branch of the American Federation of Labor during the progress of the present convention at Worcester, but, in view of the apprehension upon the part of a few delegates that my visit might savor of politics, for the best interests of the organization it would, in my opinion, be advisable to defer the pleasure of addressing your organization until the convention to be held in Boston next year.

I feel it is needless for me to set forth my position upon the question of organized labor. It is so important an institution and so necessary as an adjunct to American progress that no right-thinking American would for a moment be guilty of any action that might in any way prove injurious to what, in my opinion, is one of the most potential assets for good government, progress and happiness of the American nation.

Sincerely yours,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

[From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.]

EAST BOSTON TUNNEL IS 90 PER CENT COMPLETED FOUR MONTHS AHEAD OF ESTIMATED TIME ALLOTTED FOR WORK.

TRANSIT COMMISSION REPLIES TO STORIES OF WASTE INSPIRED BY DISGRUNTLED CONTRACTORS WHO DIS- LIKED CITY'S PLAN OF GIVING EMPLOYMENT TO IDLE CITIZENS WHEN THEY NEEDED WORK TO PRESERVE THEIR MANHOOD.

The Boston Transit Department, in a statement in answer to stories that it was wasting the people's money in the construction of the East Boston Tunnel by veterans hired on a day-labor basis disclosed the fact that not only has their plan saved the city's money but also that they are months ahead of the time for completing the work. The statement of the Transit Department reads as follows:

The Transit Department is so busily engaged in putting through one of the most difficult and complicated engineering projects ever attempted in this part of the country by day-labor force, that it should not be compelled to waste its time answering the meanly un-American propaganda of the disappointed subway contractors who are now making their last despairing effort to discredit this work.

When the job was started these same contractors and their allies predicted disaster, failure, waste and delay; and yet despite the handicap of one of the severest winters in Boston's history, the work has progressed steadily and efficiently, and is today almost 90 per cent completed, with five months left to carry the work to completion within the time scheduled when the work began.

This is the answer of the Transit Department to the vague, ungenerous and slanderous charge, based on hint, idle gossip and innuendo that the veterans are not doing a fair day's work.

We are building at Maverick square an underground station 50 feet below the surface of the street, 1,600 feet in length and 150 feet in width, with a loop for trains under the existing East Boston Tunnel and a loop for surface cars over it. These provide a convenient interchange of passengers underground between surface cars and trains, and also the necessary shops and storage facilities for all the trains that will operate through the East Boston Tunnel, and is one of the steps in the ultimate training of all subways and tunnels by the substitution of long trains of steel cars for the surface cars now in use.

During the construction over, under and around the tunnel there has not been a moment's interruption of car service. Even the night cars have been regularly operated during the blasting of the old tunnel by dynamite. Owing to the fact that the South Ferry slip is at the end of the scene of this work it has been impossible to divert the enormous vehicular traffic to any other thoroughfare. Large, heavy, old buildings on the surface had to be underpinned in a bad bottom, 20 feet below mean low tidal water, through which the tides ebbed and flowed.

It cannot be too strongly emphasized that when Boston engaged to construct this East Boston Tunnel by day labor and not by contract it did more than build a tunnel. It undertook the building and conservation of human character on a large scale; and is succeeding in doing both.

When Mayor Curley assumed office in 1922 he was confronted by an acute and alarming problem of unemployment, for business was depressed, an army of idle men walked the streets and hardship and suffering were widespread. The expense to the city of aiding unemployed veterans, compulsory under the law, ran over a million dollars a year and was increasing daily. The question for Mayor Curley to answer rested itself in this fashion: Which is better, to build the tunnel by contract and pay out the city's money to contractors using alien and "padrone" labor, or to do the work itself by day labor and by employing idle veterans and Americans, curtail soldier relief and restore them to a productive, wage-earning status? Which of the two methods connotes the American idea?

Which took cognizance of the moral duty of the city, involving a choice between debauching and destroying the character of our people by supporting them by doles in idleness, or of conserving the manhood and self-respect of the service man by giving him a chance for honest work and wages?

Mayor Curley chose the better way, the tested way, the moral way, the American way; and his example was one of the forces that brought courage to the timid and confidence to the cautious, and diminished depression and solved the problem of unemployment in 1922-23.

To belittle and distort the work and character of the veterans employed on this project is shabby business, mean and ungenerous, and unworthy of decent Americans, remembering their record and service.

One word about the type of men engaged in this work:

First, they are all American citizens; in fact the most of them are Boston born and practically 90 per cent of them served with the colors during the Spanish and World Wars.

Every employee on this work is certified by the State Civil Service Commission; after examination by their physicians, as physically fitted to perform laborious work in wet and muddy surroundings. Before being hired, each employee is interviewed by one of the commissioners, and the fact that out of 3,400 names certified, only 1,560 were appointed is conclusive evidence that exceptional care is exercised in the selection of qualified men.

The engineering force in charge of this work is headed by Maj. Ernest R. Springer, one of the ablest subway engineers in America, and the resident engineer is Wilbur W. Davis, who has been employed continuously by the Transit Commission for twenty-one years, during which time he has had charge of the construction of the most difficult sections of the Beacon Hill Tunnel, Washington Street Tunnel, Dorchester Tunnel, and Boylston Street Subway.

The progress of this work has been carefully observed by such eminent engineers as Howard A. Carson and Edmund S. Davis, former chief engineers of the Boston Transit Commission; Messrs. Conover and Jacobs, engineers of the New York Transit Commission; Nelson F. Lewis of New York, and Prof. Samuel L. Connor of Tufts Engineering School, and they have highly commended the organization, equipment, and esprit de corps of the personnel.

BOSTON CITIZENS GREET HEARTILY NOTED FRENCHMAN, GENERAL HENRI GOURAUD.

MAYOR CURLEY AND DELEGATIONS EXTEND WELCOME TO "LION OF THE ARGONNE" BEFORE COUNCIL CHAMBER FULL OF ADMIRERS OF FAMOUS FIGHTER —IS PRESENTED WITH NATIONAL, CITY AND FRENCH FLAGS AS TOKEN OF ESTEEM.

The Council Chamber of City Hall was crowded to capacity at 11.15 o'clock Wednesday, when General Henri Joseph Gouraud was received there and given an enthusiastic welcome by Mayor Curley, representatives of the City of Boston, of the Civil War, the Spanish War and the World War.

The general arrived with his two aides and Col. Hugh W. Ogden of the Rainbow Division, who is entertaining General Gouraud in Boston.

Mayor Curley who was on the platform with Col. William Donovan of the 69th New York Regiment and Miss Cecile Terrien, a former nurse in the French army, now studying nursing at the Fenway Hospital, received the general.

Mayor Curley made a brief address in which he mentioned the welcome which he had given to Marshal Joffre and Marshal Foch and recalled the Revolution in which he said the American Republic would never have become a reality without the aid of France.

He told what a great pleasure it was to welcome the "Lion of the Argonne."

He said that when General Gouraud injured his arm it was not necessary for him to have it amputated, but that saving his arm would have compelled him to relinquish his command for six months.

This, General Gouraud was unwilling to do and in sacrificing his right arm to the cause he proved an inspiration and heroic example to others. The Mayor then praised the conduct of the French and American troops, where none hesitated to make the sacrifice that free government might continue. He said that all Americans love France and then introduced General Gouraud.

General Gouraud said in part: "Since I have been in America, I have always wanted to come to Boston. My two chiefs, Marshal Foch and Marshal Joffre, told me of the warm welcome which they received here. On my entire trip through the United States I have everywhere found—in the biggest cities and townships, which are just rising—the most gratifying expressions of friendship."

"Although history recalls how close France and America have been, this friendship is not based only on historic incidents but on a mutual bond of affection that exists between the two people. I am especially glad to have seen some of the soldiers under my command during the war which I could not know then. Now I have had the opportunity to shake hands with a great many ex-service men who served under me. I feel sure that all people want Germany to pay the reparations. In the big cities of Boston, New York, Chicago and San Francisco where I have been, as well as in the smallest communities I have felt this. The destructions of war should be paid by the destroyer and not by those who suffered destruction. Such is my opinion."

Col. Hugh W. Ogden then told an anecdote of the war, speaking of a day five years ago when he was fighting side by side with the French when his division was under General Gouraud. "With heads bloody but unbowed, they repulsed a German wing. General Gouraud called a conference of such American officers as could be spared from active duty and fifteen or twenty of them gathered behind the lines. Gouraud told them that the victory was theirs, that the beginning of defeat was in sight and that the forces of autocracy were routed." Colonel Ogden concluded with the remark: "We'd have followed that man to Berlin."

Mayor Curley then presented the American, French and city flags to General Gouraud. The American flag was borne by a Civil War veteran, the French flag by a Spanish War veteran and the city flag by a veteran of the World War. "These are three tokens of our admiration for you," said the mayor.

General Gouraud thanked the mayor for the flags and said they would be placed in the Invalides in Paris, where he had his headquarters as military governor of Paris.

Prof. Charles P. Lebon, who long taught French at the English High School, was called on by Mayor Curley to offer a benediction. The old veteran of the Franco-Prussian war was so moved at seeing General Gouraud that he could hardly speak. He finally said, his voice trembling with emotion, "God bless our two republics."

The meeting then ended,

Brighton. Surety bond will be required in an amount equivalent to 45 per cent of the contract price. Blank forms for proposals may be obtained at the office of the Schoolhouse Department, Room 1009, City Hall Annex, Boston. Bids, accompanied by certified check in the amount of $500, to be filed at the same office. Duplicate bid, without check, to be filed with the City Auditor.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Upon August 13 the Mayor approved the contract of Bernard W. Marcus for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, August 8, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Bernard W. Marcus, 271 Dean road, Brookline, Mass., is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon August 13 the Mayor approved a contract with the Metropolitan Coal Company for furnishing the Institutions Department, Long Island Hospital, 200 tons of Welsh coal. A communication from Frank P. Rock, Superintendent of Supplies, was as follows:

Boston, August 7, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award contract, without publicly advertising for same, to the Metropolitan Coal Company, 20 Exchange place, Boston, Mass., for furnishing for the Institutions Department, Long Island Hospital, 200 tons Welsh anthracite coal, nut size, delivered in bins at $14.60 per net ton. Total amount of contract $2,920.

This department is unable to secure this amount of American anthracite coal. The Welsh anthracite coal being purchased is of superior heating qualities to the American anthracite and the price is lower than what could be obtained for American anthracite coal if bids were obtained. This is the same grade of coal now being used in the Police and School Departments and the various departments of the city and it has been found very satisfactory.

Trusting that the permission to award this contract be granted, I am

Respectfully yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT.

Coblo & Griffin have been ordered to make the following change in contract for erecting and completing Courthouse, Forest Hills: Bill paid Carmine Mason, putting on locks, etc., $42.60; bill paid James J. Joy, putting on locks, etc., $73; bill paid Albert D. Doggett Company, new halliards, $20, and the amount of $135.60 will be deducted therefor, making the account as follows: Contract price, $207,000; total additions, $6,485.45; total deductions, $3,014.52; contract as standing, $210,410.63.

CAR SPACE RESERVED.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners, who voted that a part of Park street, Dorchester district, lying between Geneva avenue and Dorchester avenue, be set apart and established as a reserved space for the use of street railways, the part of said street so reserved being bounded as follows:

Northerly by a line beginning at a point approximately ninety-five feet distant easterly from the east line of Borneaside street, running thence parallel with and fifty feet distant from the northerly line of said Park street as it now exists about four hundred forty-five feet; thence southeasterly about forty feet by a curve line of thirty feet radius to the northwest line of Dorchester avenue; thence southwesterly by the northwest line of Dorchester avenue about thirty-eight feet; thence northwesterly, westerly and southwesterly by a series of curves, about one hundred feet to the northwest line of Dorchester avenue; thence again southwesterly by the northwest line of Dorchester avenue about ninety-two feet; thence by the line of Park street as established by an order of this Board approved December 7, 1922, five hundred and one and 5-100 feet to the line of Park street as established by an order of this Board approved July 24, 1922; thence northerly by a straight line ten feet to the point of beginning, all as shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Park Street, Dorchester, June 26, 1922, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," on file in the office of said board.

NEW HYDE PARK CAR PLAN UNDER WAY SEPTEMBER 1.

Assurances have been received by Mayor Curley that time-table schedules for the operation of the Elevated system lines in Hyde Park would become effective September 1, when the entire Hyde Park system will be operated by the Elevated as a part of the Boston Elevated system, with a single fare from all parts of Hyde Park and Readville to all portions of the Elevated Railway system.

CONTRACTS TO DO WORK.

The Mayor has granted the request of Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, to award a contract to the Lundin Electric and Machine Company, Inc., to furnish twelve (12) electric spot light posts for Commonwealth avenue without inviting advertisement, the estimated cost being $3,500. This is a special make of post and the Lundin Electric and Machine Company is the only manufacturer in the city.

Also to set back edgestone, repair roadway and lay artificial stone sidewalks at Boylston and Charles streets (Boston Common), with division forces without advertisement, the estimated cost being $1,500.

LOW RATES FOR G. A. R. CONVENTION IN 1924.

Mayor Curley received the following letter Monday from the Boston Chamber of Commerce:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—President Conoley is out of the city, and your letter to him in regard to taking steps to secure a one-cent rate for the proposed G. A. R. Convention will be in his hands Monday or Tuesday, when he returns.

I am sure he would want us to go ahead and fulfill your request, so we are today taking steps, both through the New England Passenger Association and individually through the general passenger agents of the more important New England lines, to secure the rates that you have requested.

Trusting we may speedily have favorable information for you, I am,

Very truly yours,

DENNY B. GOODE.

MANY AT SWIMMING CARNIVAL.

The City of Boston, under the auspices of the Park Department, held a swimming carnival for boys under sixteen years of age at the boys' department of the L Street Bath House on Friday, August 17, at 130 p. m.

Mr. George T. Cuddihy, superintendent, was in charge of the carnival.

There were swimming and diving contests in two classes; for boys under twelve years of age and for boys between twelve and sixteen. Entries were taken by Mr. Cuddihy at the L Street Bath House up to and including Thursday.

The swimming carnivals conducted by Mr. Cuddihy in past years have created such enthusiasm among followers of aquatic events that, with the added attractions which had been arranged for this year, preparations were made to accommodate thousands of spectators. To the program of swimming and diving contests was added a demonstration in life saving by pupils of the boys' department together with a novelty contest that is new to followers of the aquatic game in New England, namely, climbing the greasy pole and the plank race.

Mr. Cuddihy gave an exhibition, assisted by Mr. Emanuel DeFreitas, who is known as one of the few men who have made the jump from Brooklyn Bridge and lived to tell it.

Suitable prizes were provided for the following events:

Twenty-five yard race for boys under twelve years of age.

Twenty-five yard race for boys under sixteen years of age.

Diving contest.

Climbing greasy pole.

Fifty-yard race for boys under twelve years of age.

Fifty-yard race for boys under sixteen years of age.

Plank race.

Referee.—Michael J. Ward.

Starter.—John Neilan.

Clerk of Course.—Henry J. Brennan.

Assistants.—H. W. Ackhurst, John

Reilly, Arthur Davidson, Arthur King,

Peter Joannette.

Judges of Events.—Daniel J. Gillen,

James F. Powers, Edward Murtagh,

Edward Hopkins, William J. O'Neil,

General John H. Dunn.

Inspectors.—Harold Peters, A. N. Rice,

Arthur Simonds, John Harkins, Joseph

and Merrill Griswold.

Judges of Diving.—Walter J. Burns,

Edward Joyce, Lawrence Shea, Edward Bell, Pierce Murphy, Joseph O'Malley and Jeremiah Leary.

Demonstrations in life saving by Mr. George T. Cuddihy, assisted by Mr. Emanuel DeFreitas and Mr. Thomas Reilly.

His Honor Mayor James M. Curley presented the prizes to the youthful contestants at the conclusion of the carnival.

This year, for the first time, invitations were extended to the mothers of the boys who had been conscientiously training under Mr. Cuddihy and Mr. Walter Burns for the past two months. After the regular events for the boys, Mr. Walter Burns, swimming instructor, gave a demonstration of the trudgeon and crawl strokes.

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

The C. & R. Construction Company have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for laying high pressure fire pipes in Bedford street, across Washington street, West street, Beach street, Boylston street, Temple place, South street, High street, Oliver street, Franklin street, Hawley street, Broad street, Kilby street, Water street and Beverly street. Items ordered: Labor and material in relocating 12-inch low service in Bedford street, at Kingston street; relocating 12-inch high service pipe in Bedford street, at Chauncy street, offsetting 16-inch low service pipe in Bedford street, east of Chauncy street, operating gates, etc., at an estimated cost of $405.

John Williams & Co. have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for laying and relaying water pipes in Massachusetts avenue, between Albany and Southampton streets. Items ordered: Cut out manhole; relocate two catch-basin drains; set extra 16-inch gate; install 2-inch service to 834 Massachusetts avenue. Extra labor due to change in pipe trench on account of underground conditions that made it impossible to lay water pipe in location as called for on plan at an estimated cost of $680.

CLAIMS.

The Mayor has approved, with the indorsement of the Corporation Counsel, the following claims:

LAND-TAKING IN BRIGHTON.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners, upon request of Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department, for the taking of land for a public improvement, consisting of the laying out and construction of Price road, Brighton district, as a highway, from Glenville avenue to Long avenue, bounded and described as follows:

The highway named Price road is hereby laid out, from Glenville avenue to Long avenue, and ordered constructed.

For the making of the aforesaid improvement an easement for street purposes is taken in the following described land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto:

The land, owners unknown, being the private way now known as Price road, lying between Glenville avenue and Long avenue.

The highway named Price road hereby laid out and ordered constructed, is bounded:

Northeasterly by the northeast line of Price road as hereby laid out, by three measurements, forty-three and 36-100 feet; one hundred fifty-four and 34-100 feet, and thirty-three and 65-100 feet; southeasterly by Glenville avenue, forty-two and 9-100 feet; southwesterly by the southwest line of Price road as hereby laid out, two hundred four and 20-100 feet; northwesterly by Long avenue, forty-two and 98-100 feet.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforesaid described land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of abutting land on both sides of said street, as hereby laid out, will receive benefit or advantage other than the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered, each of the particular lots to the amount respectively set against it herein; said lots and the supposed owners thereof are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Price Road, Brighton, Assessment Plan, May 25, 1923, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," on file in the office of said department.

6. Samuel Rottenberg, Jacob A. Colmes	457 20
7. Arosiag Kassabian	165 20
Total	$1,902 36

Ordered, That this Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the making of the public improvement consisting of the laying out and construction of Price road, Brighton district, as a highway, from Glenville avenue to Long avenue, under an order of the Board, and awards no damages therefor.

MAYOR CURLEY WINS BATTLE TO GAIN FREEDOM FOR AMERICAN CITIZEN.

One of the most interesting cases affecting the rights of American citizenship that has been known in City Hall during Mayor Curley's administration reached a definite conclusion today.

About three weeks ago Mayor Edward W. Quinn of Cambridge called at City Hall and presented Dennis Duggan, resident at 5 Beachview avenue, Malden. Mr. Duggan upon presentation to Mayor Curley began the recitation of a most interesting narrative. He stated that a son, Patrick Joseph Duggan, was born at 418 West Fifty-Third street, New York City, and was baptized at the Church of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, Borough of Manhattan, upon May 8, 1904. Mr. Duggan presented to Mayor Curley a certificate of baptism of the Duggan child.

When the Duggan child arrived at the age of five years an aunt who resided near the city of Cork, in Ireland, a maiden lady, desired to take the child to Ireland as a companion, and to which both Mr. and Mrs. Duggan, the parents of the little one, assented. The Duggan child remained permanently in Ireland, and in his early youth became greatly interested in the cause of the freedom of Ireland and the establishment of a Republic independent of the British Crown.

Duggan was seized by representatives of the British Government and placed in jail in Cork nearly one year ago. His health became greatly impaired during the term of his imprisonment and he was removed to the Mercy Hospital in Cork where he was confined at the time of the father's visit to Mayor Curley.

Mayor Curley made an immediate appeal to Secretary Charles Evans Hughes of the Department of State, contending that Duggan was born an American citizen, that he had never made any pledge to the British Government requesting citizenship in Great Britain, and that the British Government had placed him in jail without any authentic evidence of any offence against the British Crown but merely upon suspicion of being a man friendly to Irish independence and opposed to the Free State government, and that his relatives had no advices of any trial before a court or military tribunal in Ireland. Mayor Curley further declared that the rights of the native born American citizen had been violated, and requested Secretary Hughes to cable Hon. John A. Gannon, Consul of the United States at Queenstown, Ireland, for searching investigation and report, and further, that demand should be made upon the British Crown for the release of the prisoner.

Secretary Hughes has advised Mayor Curley that his contention in the Duggan case has been approved and that advices from Queenstown declare that Patrick Joseph Duggan will be immediately released from confinement and given passage to America upon an early steamer.

Mr. Duggan's health has been so seriously impaired by his long confinement that he will visit his aunt near Cork for a period of about thirty days before emigrating to Boston.

Mayor Curley was especially pleased at the outcome of this case as establishing a most important precedent relative to American citizenship for it appears that the United States Government is prepared to protect the interests of every man, woman and child who can establish an American birthright notwithstanding the number of years they have resided beyond the borders of this country.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 61.

I. ASSIGNMENTS.

The following assignment of men on probation is hereby announced to take effect at 9 a. m., Saturday, August 11, 1923:

Arthur V. Molway, to Engine 41.
Robert F. Quirk, Jr., to Ladder 2.
Alexander W. Farrow, to Ladder 16.

II. TRANSFERS.

The following transfers are hereby announced to take effect at 9 a. m., Saturday, August 11, 1923:

George E. Adams, from Engine 41 to Engine 24.
Timothy F. Lydon, from Ladder 16 to Engine 13.
John F. Howard, from Engine 24 to Ladder 4.
John F. O'Shea, from Ladder 2 to Engine 25.

III. NEW FIRE ALARM BOX.

A new fire alarm box, No. 45, will shortly be established at Medford and Cottage streets, Charlestown. This box will be connected into circuit No. 43, and the assignment of apparatus will be the same as for Box 451.

IV. PERMIT FOR REMOVAL OF GASOLINE STORAGE TANKS.

The following communication has been received from the office of the State Fire Marshal, and is published for the information of the department:

"a. Your attention is hereby directed to the provisions of the current garage regulations governing the removal of tanks which have been used for the storage of gasoline. In all cases where a permit is granted for this purpose such permission should be given in writing.

"b. A special form of permit is being prepared for use in such cases, and when ready for distribution copies will be forwarded to you. In the meantime, and until you receive the forms referred to, the above instructions should be followed."

V. RULE 428.

The attention of the department is directed to Rule No. 428 of the Rules and Regulations of the Department. Strict compliance with this rule is insisted upon. Disregard of this rule casts a reflection on each member of the department and the Fire Commissioner will not tolerate any violations of it.

VI. COMMENDATION.

The Fire Commissioner is in receipt of the following communication, which

FACTORY MUTUAL BUILDING ASSOCIATION OF BOSTON, 185 FRANKLIN STREET,
BOSTON, August 2, 1923.

THEODORE A. GLYNN, Fire Commissioner,
60 Bristol Street, Boston:

DEAR SIR,—The Trustees of the Factory Mutual Building Association desire to express their appreciation of the most excellent work done by the members of the Fort Hill company on Saturday last in quickly responding to the alarm given by the sprinkler bell on the outside of our building. By the quick and excellent work which they did, considerable further loss was prevented.

As a slight token of appreciation of this service I am inclosing a check for $50, made out to the Boston Firemen's Relief Fund.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH P. GRAY,
Chairman of Trustees.

By order of Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn.

JOHN O. TABER,
Chief of Department.

General Order No. 63.

I. ACCIDENT.

Hereafter when an accident occurs to apparatus responding to a fire, after the company is dismissed from activities at the fire the officer in command of the company involved in the accident will return to the scene of the accident and assist the emergency crew in every way to place in service or to replace said apparatus with reserve apparatus.

This rule applies to companies equipped with two-piece service, assuming that one piece of apparatus is available for responding to the fire. The officer in charge will respond with the available apparatus, leaving one man in charge of the disabled apparatus, said man to communicate with Fire Alarm Office for emergency crew, so that upon return to the scene of the accident the emergency crew will either be at work or on the way.

During the operation of removing the disabled apparatus, while the company is at work with the emergency crew, the officer in command will establish communication with the Fire Alarm Office so that in the event of other alarms to which that company is assigned it can respond with available apparatus without depreciating the service in that district.

If the accident occurs on returning from a fire the commanding officer will follow the rules outlined above, and will do everything to expedite the placing of the company back into complete service.

District chiefs must take an interest in this work and see that the work progresses rapidly. The responsibility for the efficient functioning of a district is in the district chief, and a fire alarm box is a post of communication at which headquarters can be established as much as though the chief officer was in an engine house.

II. NEW FIRE ALARM BOXES.

The following new fire alarm boxes will shortly be established:

Box 45, Medford and Cottage streets,

Charlestown. The assignment of apparatus for this box will be the same as for Box 452, and the box will be connected into circuit No. 43.

Box 3782, Glenwood avenue and Loring street, Hyde Park. The assignment of apparatus for this box will be the same as for Box 3781, and the box will be connected into circuit No. 58.

III. MOTOR APPARATUS.

On August 6, 1923, a new American LaFrance combination, Type 75, 750-gallon pumping engine and hose car was placed in service at the quarters of Engine Company 34, replacing a steam fire engine and three horses. On the same day a new American LaFrance combination, Type 75, hose and chemical car was placed in service with the same company, replacing a horse-drawn hose wagon and two horses.

The old apparatus was placed in reserve and the five horses sent to the Veterinary Hospital.

IV. FIRE ALARM BOX REMOVED FROM SERVICE.

Fire alarm box No. 7126, temporarily installed at the United States Dry Dock, South Boston, has been removed from service.

V. COMMENDATION.

The following letter has been received by the Fire Commissioner and is published herewith for the information of the department:

LEWIS A. CROSSETT COMPANY,
NORTH ABINGTON, MASS.,
August 13, 1923.

FIRE COMMISSIONER THEODORE A. GLYNN,
60 Bristol Street, Boston, Mass.:

DEAR SIR:—Last Saturday morning the Fire Department, consisting of Ladder 15 and Engine 33, at the corner of Boylston and Hereford streets, very promptly responded to a silent call for a fire in the laundry of my residence, 304 Commonwealth avenue, and extinguished the same before it had done any serious damage.

In appreciation of their services in my behalf I would like to present to the Boston Firemen's Relief Fund my check for one hundred (100) dollars.

Will you kindly thank the members of the Fire Department who served me on that morning?

With best wishes for the success of your organization, I remain,

Yours very truly,

LEWIS A. CROSSETT.

The check for $100 has been turned over to the treasurer of the Boston Firemen's Relief Fund.

By order of Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn.

JOHN O. TABER,
Chief of Department.

DAMAGES AWARDED.

Ellen A. McLaughlin has agreed to accept the sum of $3,000 as full payment for all land taken from, all rights acquired in, and all damages occasioned to her estate on Medford street by the taking of said estate (No. 35) for playground purposes under the Street Commissioners order of June 16, 1923.

RABBIS CONDEMN IMPOSTOR WHO FALSELY, IN THEIR NAME, ATTACKS MAYOR CURLEY.

The Mayor is in receipt of the following from the Boston rabbis:

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT FROM THE BOSTON RABBIS.

Our attention has been called to a public letter published in one of the Boston newspapers from a person signing himself as a rabbi and condemning Mayor Curley that he has not fulfilled his pledges and promises.

While it is not our intention to interfere in such controversies yet we deem it a reflection upon the rabbis of Boston, and therefore desire to repudiate the statements of one who, although signing himself as rabbi, is not a rabbi.

At a meeting of the Orthodox Rabbis' Association of Massachusetts a resolution was adopted protesting against the use of the title "Rabbi" fraudulently by a person who made an attack against the Mayor.

It was also resolved that we protest against the use of said title by other individuals who are not rabbis and who simply have the authority to perform some slight function according to the Jewish rights and ethics.

It was further resolved that this association take measures to remedy the evil of unauthorized and unprincipled individuals misusing the title "Rabbi" fraudulently and for selfish purposes, to the detriment of the Jewish race.

As we highly respect our national, state and city officials, we feel that this is a reflection upon us to have unscrupulous persons misuse the title and publicly proclaim themselves as rabbis when they are not, and commit some wrong act for which some people may blame others of our race.

RABBI S. J. FRIEDERMAN,
RABBI D. M. RABINOWITZ,
RABBI J. M. J. JACOBSON,
Committee on Resolutions.

CONSERVATION BUREAU REPORTS LARGE ATTENDANCE AT SHOWS.

Mayor Curley received the following communication Monday from the secretary of the Conservation Bureau:

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Following is a report regarding the use of the safety motion picture, "Why Are We Careless?"

From March 4, when the film was first used, to August 4—five months—the film was shown to seventy-six audiences with a total attendance of 118,174. The average size of the audiences was 1,700.

The film is being used in the open-air Boston park shows and the similar park shows being conducted in Cambridge. The Massachusetts Safety Council is using it in various meetings arranged in conjunction with the Boston playgrounds and elsewhere. The film has been shown in the following towns and cities: Boston, Cambridge, Chelsea, Dedham, Gardner and Newton, Mass.; Chicago, Dayton, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Newark, Waterloo, Iowa, and a private showing in New York City.

The film has been listed by the National Safety Council and by several agencies that furnish such information to industrial, educational and other users of motion pictures. The indications are that "Why Are We Careless?" will have a wide use throughout the country as well as continued use locally for the next year at least. The comments concerning the film are almost invariably favorable. The results have amply justified its making.

Very truly,

E. B. MERO, Director.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for a public improvement, consisting of the laying out and construction of Ilfley road, West Roxbury district, as a highway, from Washington street to Walnut avenue, bounded and described as follows:

The highway named Ilfley road is hereby laid out, from Washington street to Walnut avenue, and ordered constructed.

For the making of the aforesaid improvement an easement for street purposes is taken in the following described land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto:

The land, owners unknown, being the way known as Ilfley road, lying between Washington street and Walnut avenue.

The highway named Ilfley road, as hereby laid out and ordered constructed, is bounded:

Northwesterly by the northwest line of Ilfley road as hereby laid out nine hundred eighty-four and 26-100 feet; northeasterly by Walnut avenue, forty and 8-100 feet; southeasterly by the southeast line of Ilfley road as hereby laid out, nine hundred eighty-seven and 83-100 feet; southwesterly by Washington street forty and 47-100 feet.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement. Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of abutting land on both sides of said street, as hereby laid out, will receive benefit or advantage other than the general advantage to all real estate in said city from the improvement herein ordered, each of the particular lots to the amount respectively set against it herein; said lots and the supposed owners thereof are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Ifley Road, West Roxbury Assessment Plan, May 25, 1923, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," on file in the office of said department.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land, upon the request of Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department, for a public improvement consisting of the laying out and construction of Leslie street, Dorchester district, as a highway, from Morton street to Woolson street, with the name of Leston street or some other distinctive name, bounded and described as follows:

The highway named Leston street is hereby laid out, from Morton street to Woolson street, and ordered constructed. For the making of the aforesaid improvement an easement for street purposes is taken in the following described land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto:

The land, owners unknown, being the way now known as Leslie street, lying between Morton street and Woolson street.

The highway named Leston street, as hereby laid out and ordered constructed, is bounded:

Southwesterly by Woolson street, forty and 15-100 feet; northwesterly by the northwesterly line of Leston street, as hereby laid out, seven hundred thirty-nine and 33-100 feet; northeasterly by Morton street, forty and 12-100 feet; southeasterly by the southeasterly line of Leston street, as hereby laid out, seven hundred thirty-eight and 9-100 feet.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforesaid described land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of abutting land on both sides of said street, as hereby ordered laid out, will receive benefit or advantage other than the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered, each of the particular lots to the amount respectively set against it herein; said lots and the supposed owners thereof are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Leston Street, Dorchester, Assessment Plan, May 25, 1923, F. CALLS FOR GASOLINE PROBE.

Mayor Curley sent the following letter Wednesday to Hon. William F. Williams, Commissioner of Public Works of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, State House, Boston.

Requests have been received that the City of Boston conduct an investigation of the prices charged for gasoline by the various oil companies operating within the limits of the city. I have informed the individuals who have directed my attention to the matter that I should direct your attention to their request, and in addition suggest to you the advisability of conducting such investigation, in view of the difference in price paid in the various states of the Union, and in view of the additional fact that you as State Commissioner of Public Works are charged with the registration of motor vehicles.

MAYOR STUDIES PLAN TO RELIEVE CONGESTION PROBLEM ON DOWNTOWN STREETS.

Mayor Curley is studying a suggestion that the City of Boston erect a huge garage in the downtown section, accommodating several thousand cars, in an effort to help solve the traffic congestion problem of Boston.

He is collecting information from various cities in the West, particularly Cleveland, where huge garages, accommodating as high as 10,000 cars, have been erected in the business sections and where only a small sum is charged for storage while the owners are at business or shopping.

The problem that the Mayor is most anxious to solve is to relieve the present and ever growing congestion of traffic caused by automobiles and at the same time preserve the trade of the retail stores.

He has already had conferences with the official in the firms of White's, Jordan Marsh and Filene's on this subject and has advanced to them the suggestion that the big retail merchants combine and themselves erect a huge garage in the center of the city to accommodate the cars of their customers at a charge merely sufficient to meet maintenance costs and pay the sinking fund requirements on the money invested.

In addition to that members of the Board of Street Commissioners held a hearing Wednesday urging at least a trial of the proposed ordinance prohibiting parking in the shopping district in daylight hours, except from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Such strong opposition appeared that the experiment may be postponed.

The area bounded by Charles, Boylston and Essex streets, Atlantic avenue, Commercial, Causeway, Leverett and Cambridge streets would be affected by the proposed ordinance. Practically all town business opposes the ordinance.

LAND-TAKING IN BRIGHTON.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land upon the request of Joseph A. Rourke, of the Public Works Department, for a public improvement, consisting of the laying out and construction of Ayr road, Brighton district, as a highway, from Beacon street to Orkney road, bounded and described as follows:

The highway named Ayr road is hereby laid out, from Beacon street to Orkney road, and ordered constructed.

For the making of the aforesaid improvement an easement for street purposes is taken in the following described land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto:

The land, owners unknown, being the way now known as Ayr road, lying between Beacon street and Orkney road.

The highway named Ayr road, as hereby laid out and ordered constructed, is bounded:

Easterly by the east line of said Ayr road as hereby laid out, two hundred twelve and 34-100 feet; southerly by Beacon street, forty feet; westerly by the west line of said Ayr road as hereby laid out, two hundred thirteen and 38-100 feet; northerly by Orkney road, forty and 1-100 feet.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforesaid described land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered: That this Board estimates that the abutting lots on both sides of said street, as hereby laid out excepting the lot located at the easterly side thereof, at the corner of Beacon street, will receive benefit or advantage other than the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered, each of the particular lots to the amount respectively set against it herein; said lots and the supposed owners thereof are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Ayr Road, Brighton, Assessment Plan, May 25, 1923, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," on file in the office of said department.

BUILDINGS RAZED.

The Mayor has approved the request of Building Commissioner John H. Mahony to raze the following buildings as constituting fire menaces and nuisances:

To take down building located at 184 Washington street, Ward 25. The owner, Mrs. Arthur R. Wright of Sherborn, has been served with a notice but neglects to remove the cause of complaint.

To take down building located on premises 8 Greenville street, rear, Ward 12. The owner, Frank Clark of South Berwick, Me., has been served with a notice but neglects to remove the cause of complaint.

To take down building located on premises rear 710 Centre street, Ward 22. The owner, Samuel Corsey of 73 Tremont street, has been served with a notice but neglects to remove the cause of complaint.

To take down building located on premises 49 Bickford street, Ward 15. The owner, Jacob Lebowich of 27 School street, has been served with a notice but neglects to remove the cause of complaint.

To take down building located on premises 139 Lamartine street, Ward 15. The owner, Solomon Tamkin of 139 Lamartine street, Ward 15, has been served with a notice but neglects to remove the cause of complaint.

CONTRACTS AMENDED.

The Maryland Casualty Company's contract for the completion of electric and gas systems in the Washington Allston District School, Arlington street and Webster place, Allston district, Boston, has been amended by striking out the words and figures:

"April 25, 1923," on page 23, Section 3, of the specifications and substituting the words and figures: "November 1, 1923," so that the paragraph of said date of completion on page 23 of the specifications shall read: "The work is to be commenced on or about May 25, 1923, and is to be completed on or before November 1, 1923."

R. J. Connolly has been allowed to amend his contract for a new building in the John Marshall District, Dorchester, Boston, by striking out the words and figures: "Four months from award of contract," and substituting therefor the words and figures: "October 1, 1923," so that the paragraph of said completion on page 1 of the specifications shall read: "The work is to be commenced immediately on the award of the contract and is to be completed on or before October 1, 1923."

R. J. Connolly has been allowed to amend his contract for new science room in Portable No. 126, Minot School, Neponset, Boston, by striking out the words and figures: "July 1, 1923," on page 5 of the contract, and substituting therefor the words and figures: "September 5, 1923," so that the said completion clause on page 1 of the specifications shall read: "The work is to be started immediately after signing the contract and is to be completed on or before September 5, 1923."

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (SEWER SERVICE).

Antony Barufaldi has been given an extension of time of completion of contract for building sewerage works for Glendale road outlet, Section 1, and North avenue, West Roxbury, from March 31, 1923, to July 14, 1923 (105 days).

M. DeSisto Company have been given an extension of time for completion of the contract for building sewerage works in Prospect street and Moloney street, West Roxbury, from July 28, 1923, to August 31, 1923 (twenty-four days). This extension is occasioned partly by delay caused by a leaky hydrant at Baker and Prospect streets and partly by the necessity for excavating a greater quantity of ledge in Prospect street than had been anticipated.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Water Service).

John Williams & Co have been given an extension of the time of completion of the contract for laying and relaying water pipe in Massachusetts avenue, between Albany and Southampton streets, dated from July 14, 1923, to August 15, 1923, due to the fact that the Boston Consolidated Gas Company delayed the contractor in the relocating of their gas mains.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

The United States Cast-Iron Pipe and Foundry Company have been given an extension of the completion date of the contract for furnishing 4-inch cast-iron pipe to the Water Service, Public Works Department, from March 15, 1923, to June 15, 1923, for the reason that the contractor was delayed owing to an embargo on the delivery of materials for the entire winter as the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad refused to honor our request for clearance on the pipe.

MAYOR STARTS PLAN TO ASSURE COAL FOR WINTER—CALLS MEETING OF MAYORS.

Mayor Curley sent the following letter Monday:

HON. JOHN HAYS HAMMOND, Fuel Administrator, Washington, D. C.:

DEAR SIR,—I beg to inform you that I have arranged, as president of the Mayor's Club of Massachusetts, for a meeting of the mayors of Massachusetts cities to be held at the Parker House, Boston, on Monday, August 20, at one o'clock p. m. to consider the advisability of purchasing Welsh anthracite coal in such quantity as may be deemed necessary to meet the requirements of the Massachusetts cities.

Under the law the cities in Massachusetts are permitted to borrow money for this purpose outside of the debt limit in such amount as in their opinion may be necessary.

Unless the coal strike is settled before Monday next we shall take this step both as a protection against coal shortage and the apparent conspiracy of American bituminous coal dealers to force the consumption of bituminous coal.

It will be our purpose in addition to seriously consider the general installation of oil burning devices as a means of relieving the present manufactured anthracite fuel shortage.

Respectfully yours,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

ADDITIONAL WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

John Williams & Co. have been directed to perform the following additional work under contract for laying and relaying water pipes in Almont street, Canaan street, Colorado street, Currier street, Hebron street, Kennebec street, Mattapan street, Dorchester, Ainsworth street, Harrison street, Maynard street, Metropolitan avenue, South street and Wright road, West Roxbury. Items ordered: 230 feet 12-inch pipe in Messinger street, Dorchester; 400 feet 12-inch pipe in Livermore street, Dorchester; estimated cost of additional work, $2,200.

SUBSTITUTE WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

The C. & R. Construction Company have been directed to perform the following substitute work under contract for laying high pressure fire pipes in Bedford street, across Washington street, West street, Beach street, Boylston street, Temple place, South street, High street, Oliver street, Franklin street, Hawley street, Broad street, Kilby street, Water street, Beverly street. Items ordered: Lay 300 linear feet 12-inch high pressure fire pipe in Kingston street, between Essex and Bedford streets; lay 500 linear feet 12-inch high pressure fire pipe in Harrison avenue, between Bedford and Essex streets, in place of 800 linear feet 12-inch pipe which was to be laid in Broad street, between Franklin and State streets under contract items. Due to building construction the Broad street pipe cannot be laid in 1923.

MASSACHUSETTS CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

MANAGER OF INSTITUTIONAL INDUSTRIES (MALE), DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTION, AUGUST 21, 1923.

The salary is $3,500 a year. Applicants must be at least thirty-five years of age at the time of filing application. A certificate of date of birth must be filed with the application. Applicants should have had experience in dealing with labor problems and should know something about the conduct of businesses such as are carried on at the State Prison. They should also be able to act as arbitrator and conciliator on questions arising between labor and capital. The shoe industry being the largest one and the most important carried on at the prison, applicants should have a complete working knowledge of all the operations of the shoe business. They should be familiar with modern appliances, shop methods and the more recent and approved methods of cost and factory accounting, stock inventories, etc., and with efficient factory management, including the best methods of fire and accident prevention.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 4; practical questions on the duties of the position, 3; personality and fitness, as determined by an oral interview, 3; total, 10.

Applicants will be required to obtain a mark of at least 65 per cent in training and experience and in the oral interview in order to become eligible.

Successful applicants will also be given a physical examination.

ASSISTANT CHEMIST (MALE), METROPOLITAN DISTRICT COMMISSION, WATER DIVISION, AUGUST 21, 1923.

The salary is $1,800 a year. The duties of this position are to operate an experimental filter station at Framingham and obtain information regarding the purification of the water of the Sudbury river, to make investigations to determine the results of various methods of filtration, especially the use of soda ash and alum as a coagulant. It is desirable that applicants have had experience in the laboratory of a filter plant in New England and be familiar with the methods employed to determine the proper treatment of waters of rivers similar in character to the Sudbury river, and be familiar with the use of coagulants under the varying conditions that occur during different seasons. They should also have sufficient technical knowledge of chemistry to be properly qualified to make chemical and bacteriological analyses of the water and should be experienced in making physical analyses of sands, and be familiar, from actual experience, with the construction, operation and maintenance of slow sand filters.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 3; practical questions, 2; total, 5.

Applicants will be required to obtain a mark of at least 65 per cent in training and experience in order to become eligible.

Successful applicants will be required to file a certificate from a reputable physician as to their physical fitness for the position.

WM. M. McMORROW,
Collector of Taxes for the City of Boston.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT OR "GREATER BOSTON," 1922.

Consists in the most inclusive sense of 40 municipalities, including Boston, or 14 cities and 26 towns, all within 15 miles of the State House. The 7 cities in the first zone, i. e., adjacent to Boston, are these, viz., Cambridge, Chelsea,

Everett, Newton, Quincy, Revere and Somerville; the 6 cities in the second zone, not adjacent, are Lynn, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Waltham and Woburn. The 6 adjacent towns are Brookline, Dedham, Milton, Needham, Watertown and Winthrop; the 20 other towns are Arlington, Belmont, Braintree, Canton, Cohasset, Dover, Hingham, Hull, Lexington, Nahant, Reading, Saugus, Stoneham, Swampscott, Wakefield, Wellesley, Weston, Westwood, Weymouth and Winchester.

North and northwest of Boston are situated 11 of the cities and 12 of the towns; south and southwest, 2 cities and 14 towns. Area of Northern Division, 150.8 square miles and population in 1920, 699,685, or a density of 4.619 per square mile; Southern Division, 214.8 square miles and 211,191 population, or density of only 983 per square mile; in the whole Metropolitan District, 4,051 per square mile. In percentages Boston shows 10.5 per cent of District's area and 45.09 per cent of population. Northern Division, 36.2 of area and 42.18 of population; Southern Division, 53.3 of area and 12.73 of population. In the period 1915-1920, increase of population 34,798 larger in Northern than in Southern Division.

Total land area of District, 409.5 square miles; population by census of 1920, 1,658,936 or 4.08 per cent increase over that of 1915. Corrected population for 1920 (Boston's total increased by 54,808) 1,713,744. Of the total population of the State "Greater Boston" has 44.48 per cent; of total valuation, 51.11 per cent; of total value of manufactures, 32.53 per cent.

Total valuation of taxable property in District on April 1, 1922, $2,919,179,075, which exceeds the 1921 valuation by $114,300,660, a gain of 4.07 per cent. Of said total 57.47 per cent was in Boston and 42.53 per cent outside.

The four organized Metropolitan Districts existing for the purpose of constructing and maintaining certain extensive systems of public works under State control are as follows: Metropolitan Park District, established by chapter 407, Acts of 1893, including all the cities and towns except Lexington and managed by a State Board of five commissioners; Metropolitan Water District, established by chapter 483, Acts of 1895, including 10 cities and 9 towns, and covering an area of 175 square miles; Metropolitan Sewerage District, established by chapter 439, Acts of 1889, consisting of the North System and South System, including 17 cities and towns in the former system and 8 in the latter, and covering an area of 225 square miles; the last two districts managed by a single State board of three commissioners; Charles River Basin District, established by chapter 465, Acts of 1903, including all the cities and towns except Cohasset and Lexington, and in charge of the Metropolitan Park Commission. By Chapter 350, General Acts of 1919, the two Metropolitan boards were abolished and a single Metropolitan Commission of five members was established.

Another Metropolitan District, viz., the Fire Prevention District, was organized in 1914 by the enactment of chapter 795. In this district are the 14 cities of "Greater Boston," but only 10 of the towns, to which were added Reading and Rockland, a total of 25 municipalities. The District is in charge of a single commissioner, assisted by a deputy commissioner, both appointed for a term of three years. This office was also abolished by said Chapter 350, the work of same being transferred to Department of Public Safety.

Total gross Metropolitan debt for water, parks, sewers and Charles River Basin improvements on July 1, 1922, $77,599,512; sinking funds, $31,419,635; net debt, $46,179,877 or $1,649,011 less than in 1921. This net debt is divided thus: Water supply, $24,541,519; sewers, $11,265,640; parks, $20,545,015; $7,318,353; Charles River Basin, $3,081,365.

Of 1922 tax rates, the highest of the cities was Quincy's ($36.20) and the highest among the towns, that of Saugus ($38.00); the lowest among the cities was Boston's ($24.70) and among the towns, that of Weston ($18.90). Mean tax rate of the 13 cities in the District outside of Boston, $32.48 or $1.00 more than in 1921 and $3.38 more than in 1920. Mean tax rate of the 26 towns, $27.72 or $1.16 more than in 1921, and $3.11 more than in 1920.

There were in the District in 1920, 4,471 manufacturing establishments, value of product, $1,421,528,434; capital invested, $846,928,136; value of stock and materials used, $814,021,722; total wages paid $266,902,177; average number of wage earners, 207,066. Rank, 1 to 12 in value of products: (1) Boston, $674,344,180; (2) Cambridge, $156,430,827; (3) Lynn, $143,039,476; (4) Somerville, $81,605,860; (5) Watertown, $56,663,659; (6) Everett, $53,106,185; (7) Quincy, $41,241,061; (8) Chelsea, $36,412,602; (9) Malden, $32,326,117; (10) Waltham, $23,895,120; (11) Weymouth, $21,822,189; (12) Newton, $16,295,778. Boston's total product value was 47.44 per cent of the Metropolitan District's.

BOSTON'S MOST NOTABLE PUBLIC IMPROVEMENT—THE STRANDWAY PROJECT SOON TO BE COMPLETED.

WILL STAND AS ONE OF MOST ATTRACTIVE AND FAMOUS MONUMENTS TO THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION. MILLIONS IN VALUATION ADDED TO CITY BY RECLAIMING AND BEAUTIFYING OF 265 ACRES OF MUD FLATS—WILL COST APPROXIMATELY $2,000,000 WHEN FINISHED.

BOSTON'S $2,000,000 STRANDWAY PROJECT, ADDING MILLIONS TO CITY'S VALUATION AND FAME, SOON TO BE COMPLETED—265 ACRES OF LAND RECLAIMED AND BEING BEAUTIFIED.

Work on the Strandway, one of the most noted of the civic projects being completed under the administration of Mayor Curley is about 80 per cent completed and when finished will stand, for all time, not only as one of the foremost wonders of Boston but as a monument to the present administration. Already the work being done there and the plans outlined are attracting attention not only in this country but in Europe. As an open-air spot and bathing beach it will take rank with the finest and most famous in the world.

The project, when completed will have cost about $2,000,000 but the value to the city will have been many millions since with the completion of the park there will have come to the city some 265 acres of reclaimed land. The Strandway improvement, itself comprises about ninety acres. The huge bath house which will be the finest in the country is roofed in and will be ready for use next spring; the walks planned by the architect are 75 per cent completed, the roadways have been subgraded and the great circle rough graded.

The vast athletic field is 90 per cent completed and the wide stretch of beach finished. No planting has been done yet but that will be started this fall. The view from the driveway will be one of the most artistic the aesthetic could wish, taking in the beauties of the whole bay from South Boston to Hingham. Aside from being a beauty spot the completion of the Strandway will have added millions to the city in the way of enhanced values for city property. The first appropriation for the work was made by the city in 1916. This was $599,000. Last year, under Mayor Curley an additional $800,000 was appropriated and it was by reason of this appropriation that the work has been able to march ahead to completion.

With Marine Park and its attractions at City Point the Strandway will make one of the wonders of the world when completed. Arthur A. Shurtleff is the architect.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-
peering plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters'

NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.]

MAYOR CURLEY EXTOLS THE ACTS OF LATE PRESIDENT WARREN G. HARDING.

DELIVERS NOTABLE ORATION OF PRAISE FOR NATION'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE SO RECENTLY STRICKEN IN DEATH, AS BOSTON ELKS HOLD COMMEMORATIVE EXERCISES AT TREMONT THEATER.

Mayor Curley delivered the following address at the Exercises Commemorative of our late President, Warren Gamaliel Harding, at the Tremont Theater, at 1:30 p. m. Monday, under the auspices of Boston Lodge of Elks.

Our distinguished and honored Brother Elk, Warren Gamaliel Harding, to honor whose memory we assemble, has laid down his burdens; his tasks are done; his days of doubt and anxiety, probing, and questioning are ended. He has found rest and peace and surcease of suffering and sorrow, in the sweet, cool soil of his own land, with the grass and stars above him, his name an honored one in the annals of his country, his memory fragrant of duty and deed well done.

"None but the actions of the just smells sweet, and blossom in the dust."

His name and work are embedded in the minds of us who remain. The example which he furnished will serve as an inspiration for useful service to God and humanity.

Warren G. Harding was a typical American, devoted to the simple things of life, who found in his home and family his sweetest pleasures. A clean living man, who was a good neighbor and an exemplary citizen, who believed in the gospel of work, the dignity of labor, and the duty of service to man and to country.

Great honors connote great burdens, and he who carries his honors and bears his burdens with dignity and courage serves his country best. As President he gave to his fellow Americans an example of democratic Americanism and unspoiled humanity; and carried the tremendous burden of the presidency with its prestige and penalty, its acclaim and anxiety, without a protest, and with a full appreciation at all times of the responsibilities of his great charge. His service and death teach us that if the pure metal that is in our common humanity is to be forged and fashioned into the sword of achievement, the crude ore must be burned in the furnace of suffering and service, and beaten on the anvil of duty and devotion, to be welded by character, conscience and conduct.

From out the fires came Lincoln to lead America through strife and threatened disunion up to the mountain top, whence with God-given vision he could visualize the peace, prosperity and unity that lay out there in the future before him, and into which his great spirit guided the nation, though his body slept in the cool earth. Something of this immortal Lincoln, his memory, the story of his accomplishments, his unflinching patience and charity, his tragic death in the hour of triumph, must have come to the American boy Warren G. Harding, in his modest home, in his teaching and training, and touched him with their influences. For in all his dealings with his countrymen, his conception of duty was ever of such character as would be only possible to one who kept ever before him the example of America's most illustrious citizen, the martyred President, Abraham Lincoln.

The tragedy of Warren G. Harding's death, as in the case of Lincoln, lay in the failure to live long enough to witness the consummation of that for which each had labored. To the solution of the problem of reconstruction, seething with human passion and hatred, he brought a kindly heart and broad perspective and an open mind, and through these God-given qualities, aided materially in the solution of problems that appeared impossible of solution. The character of his service despite his rise from an humble printer in a remote section of the country to the highest office in the land, while a tribute to the democratic form of government under which we live, will nevertheless serve as an inspiration for the maintenance of American institutions.

The sympathy of the world goes out to the devoted partner and ever faithful companion, his wife, Mrs. Warren G. Harding. May she find solace in the knowledge that the character of service and sacrifice rendered by her husband, our President and Brother Elk earned for him the respect and love of men and women the world over. William Cullen Bryant in his beautiful poem "Thanatopsis" epitomized the character of end which came to our President, wherein he says:

"So live, that when thy summons comes to join
The innumerable caravan, which moves
To that mysterious realm, where each shall take
His chamber in the silent halls of death,
Thou go not, like the quarry-slave at night,
Scourged to his dungeon, but, sustained and soothed
By an unfaltering trust, approach thy grave,
Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch
About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

The drapery of his couch was the flag he loved and in whose service he died. A grateful America, appreciative of that service, unitedly express the wish that through God's mercy he may enjoy eternal peace.

MAYOR CURLEY PAYS STIRRING TRIBUTE TO MEN AND WOMEN OF PLYMPTON.

DELIVERS THRILLING ADDRESS EXTOLLING PATRIOTISM AND HEROISM OF THE CITIZENS OF THE TOWN BEFORE THE MEMBERS AND FRIENDS OF PLYMPTON GRANGE—RECALLS BRAVERY OF ANCESTORS IN TIME OF REVOLUTIONARY WAR.

Mayor James M. Curley of Boston delivered the following address before the Plympton Grange at Plympton, Mass., Saturday, August 18, 1923.

Mr. Toastmaster, Friends of Plympton Grange, Ladies and Gentlemen:

I assure you that it is a source of real pleasure to come here and participate with the officials of the Plympton Grange, in an endeavor to raise sufficient funds to discharge an outstanding obligation that is as distasteful as all outstanding obligations invariably are; to be permitted in this historic old town to break bread at the same table with three of the men representative of that great organization which, under the leadership of the most inspiring figure that our nation or the world has ever known in nineteen centuries, made possible the keeping of the Union whole without the loss of a single state of the nation or a single star from the flag, the Grand Army of the Republic; to be permitted to speak in this atmosphere of patriotism, of comradeship and of self-reliance and to speak within almost the shadow of a monument erected to the patriotic sons of Plympton, through whose service in part it was made possible to keep the Union whole.

I have a profound appreciation of how necessary an element in the life of our nation is the inspiring contribution of the town of Plympton in every great emergency that our nation has known. The town of Plympton has ranked high in patriotic endeavor and in worthwhile contribution. The example furnished by the men is inspiring. The example of the Plympton women of another day is something for the American public to conjure with and it is the same in every real crisis.

So it is an exceeding pleasure to come here in this atmosphere that vibrates with comradeship, that is pregnant with the spirit of self-reliance and to draw inspiration that may be of value in some other section of our common country where the spirit of pessimism is found in a more marked degree than in this section of our country.

It was only natural that the spirit of self-reliance and the spirit of brotherhood should make itself manifest for all time in a section such as you have here. Without the spirit of self-reliance, without the spirit of comradeship, there never would have been an American Republic and let it be said to the honor and glory of the old town of Plympton that when others hesitated, there was no question about the resolute spirit of the women and men, who were the early founders of this section of our common country.

When Captain Balfour, with a body of English troops was sent to Marshfield to overawe the spirit of those who believed that the time had come for a severance of relations with the mother country, the men of Plympton protested, arms in hand, and advised him they stood ready to march on his forces; but Captain Balfour was a prudent man and elected to withdraw rather than combat the men of Plympton of those days.

It was examples of that character that made possible the American republic and this great nation of ours that has grown from the little company that landed at Plymouth Rock, that has grown from the comparative handful of 1775; grown from 3,000,000 to 120,000,000.

In the section of the Commonwealth in which I live we are wont to refer to the rude bridge that reached fame, where once the embattled farmer stood; but history makes no mention of the heroism of the men and women of Plympton exemplified four days before the shot was fired at Lexington that was heard round the world. Who is there that can say that were it not for the prudent retreat of Balfour that the shot heard round the world might have been fired by the men of Plympton.

It is a pleasure to come into this atmosphere of patriotic endeavor, into this atmosphere of self-reliance and patriotism, where faith in one's self and our common country finds expression in duty to our common country.

We have a realization, if we are imbued with the faith of the fathers and founders of American government, that the problems of our day, even though they loom large, are as nothing in comparison with the problems of the day of that body of men and women who first landed at Plymouth Rock, of the day of that body of men and women who were one with the spirit of Washington and made possible the American republic.

We have made great progress as a nation. We have grown from thirteen Colonies in 1775 to forty-eight states in our own day. We stand first among the nations of the world, the only solvent nation of the whole world. We stand in the forefront of all that spells human progress and worthwhile development; and yet because of our strength, our prosperity, our pride and progress, with many and difficult problems to be solved, we solve them as they should be solved, by recourse to law and not with the military strength we possess; and still we find women and men in America who are fearful of the future of this country. To those women and men who view our future with apprehension, who are worried over the prospects of a coal shortage, who are troubled over the prospect of depression in business and industry, who are disturbed over the unrest and discontent that are here and there, and are apprehensive of international threats and troubles, all that is needed to renew their courage and infuse them with the spirit of self-reliance, without which neither individual nor nation can march bravely into the future, is to read the early history of Plympton, and this heroic section of our country. Then with a new faith they will go forth to meet all problems with the same determination that your ancestors met them every day from the beginning of the establishment of government in the thirteen colonies.

I have a profound appreciation of some of the problems we have found in our own city. They are in evidence in every city in the land, but when a man suggests that we embark on a course that spells participation in international politics I read to them the words of Abraham Lincoln, spoken during the trying period he served as President of the United States. He said, "there never has been a distressing problem confronting me during my entire term of service as President of the United States and during the war period that I have not found it impossible to provide a solution for by recourse to the sayings and doings of the fathers and founders of the American government." George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and other great leaders advised "that America maintain friendly relations with all nations of the world, entangling alliances with none."

In 1776 the population of the colonies was about 3,000,000 and the population of Canada in those days was about 25 per cent of the population of the colonies. After a lapse of 140 years we have a population of 120,000,000 and the population of Canada is still below 9,000,000. Our progress, our prosperity, our unity in every crisis may be traced to the inspiration furnished by the men who wrote the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of our common country and the guarantee of equality of opportunity and liberty for all men without regard to race, creed or color, which was the magnet that drew to these shores of America the pure womanhood and the hardy manhood of every nation of the world.

It was common opinion that in any crisis this peculiar population of ours, recruited from every race, creed and clime of the world, could never develop a spirit of unity, could never really acquire a genuine national American patriotism. The World War came on. The President of our nation recommended the adoption of the most discriminatory institution our country had ever known, the selective draft system. The rumor persisted that America would never stand for the selective draft system, forcing something on every man he did not want. The word "draft" repelled them; yet when there came that day in June when America's sons were called for service, they marched forth to the polling places from one end of the land to the other, marched without regard to race, creed or color and registered for service for the honor and glory and continuity of American institution and that free government might be preserved to the entire earth.

The day came when America's soldiers were called upon to fight side by side with armies, dogged, persistent, courageous and resolute, worn down to futility by the constant onslaughts of the tremendous war machine trained by Germany in fifty years of intensive and skillful preparation. The first and secand allied lines of battle had been crushed and the battered armies stood at bay in the third line of trenches awaiting the onrush of the enemy. The allied commander who had lost hope said to the leader of the American army "You must fall back; the Germans are coming." The answer came "We will wait for them here. We did not cross 3,000 miles of sea to retreat. There is no such word as retreat in the American soldier's lexicon."

They waited and having hurled the enemy back they went after him, and kept after him until victory rested on the eagles of America and Germany laid down her arms. Back of this indomitable spirit, this refusal to accept defeat, this splendid resolution to achieve victory at all hazards, was the inspiration of a land and flag dedicated to freedom, humanity and equality, whose sons were men not machines, and who knew that if they failed, the hope of the world would fail and fade; and so they swept over all obstacles to the triumph of American ideals.

We have 120,000,000 of women and men in America, recruited from every portion of the entire world. Our problem is the Americanization of the 120,000,000; Americanization that knows no barriers of caste or class, or accident of birth. A man or woman is what he or she is; the accident of birth is beyond the control of the individual. Man is black or yellow because it is the will of God; and the man who raises barriers to the progress of any individual in America because of race, creed or color is unworthy of the highest title ever conferred on man, the title, American citizen.

We are gradually working out here the problems of human government. The man who would exchange our form of government must be prepared to disprove what we hold to be true, that we have the best government in the world; and believing that, it becomes our duty to make it a little better, a little purer, a little stronger, for those who come after us.

I would like to see an America where every woman and man would enjoy the guaranty of an old age pension when he reaches the age of sixty years and who is unable to toil. We have adopted it in three states now. We will have it in forty-eight states within ten years. It will be a blessing to women and men broken down in industry, who today face the prospect of old age of dependence.

I want to see an America where every child will have the guaranty of mental and physical development until they arrive at the age of sixteen.

I would like to see an America where every woman would have a guaranty of protection prior to and after maternity. When that time comes we will have an America which has only to solve economic problems, which are the lesser ones. I have no fear of minor problems. The settlement of the coal question is a small question.

The American has the faculty of settling most questions by the vote of the people; it has gone beyond the miner and operator now. The party in power will settle that question and prevent the people of New England from freezing this winter, or the voters of America will settle with the party in power in the next national election. It is a simple proposition. We have suffered too long with fuel problems in New England. About once in every ten years, when the accumulation of bituminous coal becomes too great at the mine they call a strike in the anthracite mines and we have to burn soft coal. We have got to settle that question and settle it by taking over the mines and preventing mischief and monopoly. I do not believe in extreme socialism but I would like to see government ownership and government control over the distribution and output of the mines, and then we would have no more strikes.

These problems are not as difficult as those that confronted Washington or Lincoln. Do you think they would disturb them? Not one particle.

I have some confidence in the man who through inexorable fate has become the Chief Executive of this nation and I believe he is going to settle that problem. He at least knows what a New England winter is and he knows that it must be settled without postponement.

Now then they are all minor problems. You have your problems here. The problem of owning free of debt this beautiful building here. I pray for the success of your undertaking. I pray for the continuance of the spirit of brotherhood and sisterhood presented here, and shown in the bond of friendship that links together the men and women of the town of Plympton without regard to race, creed or color. I trust the inspiration of your splendid example of this day will make itself manifest in every city and town in the entire country so that the day may come in the life of America when all men sing, each from a contrite and patriotic heart, "My County 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty."

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Bridge Service).

Upon August 16 the Mayor approved a contract with M. F. Gaddis for borings at Congress Street Bridge, the only bidder, at an estimated cost of $2,002.

There was but one bid for the work opened August 13.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service).

Upon August 16 the Mayor approved a contract with Samuel J. Tomasello for sheet asphalt pavement in Park street, from Dorchester avenue across Bourmeside street, Dorchester. Bids for the work, opened August 13, were as follows:

Samuel J. Tomasello, sheet asphalt, $17,339.25; bitulithic, $17,498.75; John J. L... sheet asphalt, $17,901.70; bitulithic, $18,181.20; Martino De M... sheet asphalt, $21,527.75; bitulithic, $21,946.75.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Water Service).

Upon August 16 the Mayor approved a contract with McCulloch Manufacturing Company for assembling 10-inch and 12-inch gate valves. Bids for the work, opened August 14, were as follows:

McCulloch Manufacturing Company, $5,950; the Atlantic Works, $34,950.

Upon August 16 the Mayor approved a contract with McCulloch Manufacturing Company for assembling 6-inch and 8-inch gate valves. Bids for the work, opened August 14, were as follows: McCulloch Manufacturing Company, $4,450; the Atlantic Works, $15,200.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

Upon August 16 the Mayor approved a contract with M. S. Kelliher Company for alterations, etc., in the lecture hall of the Normal School. Bids for the work, opened July 30, were as follows:

M. S. Kelliher Company, $3,600; F. J. Low, $3,865; Walter Curley, $3,894.34; Archdenon & Sullivan, $5,840; Casey & D... Company, $5,977.

Upon August 16 the Mayor approved a contract with B. Krivitsky & Co. for alterations on present fire escapes on the Bunker Hill School. Bids for the work, opened August 7, were as follows:

Boston Ornamental Iron and Bronze Company, $1,945; B. Krivitsky & Co., $2,870; American Architectural Iron Works, $3,490; W. A. Snow Iron Works, $3,937.

Owing to an error of the Boston Ornamental Iron and Bronze Company, the lowest bidder, in figuring its price, the bid of that company was withdrawn.

Upon August 16 the Mayor approved a contract with Walter Curley for general alterations in the Girls' Trade School, Numbers 616-620 Massachusetts avenue. Bids for the work, opened July 10, were as follows:

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

Upon August 20 the Mayor approved a contract with the Petroleum Heat and Power Company for the installation of oil-burning equipment at the power plant, main hospital. A communication from Joseph P. Manning, President of the Board of Trustees, was as follows:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—The Petroleum Heat and Power Company have installed oil-burning equipment under four boilers at the power plant at the main hospital. It becomes necessary to install equipment under two of the B. & W. boilers, as outlined by me in my letters of June 6 and July 2. Inasmuch as the Petroleum Heat and Power Company have made a partial installation which is satisfactory, we respectfully request permission to accept the attached proposal for equipping boilers 3 and 4, without publicly advertising, at a cost of $7,680.

Yours respectfully,

JOSEPH P. MANNING,
President Board of Trustees.

PLANNING BOARD.

Upon August 16 the Mayor approved a contract with the Metropolitan Boston Planning Federation for advice, assistance and co-operation. A communication from Frederick H. Fay, of the Planning Board, was as follows:

Boston, August 14, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—The City Planning Board requests the permission of your Honor to enter into an agreement with the Metropolitan Boston Planning Federation, whereby in consideration of the sum of $1,000 to be paid by the City of Boston through the City Planning Board, and from its appropriation, the Federation agrees to render such advice, assistance and co-operation as may be desired or needed. It further agrees to make available to the City Planning Board for its use, all its books, plans, information and data of every description pertaining to city planning, and to give to the City Planning Board the benefit and advice of all its professional and expert members.

The Metropolitan Boston Planning Federation is made up of the members of the various city planning boards throughout the metropolitan district. It was organized in February, 1923, with Prof. William Fenwick Harris of Cambridge, as chairman. After the death of Professor Harris, Judge Robert Walcott was elected as his successor and holds the position of chairman of the federation at the present time.

Respectfully yours,

THE CITY PLANNING BOARD,
FREDERIC H. FAY,
Chairman.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT.

Upon August 15 the Mayor approved a contract with the Aetna Automatic Oil Burner, Inc., for the installation of apparatus in the Codman Square Library. A communication from Fred J. Kneeland, Superintendent of Buildings was as follows:

Boston, August 14, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Curley:

DEAR SIR,—In conformity with the idea of the Public Buildings Department to install automatic oil-burning apparatus in their various buildings, I wish to say that I have given consideration to the installation of one in the library building located at Codman square. I have taken the subject up with the Aetna Oil Burner, Inc., they manufacturing a type that is very suitable for such a building, and they have given me a figure in the sum of $1,940.

I therefore respectfully request permission to award a contract to the Aetna Automatic Oil Burner, Inc., for the installation of their oil burning system in the Codman Square Building in the sum of $1,940, without the usual form of advertising.

Yours respectfully,

FRED J. KNEELAND,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

Upon August 16 the Mayor approved a contract with John A. Gerrity for repairing the damage caused by a spring under Curtis Hall Building. A communication from Fred J. Kneeland, Superintendent of Buildings was as follows:

Boston, August 15, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—On May 23, 1923, you approved my request for permission to award a contract in the excess of $1,000 without the usual form of advertising to John A. Gerrity for work done at Curtis Hall building in repairing damage caused by a spring under the building and to obviate any further annoyance from same cause, but I found later that the character of the work was such that it would be impossible to make a contract as the foundation was washing away and we were afraid that we would encounter quicksand. Under these conditions, no contractor, of course, could estimate the cost of same with any degree of justice to the city or to himself and I allowed him to proceed along therefore under day labor. Inasmuch as we were unable to make the contract the City Auditor requests me to ask you to give your further approval for this work in the amount of the bill, namely $8,094.17.

Yours respectfully,

FRED J. KNEELAND,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Artificial Stone Sidewalks).

Upon August 16, the Mayor approved a contract with Sylvester Connolly for the construction of artificial sidewalks in the public streets. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, August 16, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Sylvester Connolly, 47 Draper street, Dorchester, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

Upon August 16 the Mayor approved a contract with A. H. Rice for installing new dividing partitions, etc., in the Public Latin School. A communication from Thomas P. Glynn, Schoolhouse Commissioner, was as follows:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR.—There was but one bid submitted to the Schoolhouse Commissioners and opened on July 27, in response to advertisement of the Board inserted in the City Record of July 14, for installing new dividing partitions, etc., in the Public Latin School. This was from A. H. Rice, 66 Colonial avenue, Dorchester district, in the sum of $2,795. Mr. Rice, however, failed to deposit a duplicate of his proposal at the auditor's office, and the Board is therefore unable legally to award the contract under this proposal.

The Board is satisfied that Mr. Rice can perform the work satisfactorily, and as this was the only bid resulting from advertising, the Board believes that no advantage would be gained by re-advertising. The Board therefore respectfully requests the approval of your Honor in awarding the contract to Mr. Rice, the amount named, without re-advertising, under the provisions of section 30, chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909.

Respectfully yours,

THOMAS P. GLYNN,
Chairman.

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

The following additions to and deductions from contracts have been approved:

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Ferry Service).

INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT REPORT.

Dr. David J. Johnson of the Institutions Department has made the following report to the Mayor concerning the activities of his department for the month of July:

Boston, August 21, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY.

Mayor of Boston:
DEAR SIR,—The following is a report of the activities of this department during the month of July, 1923:

PENAL DIVISION.

Repaired gut boats, armatures for furnace, wheel barrows for fire room, bread boxes, hoisting beam at coal wharf, posts at coal shed, ice house floor, plank on front wharf, chairs, slide door in laundry, sand, built grating on floor of steamer "Michael J. Perkins," new screens made for wharf house and new ladder for coal shed, etc.
Installing pasturizers, steam and water supply for same. Repaired boilers, valves in fire room, fans in laundry, hoisting boiler and engine, washing machine and dryers, armature in electric extractor, put in electric fire horn, new shive for hoisting coal, wire clothes lines in laundry yard, drilling holes in Hill Prison, and sharpening cutter bars for mowing machine.

Painting completed on cells at Hill Prison, doors and screens painted, gut boats, floor of steamer "Michael J. Perkins," auto, receiving officer's room, washed and repaired cracks in ceilings at Hill Prison and set forty lights of glass.

Worked on plumbing at Hill Prison, Rainsford Island, master's house and shoe shop, in addition to plastering and painting. Toilet installed for ball players, worked on milk separator and foundation at heater house on wharf and put faucets in kitchen of farm house.

Shod thirteen horses at Long Island and seven at Deer Island, sharpened twelve chisels for bricklayer, made hoe for fireman, toed six dozen horse shoes, cut twenty-one bars for windows in Hill Prison, repaired plows, shafts on wagon, store wagon, one dozen bolts, shop tools, made eight hangers for steamer "Michael J. Perkins," pin for hay wagon, braces for coal wharf, two pairs of tongs, six bar shoes for horses, new brackets for run at wharf, and sharpened fifty-five points and eighteen chisels for stone Hill Prison coal shed.

Made 100 mattresses for Hill Prison and over ten hair mattresses for officers.

Baked 5,254 loaves white bread, 90 loaves raisin bread, 162 loaves brown bread, 18 loaves graham bread, 80 loaves sandwich bread, 770 dozen doughnuts, 4,546 molasses drop cakes, 327 pounds of cake, 498 pies, 332 dozen rolls.

The clothing industry with a personnel of eighteen men has taken care of the need of this institution as well as doing work for Long Island and the Child Welfare Division. Seventy-eight dozen brownies were manufactured and shipped to J. B. Pearson Company of Boston at an income to this department of $74.40.

In addition to all the laundry done at Deer Island, 2,575 pieces were laundered for the Long Island Institution.

The farm is progressing. We are getting in as much hay as possible and are now starting to get fresh vegetables.

An inmate detail from this institution is doing the farm work at Long Island. The amount of milk received supplies the needs of Deer Island in addition to furnishing about 1,166 quarts to Long Island during the month.

The segregation of drug addicts in the so-called "Women's Prison" is still in operation. The inmates are busy putting this building in shape for occupancy and are also assisting on farm work.

Every week-day afternoon day school is held and evening classes three nights a week. The school work is very encouraging.

Base ball games have been played with outside teams as follows: J. B. Smith Company, Pere Marquette Council K. of C. and R. H. White Company. Moving pictures held every Thursday evening and choir rehearsals every week.

INTERMEDIARY DIVISION.

During the month of July seventy-one were admitted in the almshouse and sixty-eight discharged. In the hospital eighty-four were admitted and seventy discharged.

Twelve major operations were performed and eight minor operations. The X-Ray Department reports 141 ordinary films taken and sixteen dental films. During the month forty-seven patients were treated by the dentist.

INDUSTRIAL REPORT.

Repairs to plugged drain pipes and flush pipes, also toilets and hoppers, sterilizer in operating room, special strainer for bath tub in Superintendent's house and general repairs to faucets, sinks, hot water bibbs, etc.

Worked on Sprinkler Fire Alarm System, repaired sewing machine motors, putting in lights, shades and fixtures and general repairs on telephone switch board, lights, portable lights, radio batteries, etc.

Built benches, stools, etc., for laboratory for special work on children, repaired runway in coal shed and general repairs on screens, doors, floors, chairs, etc.

Worked on superintendent's house, renovated room for new laboratory and general painting on chairs, coffins, etc.

Worked on ice chest, laundry, roads, manholes, tennis court, bulkhead, farm manholes, floor in smokers' hall and general work on covers, reservoir, etc. Repairing carryalls and tinware in and around plant.

The following work was completed in the sewing room in July: 45 white aprons, 92 napkins, 36 kerchiefs, 84 night shirts, 73 dresses, 48 shrouds, 108 baby shirts, 108 pillow slips, 12 baby night gowns, 36 tray cloths, 12 pillow slips, 12 baby slips, 120 pairs suspenders, 12 petticoats, 108 screen covers, 12 coffee bags, 12 rompers, 36 diapers.

In addition to the above the following articles were made for the Child Welfare Division: 252 children's dresses, 420 night gowns, 264 petticoats, 108 dresses.

Daily radio concerts, weekly moving pictures, and the Glee Club from Brighton Institute gave a splendid concert.

The following ice was distributed during the month which was made and cut at the island: Long Island, 50,100 pounds; Rainsford Island, 1,800 pounds; Fort Strong, 7,500 pounds.

CHILD WELFARE DIVISION.

Fifteen children were admitted during the month as dependent children and fifty-eight discharged to relatives or guardians. Visits were made to 302 children in homes and hospitals and sixty-three new homes investigated. During the month 158 packages of clothing sent to children by mail and express.

STEAMERS.

The steamer "Michael J. Perkins" carried about 6,000 children to Rainsford Island on the Randigle Fund excursions during the month of July. The chief mechanic at Deer Island made some very desirable improvements on the boat, especially the removal of the cumbersome iron hatch trunk, the installation of portable network on the upper deck rails, and the commencement of necessary work in making a suitable sick room.

The steamer "George A. Hibbard" has been in use daily. The crew have been busy painting and washing the pilot house, cabin, life boats, etc.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID J. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

APPEALS TO MAYOR TO FIND LOST RELATIVE.

Mayor Curley received a very earnest request from Mihail A. Shoulisacovny, associated with the Land Department of the Government of Manchuria, Harbin, China, requesting that every possible endeavor may be made to locate his father, Andrei Adolfovich Shoulisacovny, who resided in Boston from 1912 to 1914, and relative to whose present whereabouts information is earnestly desired.

Mr. Shoulisacovny is associated with the land development movement in China, and Mayor Curley will be grateful if any person knowing the present whereabouts of the man will kindly advise the Mayor's office.

Superintendent Crowley of the Boston Police Department was immediately advised of the case.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT ACTIVITIES FOR THE MONTH OF JULY.

BOSTON, August 16, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR.—I have the honor to submit herewith a report of the activities of the Health Department for the month of July, 1923, in accordance with instructions contained in your circular letter of March 13, 1922:

There was a remarkable falling off in reported cases of communicable diseases during July, especially in cases of measles, 228 cases being reported in July as against 786 in June. Reported cases of pneumonia remained about the same as in the previous month.

Four cases of dog bite were reported in which it was necessary to give anti-rabic treatment as prophylactic.

A weekly epidemic index started on July 1 is now kept on file in the Medical Division. The object of this index is to show comprehensively the total number of cases outstanding in the hands of inspectors and nurses for further supervision until finally disposed of.

The medical inspectors have made special typhoid fever epidemiological surveys during the month, and it is pleasing to note that the Massachusetts Department of Public Health has publicly indorsed these inspectors in connection with this undertaking.

The total number of routine examinations was 4,406, of which 3,750 were in duplicate and 656 in quadruplicate. It is expected that the study of live rats will be resumed so that the Boston Health Department may co-operate with the Federal Public Health service in its flea survey of Boston rats.

The outstanding special feature of the work of sanitary inspection of the city during July was the continuation of the work of mosquito suppression which started June 13. In June, 426,000 square feet of area were sprayed throughout the city, fourteen barrels of oil being used in the process. During the month of July, twelve and one-half barrels of oil were consumed in spraying 375,000 square feet of area.

In the middle of July one of the food inspectors discovered large quantities of ice cream cones which he recognized as the product of a firm in Roxbury that had gone out of business two years previously following the seizure and condemnation of some three million cones. A little detective work located the original salesman, and it was learned that the product had been originally purchased from a large distributor in Portland, Me., which had originally bought from the Roxbury manufacturer. The entire shipment was about 2,000 boxes of 100 cones each and they were all extremely rancid. The period of manufacture was fixed at about two to five years ago; and as but a few weeks had elapsed since their arrival in Boston the inspector was able to get hold of and retain hundreds of boxes of the cones. The matter was also called to the attention of the interstate commerce commission for violation of the regulations.

The license of a manufacturer of non-alcoholic beverages was revoked after hearing on account of the use of saccharine in the manufacture of the product.

A conference with all beverage licensees was held by the Health Commissioner asking co-operation in bringing about a safe and pure product for the consuming public.

Neighborhood complaint resulted in rigid inspection of basement storage places used by peddlers of fruit and vegetables in the West End. The particular complaint was carelessness in the handling and disposition of "culls" and garbage; co-operation was received from the Police Department in improving conditions.

At one of the large sausage houses in the city 2,895 pounds of beef were taken in tiers from which they were to be used apparently for the manufacture of sausages. The meat was tainted and gassed.

A truck load of tonic arriving in Boston, from Chelsea was inspected at its first stopping point on account of the nature of the bottles which were discarded ketchup bottles, purchased from a second-hand dealer. The bottles bore no label as to net weight and nature of contents; and evidence of contamination resulted in the dumping of the entire truck load after examination.

In all communicable diseases, except cerebro spinal meningitis and typhoid fever, decreases were noted in cases reported for July.

Deaths from measles, scarlet fever and pulmonary tuberculosis increased in July as compared with June; but decreases were shown in deaths from all other important communicable diseases. Total deaths from all causes, and total deaths of infants, showed also a decrease.

Personnel.—Two temporary matrons of convenience stations were appointed during the month of July, and one clerk tendered his resignation.

Respectfully,

F. X. MAHONEY,
Health Commissioner.

HON. MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN, Chairman, Finance Commission, Boston, Mass.:

DEAR SIR.—I beg to acknowledge receipt of communication this day with reference to municipal finance and regret exceedingly that you have overlooked the fact that the Committee on Municipal Finance, after due consideration of House Bill No. 860, presented by you as chairman of the Finance Commission during the year 1923, unanimously rejected the measure which you again recommend for consideration.

The action of the Committee on Municipal Finance, which numbers amongst its membership men eminently qualified as municipal financial experts, was based on absolutely sound premises.

Provided the City of Boston or any city in the world could collect in any given year the taxes levied for that particular year it would be unnecessary to maintain a reserve in anticipation of deficit in revenue resulting from unpaid taxes. What is true in the case of cities is equally true of substantially any business concern with the exception of a "cash and carry" system and in all probability will continue true until the end of time.

The money to which you refer and which you suggest be applied to a reduction of taxes, represents a reserve that the city finds it necessary to set up in anticipation of uncollected taxes during a given year.

I regret that you did not confer with the City Auditor before making public your limited knowledge of municipal finance through a public communication.

I would respectfully suggest that you wait upon Mr. Carven, City Auditor, who I am quite certain would be most pleased to receive you graciously and enlighten you with reference to a subject upon which unquestionably you are in need of light.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Mayor Curley issued the following reply to the attack of the Chairman of the Finance Commission August 18:

HON. MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN, Chairman, Finance Commission, Boston, Mass.:

DEAR SIR.—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your communication received this day. It is evident that your purpose is to beg the issue and deceive the public. I do not believe that it is your purpose to adopt such a course intentionally and further, from the reports which from time to time have been issued over your signature and the statements made by you before the Committee on Municipal Finance at the Legislature, I am convinced it is due entirely to your absolute lack of knowledge of municipal finance.

It is regrettable that you refuse to accept advice tendered solely for the purpose of preventing you from making yourself ridiculous because of your lack of knowledge of a subject with which no one anticipates you should be familiar.

Municipal finance is a subject which few men understand. Fortunately, in Boston, we are favored with an expert accountant as City Auditor who does understand municipal finance. I have submitted to him your report and in his opinion it demands no reply. I accept his judgment as an expert and refuse to give further consideration to either your opinion or viewpoint, since it is impossible for you to qualify either as an expert or authority upon a matter of this character.

I beg again to reiterate the advice tendered you at the session of the legislature in March and upon at least two occasions since March, that you confer with the City Auditor, who will, through the enlightenment that he will provide you, at least save you from the ridiculous position in which you insist upon being placed by your public utterances.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR HOLDS TO RESERVED FUND IN ANTICIPATION OF UNPAID TAXES.

Mayor Curley has refused to accept the suggestion of the Finance Commission to the effect that funds held in reserve in anticipation of deficit in revenue resulting from unpaid taxes be applied to a reduction of the tax rate. The letters of the Mayor on the subject are as follows:

Mayor Curley sent the following in answer to communication of the chairman of the Finance Commission August 17:

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

Martin F. Gaddis has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for repaving Massachusetts avenue and Southampton street. Items ordered: Haul blocks from Massachusetts avenue to where directed on Albany street; recut same at this location and haul recut blocks back to Massachusetts avenue. Price to be paid, for each square yard hauled from Massachusetts avenue, stored and hauled back to avenue the sum of twenty-five (25) cents at an estimated cost of $200.

Samuel J. Tomasello has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for constructing Breck avenue, Boulevard terrace, Commonwealth terrace and Holton street. Items ordered: Furnish and lay new sewer drain at 12 Boulevard terrace. Price to be paid, the sum of ninety (90) dollars at an estimated cost of $90.

Samuel J. Tomasello has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for constructing Aldworth street and Patterson street. Items ordered: Remove five (5) trees and one (1) stump on Aldworth street. Price to be paid, the sum of three hundred (300) dollars. These trees are in addition to those specified in contract at an estimated cost of $300.

Rudolph Jergensen Company have been granted a further extension of contract for foundations for ferry bridges for the South Ferry, the estimated cost being $2,200.

This extra work order was necessitated by the fact that obstructions were encountered in driving piling and reinforced concrete mat had to be provided.

As excavation was made the work because of greater magnitude than was anticipated, owing to the great size of boulders and rock encountered, with the result that the cost of putting in a proper foundation will greatly exceed the previous estimate of $2,200.

The Mayor has approved the request for an additional amount, estimated at $2,500, by Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works.

The New Amsterdam Casualty Company has been directed to perform the following extra work under agreement for completing the construction of Elmhurst street, Chesterton street and Zamora street. Items ordered: Remove edgestones already set and construct ways where directed; cut old sheath and grade approach at Allerton st. To be paid for by force account at an estimated cost of $100.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

C. H. Cronin has been granted an extension of time of completion of the contract for extension of sprinkler system at the Boston City Hospital from August 15, 1923, to October 1, 1923, because Mr. Cronin is unable to complete his work in the Thorndike Building until such time as the John Bowen Company, contractors, are able to allow him to enter the building.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Ferry Service.)

The Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Ltd., Bethlehem, Pa., have been granted an extension of time for completion of contract for repairing ferryboat "John H. Sullivan" account of labor shortage, from August 8, 1923, to August 18, 1923.

The R. Jergensen Company have been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for foundations for ferry bridges for the South Ferry, from July 11, 1923, to August 28, 1923. This extension covers only the completion of the work on the Boston side and is requested for the reason that it was impossible to drive sufficient piles for the in-shore end of the ferry bridge on account of obstructions encountered below ground level and extra work was required in placing a reinforced concrete slab.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service.)

The Central Construction Company have been given an extension of time for completion of contract for laying sheet asphalt pavement in East Concord street, from Albany street to Washington street; West Concord street, from Washington street to Tremont street; and Concord square, from Tremont street to Columbus avenue, from September 1, 1923, to October 1, 1923, for the reason that on account of the construction of the sidewalks being changed from brick to artificial stone a longer time is required to do the work.

Samuel J. Tomasello has been given an extension of time for completion of contract for laying bitulithic pavement in Breck avenue, from Langley road to Brayton road; Boulevard terrace, from Commonwealth avenue to Allston street; and Holton street, from Antwerp street to Litchfield street, from September 1, 1923, to November 1, 1923, for the reason that land-takings in Breck avenue are being adjusted and the work is temporarily suspended.

Warren Brothers Company have been granted an extension of time for completion of contract for laying bitulithic pavement in Centre street, between Washington street and Centre avenue; Centre avenue, from Centre street to Dorchester avenue; Gibson street, from Dorchester avenue to Adams street; and Victoria street, from Pleasant street to Dorchester avenue, Dorchester, from September 1, 1923, to October 15, 1923. Centre street, Centre avenue and Victoria street have been completed, for the reason that the contractor has been delayed by the Boston Elevated Railway Company work in Gibson street.

ASKS PRESIDENT TO SAVE STATE'S COAL SUPPLY.

Mayor Curley sent the following communication to the President of the United States, Hon. Charles Coolidge, Monday, following a meeting of the Mayors' Club of Massachusetts:

The Mayors' Club of Massachusetts, representing all the cities of the Commonwealth, in session this day for the purpose of considering the anthracite fuel shortage, beg to direct your attention to the fact that the available supply is less than one day's ordinary demand, and to urge that you as a citizen of New England and one accustomed to the rigors of a New England winter should exercise your best endeavor to effect an early settlement of the anthracite strike. It was further resolved that the Mayor of every city in Massachusetts should install and urge the adoption of fuel oil and of Welsh anthracite as substitutes for Pennsylvania anthracite that the citizenship be protected from a fuel shortage similar to that experienced last year.

JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston,
President.

CHARLES H. THURSTON,
Secretary.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 67.

I. RESPONSE TO ALARMS OF FIRE.

Upon the occasion of multiple alarms of fire the following procedure will be adopted with respect to drivers for district chiefs:

Upon the arrival of a district chief from outside the district in which the fire is located the telegrapher for the local district chief will be relieved from duty at the fire alarm box by a telegrapher for a district chief from outside the district. The telegrapher for the local district chief will then report to the officer in command of the fire, immediately to perform such service as may be required by the commanding officer. The telegrapher for the local district chief could render invaluable assistance in the location at hydrants of apparatus responding to multiple alarms as his knowledge of hydrant locations in his own particular district should be almost perfect. In no case, however, shall the operator for the local district chief, or for a district chief outside the district, leave the fire alarm box until properly relieved.

II. USE OF SUNCTION.

The soft suction may be used by apparatus first responding to an alarm of fire. However, if there is a great body of fire present, the 4½-inch suction must be used, for two 2½-inch lines cannot be supplied out of a 3-inch soft suction.

III. NEW APPARATUS IN SERVICE.

On August 14, 1923, a new American-LaFrance, type 75, combination 750-gallon pumping engine and hose car was placed in service with Engine Company 17 replacing a tractor drawn steam fire engine which was placed in reserve.

On August 14, 1923 a new American-LaFrance, type 14, combination chemical and ladder truck was placed in service with Ladder Company 7, replacing a city service truck, motor driven, which was placed in reserve.

IV. CHARLES RIVER DAM.

The work of repairing lock gates at Charles River Dam, necessitating closing the lock to navigation, which was to begin on September 10, 1923, in accordance with the notice in General Orders No. 50, c.s., has been postponed, and notice is hereby given that the lock will be closed for this work for a period of about six weeks, beginning October 15, 1923.

V. FIRE ALARM BOXES.

Box No. 3184, formerly located opposite 50 Barry street, has been moved to Hamilton and Barry streets.

Paragraph III, General Orders No. 61, c.s., is hereby revoked. Paragraph II, General Orders No. 63, c.s., gives the correct assignment and location for Box 45.

VI. BOSTON FIREMEN'S RELIEF FUND.

(Election of members of the Corporation.)

The annual election of the Boston Firemen's Relief Fund will be held in accordance with sections 3 and 4 of Article 5 of the By-Laws, on Monday, September 10, 1923.

The attention of the officers and members of the department is called to the provisions of Article 5 of the By-Laws of the Corporation.

By order of Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn.

JOHN O. TABER,
Chief of Department.

MAYOR REVERSES GARAGE PERMIT.

Mayor Curley has vetoed the permit granted by the Street Commissioners to Dominick Olska for a public garage and storage tanks for 1,000 gallons gasoline at 232-236 Sixth street, 67-75 F street, and 245-255 Bowen street, South Boston.

Former Councilman Francis J. W. Ford appeared for the petition, and the Rev. Charles B. Gisler, S. J., of the German Catholic parochial school in the neighborhood, against it. Mayor Curley said: "I cannot approve a permit for a public garage at this location when it is opposed by the head of an educational institution which is saving the city a great deal of money, and he brings testimony to show that its establishment would constitute a menace to the safety of the children. Although public garages are public necessities I can find no way to justify granting a permit to one in the location proposed."

STREET COMMISSIONERS.

The Mayor has approved the following petitions received from the Board of Street Commissioners:

Dorchester Cement Stone Company, 170 Granite avenue, Ward 20, gasoline.

Edison Electric Illuminating Company, Mansur street, Ward 14, erect one pole.

Edison Electric Illuminating Company, I street, Ward 10, erect four poles.

Edison Electric Illuminating Company, Beech Glen street, Ward 15, erect three poles.

Edison Electric Illuminating Company, Munroe street, Ward 16, erect one pole.

Edison Electric Illuminating Company and New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, Conrad street, Ward 11, erect two poles.

Edison Electric Illuminating Company and New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, Hillcrest street, Ward 23, erect one pole.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Saturday, August 4, 1923.

A special meeting of the City Council was held in the City Council Chamber, City Hall, on Saturday, August 4, 1923, at one o'clock p. m.

His Honor Mayor JAMES M. CURLEY Presided.

Present:—Coun. Brickley, Glibody, Hagan, Healey, Moriarty and Walsh.

The meeting was held pursuant to the following call:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 3, 1923.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—The President of the republic, Hon. Warren G. Harding, having departed this life August 2, 1923, it is fitting and proper that suitable memorial exercises be held to commemorate a life of service and sacrifice.

You are accordingly requested to assemble at the Council Chamber, City Hall, Saturday, August 4, 1923, at 1 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of paying tribute to the memory of America's honored dead, whose life has been an inspiration and whose untimely death is a world calamity.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.
Placed on file.

Coun. GILBODY offered the following:

The City Council of the City of Boston have learned with untimely death of our honored and beloved chief magistrate of the United States, President Warren G. Harding, it is hereby, in meeting assembled,

Resolved, That we record our sense of the grief sustained by our common country through the death which has brought to a close the career of the President of the United States.

Resolved, That we share whole-heartedly in the national grief which the death of our great leader has produced; his splendid attributes of heart and mind, his devotion to duty and his genuine Americanism carried forth him the sincere love and admiration of the entire American people;

Resolved, That the sincere sympathy of the people of Boston be conveyed through the action of its duly accredited official, public lawmaking body, the Boston City Council, to the widow of our dead President and to his father and family.

Speaking to the resolutions, Mayor CURLEY said:

The unexpected end of a life that typified the best in God and faith in his fellow man, a life symbolic of service and sacrifice, at the very hour that the nation was cheered and comforted with assurances of restoration to health, comes as a shock to the entire people.

"To the problem of reconstruction made necessary by the World War he gave wholehearted service in a study of such solution as might be most beneficial to the people of the world, but in rendering this service he at all times furnished an inspiring example of his fealty and devotion to his own country, America.

"He never subordinated Americanism to internationalism, nor never permitted the pleas of a vague humanitarianism or the appeals of a grandiose philanthropy to endanger the security of his country or commit his government to dubious adventure.

"To a world rife with hatred, suspicion and pessimism he contributed candor, courage and optimism that strengthened the faith of the American people and inspired hope in the hearts of weary Europeans.

"To his bereaved widow, whose illness afflicted him so greatly and whose fortitude in her hour of trial merits the sympathy and admiration of the entire people, he leaves a memory such as few men are privileged to win; a memory of having lived 365 days of each year true to his God, to his fellow men and to the nation which he served and in whose service he died. He was genuinely human and loved the American people; he taught them to know that they might love him. His every thought and act was for their well-being, and in his death they mourn the loss of a sincere friend, a lover of liberty and truly great American.

The resolutions were adopted by a unanimous rising vote.

Coun. BRICKLEY offered an order.—That the City Clerk be directed to transmit an engrossed copy of the resolutions adopted by the City Council this day to the bereaved widow of Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, and to the father of Hon. Warren G. Harding.

Passed.

Coun. WALSH offered an order.—That a delegation consisting of his Honor the Mayor and members of the City Council to be appointed by the Mayor attend the obsequies of the late President of the United States, Hon. Warren G. Harding, the expense to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Passed.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order.—That the City Hall, Old State House and Faneuil Hall be appropriately draped and the city flag displayed at half-mast for a period of thirty days, and that the bells of the city be tolled during the hour set apart for the funeral of the late President, the expense to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Passed.

Coun. MORIARTY offered an order.—That labor be suspended in all municipal departments during the hour of funeral service of the late President of the United States, Hon. Warren G. Harding.

Passed.

Adjourned at 1.30 o'clock p. m.

BOSTON'S ROSE GARDEN FAST BECOMING ONE OF THE COUNTRY'S FLORAL WONDERS—ATTRACTING WIDE ATTENTION.

THOUSANDS OF AUTOMOBILISTS AND OTHERS WHO ARE FLOWER LOVERS VISIT BEAUTY SPOT ESTABLISHED UNDER MAYOR CURLEY'S DIRECTIONS AND BEING COMPLETED AT FRANKLIN PARK.

BOSTON'S ROSE GARDEN, ONE OF CITY'S AESTHETIC WONDERS, FAST ADDING FAME TO CITY BY ITS BEAUTY AND ATTRACTIVENESS.

Of the æsthetic improvements and attractions that have been added to the city under Mayor Curley's administration none is attracting more attention or favorable comment than the Rose Garden, the main feature of the herbaceous garden at Franklin Park. This contains, or will contain when completed, one of the finest rose collections in the country and perhaps in the world.

Fitting in with the general scheme of the Zoological Gardens at the park this beauty spot has already attracted thousands of visitors though it will not be at its best nor perfected till next spring. This Rose Garden is arranged at the westerly end of the garden group. A trellis is designed for the margins to display climbing and pillar roses. The trellis is supported by a low curtain wall and by substantial concrete piers. This structure is about 9 feet in height and is designed to resist exposure to the weather and to exhibit the roses to the best advantage. At the ends of the oval foot entrances are arranged. These consist of massive concrete arches connected by trellis work with the lattices. These concrete surfaces are trowelled to give an interesting surface texture and are plastered with a very light colored Portland cement mortar. The contrast between these large surfaces of masonry and the roses and the dark foliage of the plants will make an attractive effect. Iron gates of Spanish pattern will be provided in the entrance arches. These gates will be closed to prevent trespass in the garden at night and at seasons when the roses are

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-trembling plain of the sea,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,

MUNICIPAL SERVICE.

Complaints, inquiries or suggestions regarding the work of municipal departments should be made in writing to the officials directly in charge. The failure of such officials to make reply within a reasonable length of time should be brought to the attention of the Mayor. Communications should be directed as follows:

To the BOARD OF STREET COMMISSIONERS, Room 401, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the laying out, relocation, widening and the discontinuance of highways; the taking of real property for municipal purposes; the assessments of betterments for streets and sewers; the plotting of undeveloped areas for streets and the opening of private ways; the granting of licenses for the storage or sale of merchandise in public streets; the regulation of street traffic; the making of specific repairs in public streets, the naming of public streets, the planting and removal of trees in public ways, the issuing of licenses for the storage of gasoline, oil and other inflammable substances or explosive compounds, the use of the public ways for any permanent or temporary obstruction or projection in, under or over the same, including the location of conduits, poles and posts for telephone, telegraph, street railway or illuminating purposes, signs, marquees, bay windows, coal holes and vaults.

To the COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WORKS, Room 511, City Hall Annex, for information as to the watering, cleaning, lighting and repairing of streets, the construction and care of sewers and catch-basins, the operation of the ferries, the maintenance of bridges and drawbridges and the removal of ashes and offal.

To Room 604, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the supplying or metering of water and the water charges of the city.

To the HEALTH DEPARTMENT, Room 1107, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the inspection of milk, vinegar, meat, fish and vegetables, the issuance of permits for stables, slaughter houses, etc., smoke nuisances, the existence of contagious diseases or public health nuisances.

To the BOARD OF PARK COMMISSIONERS, 33 Beacon street, for information as to the care of the Common, Public Garden, Franklin Park, Franklin Field, Commonwealth avenue, Back Bay Fens, Marine Park and the small parks and playgrounds in general throughout the city, and as to the extermination of gypsy moths and the charges made for such service. Application may be made to this department for information regarding the public baths and gymnasiums maintained by the city, and with regard to municipal indoor concerts and band concerts; also information relative to Mount Hope, Evergreen, Fairview and other public cemeteries owned by the City of Boston.

To the SCHOOL COMMITTEE, 15 Beacon street, for information relative to the operation of the schools of the city.

To the SCHOOLHOUSE COMMISSIONERS, Room 1007, City Hall Annex, for information as to the construction and repair of school buildings.

To the BOARD OF EXAMINERS, Room 1001, City Hall Annex, for information regarding the licensing of persons having charge or control of the work of construction, alteration, removal or tearing down of buildings.

To the FIRE DIVISION OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT, Fire Department Headquarters, 60 Bristol street, for all information relative to the erection of poles, the building of conduits, the installation of all overhead and underground construction and electrical apparatus, as well as for general information relative to the entire division. To Room 906, City Hall Annex, for permits for the installing of wires and electrical apparatus within buildings in the City of Boston, and for the payment of fees incident to the granting of the privileges above named, and which must be paid in advance.

covered or under special cultivation. At each side of the oval a massive niche has been built corresponding in design to the entrance arches, both in size and in general treatment. The outer margin of the garden is raised 3 feet higher than the central portion to give visitors a good view of the interior. Four flights of steps lead from the high to the low level. The paths are made wide to accommodate crowds. Arches for climbing roses are used liberally around the upper encircling path. These structures are set sufficiently far apart to allow sunlight to enter freely on all sides and to prevent overshadowing the early roses growing at the sides of the paths and on the slopes between the high and low levels. The center of the garden is occupied by a large circular pool of water. In the middle of this spacing is arranged a fountain which consists of a central jet or geyser surrounded by many smaller streams. In this pool water-loving plants will be grown.

The following roses will be planted in individual beds between the circular walk and the trellis and will be carefully labeled: Hybrid teas, hardy perpetuals, tea and noisets roses, Polyantha roses, hybrid briars, hybrid rugosas, pillar roses and climbing roses.

Among some of the varieties will be the following: Killarney Brilliant, Mrs. Charles Russell, Mrs. Wakefield Christie Miller, Mme. Leon Poin, Mme. Jules Crolez, Lady Ursula, Mme. The long pergola which overlooks all the gardens and which faces the great wall of the Zoo will be built substantially of oak timbers and will be covered with climbing roses and flowering vines. Space is arranged for a display of flowers at each side of the pergola on the approach from the wall.

The Rose Garden walls, gates, niches, fountain, and steps have been completed and many roses have been planted. The important effect of this garden in the group is already making itself evident, and although the work is unfinished, vast numbers of sight-seers frequent the garden on Sundays and holidays. The work will be completed this autumn and next spring the entire scheme will be open to the public as a complete unit for general use next May or June.

The plans for this garden were prepared in consultation with the commissioners for the department by Arthur A. Shurtleff, landscape architect, and at the request of his Honor Mayor Curley. The Mayor feels very strongly that Boston's extensive park system should not lack interesting flower collections of this kind.

MAYOR CURLEY JOINS HYDE PARK CITIZENS IN CELEBRATING 10-CENT FARE VICTORY. SERVICE BEGUN SATURDAY.

Mayor Curley Friday evening joined the residents of Hyde Park in celebrating the 10-cent fare victory which he has been waging for them since he began his second administration last year.

Hyde Park was assured of a single fare to Boston when the Boston City Council passed the necessary orders, as recommended by Mayor Curley, licensing the Elevated to run bus lines from Mattapan square to Cleary square, and thence to Readville, and revoking all other bus licenses in Hyde Park save that of the Norfolk & Bristol, to run from Cleary square to East Dedham.

The Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company turned over its property to the Elevated. On the following day the latter had installed the new combination system of buses with street cars, by which a dime will take Hyde Parkers to any town or city served by the Elevated.

The first bus will leave Wolcott square, Readville, at 5.30 a. m., and thereafter every 30 minutes until 6.30 a. m.; then every 15 minutes till 8.30, then every 30 minutes till 4.30 p. m.; then every 15 minutes to 7.30; then half-hourly to 1 a. m. The running time to Cleary square is 12 minutes, and the buses will continue on to Mattapan square, the through trip taking about twenty-three minutes.

The first bus from Mattapan square outward will leave at 6 a. m., and the last at 1 a. m.; 15-minute service during rush hours to be maintained, corresponding to the inward service.

PETITIONS APPROVED.

The Mayor has approved the following petitions for poles received from the Board of Street Commissioners:

Edison Electric Illuminating Company, Bennington street, Ward 1, erect one pole.

Edison Electric Illuminating Company, Millet street, Ward 19, erect one pole.

Permission to award contracts for work, materials and supplies, in accordance with recommendation of department heads, has been approved by the Mayor.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

Upon August 24 the Mayor approved a contract with J. C. Coleman & Sons Company for grading, drainage and concrete bleachers at World War Memorial Park, East Boston. Bids for the work, opened August 16, were as follows: A. Daddario, $72,111; A. G. Tomasello & Son, $39,270; J. C. Coleman & Sons Company, $32,310.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Ferry Service).

Upon August 24 the Mayor approved a contract with the Atlantic Works, East Boston, for repairing hull of ferryboat "Governor Russell". Bids for the work, opened August 17, were as follows: The Atlantic Works, $3,287; Richard T. Green Company, $13,585.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service).

Upon August 24 the Mayor approved a contract with M. F. Gaddis for granite block pavement and sewerage works in Stuart street, from Washington street to Broadway, and Eliot street from Stuart street to Broadway, city proper. Bids for the work, opened August 21, were as follows:

John W. O'Connell, including sheet asphalt, $54,965.50; including bitulithic, $54,965.50; M. F. Gaddis, including sheet asphalt, $60,704; including bitulithic, $60,704; Boston Contracting Company, including sheet asphalt, $66,203; including bitulithic, $66,203; B. E. Grant Company, including sheet asphalt, $67,398.50; including bitulithic, $67,398.50; A. G. Tomasello & Son, including bitulithic, $68,296.50.

Upon August 24 the Mayor approved a contract with Warren Brothers for laying bitulithic pavement in Hyde Park avenue, from Tower street to Walk Hill street. Bids for the work, opened August 20, were as follows:

Warren Brothers Company, bitulithic, $179,210.15; Martino De Matteo, sheet asphalt, $17,181.80; bitulithic, $20,012.60; John J. Loomie, sheet asphalt, $20,608.50; bitulithic, $21,282.50; Samuel J. Tomasello, sheet asphalt, $23,506.50; bitulithic, $23,506.50; Charles Capone, sheet asphalt, $25,469.95; bitulithic, $27,828.95.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewer Service).

Upon August 24 the Mayor approved a contract with George J. Regan for sewerage works in Standard street, from River street 1250 feet northerly, Dorchester, the third lowest bidder. The proposals of the two lowest bidders have been rejected for the reason that they already have sizable contracts in hand and it is for the best interest of the city to award this work to the third bidder, who is well equipped and ready to start operations at once. Bids for the work, opened August 20, were as follows:

M. De Matteo, $8,143.55; C. Russo, $8,614.55; George J. Regan, $8,643.55; J. J. Loomie, $8,659.75; M. De Sisto Company, $9,852.75; De Cristoforo & Brothers Company, $9,879.75; John Williams & Co., $9,961.25; Vozzella & Caponi, $9,932.25; Zoppo & Civitrase, $10,024.50; J. Guarino & Co., $10,195.25; James J. Conway, $10,773.25; M. D. Russo, $11,000.25.

Upon August 24 the Mayor approved a contract with C. Russo for sewerage works in Jamaica place, between Arborway and the end of Jamaica place, West Roxbury. Bids for the work, opened August 22, were as follows:

C. Russo, $2,792.50; Zoppo & Civitrase, $3,294; A. Daddario, $3,319.75; Joseph Todesca, $3,488.75; T. Coughlin, $3,522.75; Vozzella & Capone, $3,587.50; J. Guarino & Co., $3,763.60.

Upon August 28 the Mayor approved a contract with Vozzella & Caponi for sewerage works in Fairland street, between Winthrop street and Moreland streets, Roxbury, the second bidder. The lowest bidder, A. Daddario, has been rejected for the reason that he neglected to bid on Item 78 in the auditor's copy. Bids for the work, opened August 17, were as follows:

A. Daddario, $1,597; Vozzella & Caponi, $2,028; De Cristoforo & Brothers Company, $2,139.25; J. Williams & Co., $2,170.50; T. Coughlin, $2,195.50; J. Guarino & Co., $2,198; Geo. J. Regan, $2,301.75; Zoppo & Civitrase, $2,631.50; C. Russo, $3,445.50.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Water Service).

Upon August 23 the Mayor approved a contract with M. De Sisto Company for laying and relaying water pipes in Bismark, Floyd, Verrill streets, Dorchester; Ferndale road, Northbourne road, Pheasant street, West Roxbury, and Wade street, Brighton. Bids for the work, opened August 21, were as follows: M. De Sisto Company, $5,657; Vozzella & Caponi, $5,765; De Cristoforo & Brothers Company, $6,281.50; Di Pietro, $6,297.50; C. Russo, $6,597; J. Guarino & Co., $6,625.50; John T. Shea, Jr., $7,046.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

Upon August 28 the Mayor approved a contract with J. A. Singarella for grading yard, etc., at the Trescott School. Bids for the work, opened August 13, were as follows:

Charles Capone, Item 1, $3,363; Item 2, $2,980; J. A. Singarella, Item 1, $3,765; Item 2, $3,340; P. F. Russo, Item 1, $4,153.60; Item 2, $3,557; Carmine Russo, Item 1, $4,675; Item 2, $4,375; M. F. Gaddis, Item 1, $4,800; Item 2, $4,200; Highland Contracting Company,

Item 1, $4,900; Item 2, $4,300; John J. Lounie, Item 1, $5,300; Item 2, $5,100; T. H. Corrigan, Item 1, $5,350; Item 2, $4,460; S. J. Tomasello, Item 1, $7,435; Item 2, $7,145.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Upon August 24 the Mayor approved a contract with Eugene P. Cornell for a motion picture film of the Boston Fire Department. A communication from Theodore A. Glynn, Fire Commissioner was as follows:

Boston, August 22, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY.

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is hereby requested to enter into contract, without advertising, with Eugene P. Cornell, 80 Boylston street, Boston, Mass., for a motion picture film of the Boston Fire Department, at the rate of $125 for every foot of film accepted, the entire price, however, not to exceed two thousand dollars.

My reason for desiring to make this contract without advertising is as follows:

Mr. Cornell has already done considerable of this kind of work and is well equipped to furnish the film covering every detail of the Fire Department. We will be allowed to select such negatives as we want from all pictures he has taken. These films will be used for educational and instructive purposes both inside and outside the department.

Yours very truly,

THEODORE A. GLYNN,
Fire Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Upon August 24 the Mayor approved a contract with the Murray Engineering Company for oil filters for the Calf Pasture Pumping Station. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke, of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, August 23, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Your approval is respectfully requested to the award of a contract, without advertising, for oil filters for the Calf Pasture pumping station, Dorchester, to the Murray Engineering Company, 61 Summer street, East Boston, at an estimated cost of $950.

This is a very fair bid and it meets all the requirements for our new oil burning equipment.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon August 28 the Mayor approved a contract with Samuel J. Tomasello for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, August 24, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Samuel J. Tomasello, 11 Cushing terrace, Dorchester, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

Upon August 23 the Mayor approved a contract with M. S. Kelliher Company for new partitions in the George Putnam School. A communication from Thomas P. Glynn of the Schoolhouse Commission was as follows:

Boston, August 21, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—The bids on new partitions, etc., in the George Putnam School, submitted to the Schoolhouse Commissioners and opened on July 27, were as follows:

M. S. Kelliher Company, $17,289; Casey & Darcy Company, $23,233.

The estimate of this department on the work originally submitted under this item was $10,000, and this amount was appropriated by the School Committee on June 4, 1923. Later this Board received requisitions for additional work, consisting of painting and certain work benches, and this additional work was included in the specifications sent out to contractors for proposals.

As noted above, the lowest bid submitted was $7,289 in excess of the appropriation, and this Board therefore requested that the School Committee make an additional appropriation of $10,000 to cover the deficit and take care of any additional minor items that might arise, if the School Committee still desired that all the work included in the specifications should be done.

The School Committee decided to reduce the amount of work to be done, and made an additional appropriation of $5,000 to the item; and the M. S. Kelliher Company, the lowest bidder, agreed to make a reduction in their price from $17,289 to $15,000, the reduction being made up of $1,200 on the painting and $1,089 on benches.

The Board cannot, of course, award the contract to the M. S. Kelliher Company, under its original proposal; but as it is desired to proceed with the work at the earliest possible moment, and as no advantage would result to the city from readvertising, the Board has voted, subject to the approval of your honor, to award the contract to this contractor, without readvertising, under the provisions of section 30, chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909.

Respectfully yours,

THOMAS P. GLYNN,
Chairman.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon August 28 the Mayor approved a contract with the Linscott Motor Company for furnishing one Reo speed wagon with ambulance body. A communication from Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

Boston, August 27, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for same, to the Linscott Motor Company for furnishing one Reo speed wagon equipped with ambulance body for a price of $2,260 to the Health Department.

The above price includes the furnishing of Lovejoy shock absorbers and spring covers, lettering, and lock on rear doors.

As this ambulance is urgently needed by the Health Department, I respectfully request that the permission asked for be granted.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon August 23 the Mayor approved a contract with George McQuesten Company for hard pine lumber. A communication from Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

Boston, August 21, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to increase the amount of hard pine lumber on contract with the George McQuesten Company from 25,000 to 50,000 feet at a price of $58 per M. delivered on the work.

This contract was originally awarded to the George McQuesten Company and approved by you on February 21, 1923. At that time this department had requested the Transit Department to send an estimate of the pine lumber which would be required for their use during the year 1923-24. After this contract had been filled the Transit Department found that it was necessary for them to have this additional amount of pine lumber to carry on the work of their department. This department placed the order for the additional amount required with the George McQuesten Company because of the fact that they had agreed to deliver this additional amount at the same price as quoted by them when bids were opened at this department on February 16, 1923, although the price of this lumber had increased.

In making this request I feel that the best interests of the city will be served.

Yours respectfully,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

The following additions to and deductions from contracts have been approved:

(5) Extra digging in yard for changes in surface water pipe: 310 hours' labor at $0.85 an hour, $263.50. (6) Extra manhole in yard, $211. Total addition, $813.67, and the amount of $813.67 will be added thereto, making the account as follows: Contract price, $9,469.62; total additions, $813.67; amount of contract, $10,283.29.

J. J. Hurley and Company have been allowed the following additions to contract for the Prince District School as per architect's letter of April 4, 1923: Item 1. Furnish and install one new 15-section two-column legless radiator with all necessary valves, cleats and piping to connect it to present system, to be located where directed. Piping to be covered with covering as specified and radiator to be bronzed as directed. Item 2. Change certain piping where directed to allow the installation of the Kalamene smoke screen partitions. For the above work you will add to your contract the sum of one hundred ninety-eight (198) dollars, and the amount of $198 will be added thereto, making the account as follows: Contract price, $10,639; total addition, $198; amount of contract, $10,837.

COLUMBUS DAY PLANS.

The Public Celebration Committee, J. Philip O'Connell, director, announces a program for Columbus Day, October 12, similar to the celebration of last year, when groups representing thirty-five European, Asiatic, South and Central American countries, assembled in brilliant pageantry at the Parkman Bandstand and participated in one of the most significant ceremonies ever staged on Boston Common.

The plan this year will include patriotic exercises at the Parkman Bandstand, with an address by Mayor Hyland of New York, to be followed by a sunset flag ceremony on the ball field enclosure, conducted by United States Army troops and Navy bluejackets.

Director O'Connell is sending letters to all national groups, and he invites any organization desiring representation in the great "get-together celebration" of Columbus Day to communicate with him at City Hall.

MAYOR TO FETE AIR BOARD.

On the occasion of the formal opening of the Boston air port, September 8, a luncheon is to be given by Mayor Curley to the Boston Air Board and the aviators and pilots connected with the landing field at East Boston. The luncheon will be at the Parker House at noon.

AUDITOR CARVEN ANSWERS "HERALD" CRITICISM OF CITY'S FINANCES.

Boston, August 29, 1923.

Editor The Boston Herald, Boston:

DEAR SIR,—An editorial (About That "Reserve") appearing in this morning's Herald, may have a tendency to impair the financial credit of the city, for the reason that it suggests an improper use of money collected from taxes outstanding January 31, 1923. Over a long period of years the financial officers of the city have taken just pride in the financial reputation of the city, which has been clearly indicated through the flotation of its various bond issues. Any public statements that may tend to destroy this reputation are unfortunate, particularly when the matters discussed in such statements are not based on ascertainable facts.

The editorial in question was not based on information obtained at the Auditing Department, but it may have been based upon two communications issued, not by the Finance Commission as a Board, but by Michael H. Sullivan, who is chairman of the Board. The two communications referred to contain several inaccuracies concerning the finances of the city. This is not to be wondered at, when it is known that the author seldom seeks accurate knowledge of the financial matters which he attempts to discuss. The chairman of the Finance Commission during the past financial year called upon me but once, and at his request I called upon him once, so that it is evident that there is no constructive co-operation between the chairman of the Finance Commission and the chief financial officer of the city. If such co-operation existed there would be fewer public utterances harmful to the city.

Assuming, therefore, that the editorial was based on the communications above referred to, I desire to state that there is no attempt to accumulate in the treasury of the city any amount of money differing from the practice of previous years. It should be clearly remembered that the cash surplus or deficit existing at the end of a financial year is always carefully computed, and in those years when a cash surplus exists it is available for additional appropriating power to the amount authorized under the tax limit. The amount of free cash at the end of each financial year is always deducted from the amount required to be raised by taxation.

The amount of old taxes collected from February 1 each year is available for cash payments during the year, and again enters into the determination of the cash surplus or deficit at the end of that year. As the Mayor clearly brought out in his answer to the chairman of the Finance Commission, if all the taxes levied in a year were collected before the end of that year, there would be no need of using the old collections, as is the custom at present. The experience of the city has been that several millions of the current tax levy remain uncollected at the end of the year, and therefore to take care of necessary payments for the liabilities incurred during the year, it is necessary to make use of old and current taxes for the payment of these liabilities.

To follow the suggestion of Judge Sullivan, the city would be obliged at the end of each year to borrow, in anticipation of taxes, several millions of dollars, upon which interest would be paid, resulting possibly, in the situation in which some of our municipalities find themselves, of not being able to pay off their temporary loans within a year. This is indicated by legislation, which one city found necessary to seek this year, in order to refund or extend the repayment of temporary loans as far back as the year 1917. The policy of the city in effect for these many years, and in effect this year, is in accord with sound financial theory. The use of the term "accumulated reserve inherited from past years," appearing in the editorial is certainly misleading, and has no foundation in fact.

In passing, it might well be assumed, that if there was an amount available for the reduction of taxes, his Honor the Mayor would be the first to seek a lower rate by the use of any available funds. While the law provides that the estimated income, other than taxes, may be used by the assessors in the determination of the rate, it may be interesting to know that the amounts received from the Boston Elevated Railway during the past two years, being in the nature of unestimated revenue, have both been available to the assessors for the reduction of taxes, thus clearly showing the intention of the administration to make available any possible amounts for the reduction of the tax rate.

In conclusion, it should be stated that this whole matter concerning the use of old taxes was thoroughly considered by the State Committee on Municipal Finance in hearings held upon House Bill No. 860, presented by the chairman of the Finance Commission, during the early part of this year. As a result, the committee voted "leave to withdraw" on the bill submitted, clearly indicating that they were entirely satisfied with the conduct of the finances of the city.

Should you desire any further information concerning the financial affairs of the city, I would deem it a pleasure to confer with you.

Very truly yours,

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

FIRE COMMISSIONER HONORED.

Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn has been elected an honorary member of the National Federation of French Firemen, and has received a badge and diploma of membership, signed by C. Guesnet, president; E. Forst, general secretary, and H. Robert, treasurer. The Federation's headquarters are 22 Rue de Dunkerque, Paris.

In accepting the badge and diploma, Mr. Glynn mentioned the visit to Boston some months ago of M. Vanginot, chief engineer of the Paris Fire Department. Concerning M. Vanginot, Mr. Glynn wrote: "I congratulate you in numbering among the members of your society such a distinguished, able and enthusiastic gentleman."

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners, upon request of the Public Works Department for the taking of land by right of eminent domain for sewerage works, lands, rights and easements and said works to be constructed are as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston known as Dorchester and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Fremont place, bounded:

Northwesterly by easement taken by the City of Boston for sewerage works in Fremont place December 27, 1905, twenty-six feet; northerly by another part of Fremont place, three feet; northeasterly by Cook terrace, eight and 61-100 feet; southerly by another part of Cook terrace, thirty-one feet; containing one hundred and thirty-six square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Cook terrace, bounded:

Southwesterly by Fremont place, eight and 61-100 feet; northerly by another part of Cook terrace, twenty-one and 53-100 feet; northeasterly by Fremont place, eight and 61-100 feet; southerly by another part of Cook terrace, twenty-one and 53-100 feet; containing one hundred and seventy-two square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Fremont place, bounded:

Southwesterly by Cook terrace, eight and 61-100 feet; northerly by another part of Fremont place, seventy-six and 47-100 feet; easterly by another part of Fremont place, eight feet; southerly by another part of Fremont place, seventy-three and 28-100 feet; containing five hundred and ninety-nine square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 150 linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer, in the above described premises, being part of the private ways known as Fremont place and Cook terrace.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the improvement ordered herein.

Ordered, That this Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easements and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the land of Bessie G. Peters and Elizabeth M. Gillard on the northerly side of Fremont place, and land of James Homer Pierce, William H. Canterbury, Charles T. Hough, trustees, on the southerly side of Fremont place, will receive benefit or advantage other than the general advantage to the community, from the improvement ordered herein, each of said parcels to the amount set against it herein; said parcels and the supposed owners thereof are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 516, Fremont place, Cook terrace, Dorchester, May 9, 1923, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer Street Laying-out Department," on file in the office of said department.

PRAISES TAX "RESERVE."

George B. Crocker, former City Treasurer, has written to City Auditor Carven praising the Mayor's plan of having a "tax reserve." The letter follows:

MR. RUPERT S. CARVEN, City Auditor, Boston:

DEAR MR. CARVEN,—The policy which you are following in the treatment of taxes levied during previous years, but paid during the current year, is, in its substance, an ancient one, and one in which we should take pride and satisfaction.

The alleged surplus now on hand, in the middle of the year, is in no true sense a surplus, and to deduct this amount from the amount necessary to be raised by taxes this year would, in my opinion, be very unsound finance, and mischievous in its ultimate results.

It would be wholly in the wholly impossible event of a liquidation of the City of Boston and of its ceasing to function as a municipal corporation that this money would in any true sense be a surplus, and the amount thereof would at the present time be wholly impossible to determine.

If we use this money as suggested, we would probably land in the position of some other towns and cities of the state, who have, in some instances, been unable to meet their loans made in anticipation of taxes within a period of some years after they were incurred. The extra interest in such cases is no small sum.

Boston has always met such loans promptly during the first few days of November of each year, and I hope that it will never adopt the policy which may compel it to depart from this course.

Very truly yours,

GEORGE B. CROCKER.

BUILDINGS RAZED.

The Mayor has granted the request of Building Commissioner John H. Mahony for right to take down the three buildings in the rear of 11 Darling street, Ward 14. The owner, Ellen O'Leary devisee, of 48 Calumet street, Roxbury, has been served with a notice but neglect to remove the cause of complaint. The building is in such a condition as to constitute a fire menace and a nuisance.

WORKING ON TAX RATE.

Boston's assessors are struggling to keep the 1923 tax rate at the present figure, $24.70, in accordance with Mayor Curley's desire.

Two weeks ago the Board was said to be about ready to declare the rate, but when the books were balanced the result was far from satisfactory. Since that time there have been many revisions of valuation in the down-town district, the only district which the assessors believe to be capable of bearing a heavier burden and one which is attacked year after year for tax rate purposes.

The Boston Elevated allotment is the only bright spot in the assessors' work. The loss of taxes on $20,000,000 in National Bank stock, together with the fact that an appropriation of $1,000,000 was necessary for pensions this year and the additional consideration that no cash was declared to be in the treasury to apply to the tax rate, compared with the $2,039,000 last year, are features in the figuring by no means pleasing.

Though the Police and Fire departments have increased their expenditures $250,000 each over last year; county expenses have increased $200,000 and the state assessments $160,000, the total of appropriations and state charges is not more than $250,000 in excess of the previous year.

For 1922, even with the very heavy treasury surplus, the assessors were obliged to discover $82,000,000 in increased valuation to keep the tax rate at $24.70.

This year, with no surplus, the assessors will content themselves with a much lower increase in valuation. The increase, in accordance with the Mayor's direction will not fall upon the owners of homes or on apartment houses to any great extent; it will be applied to office buildings and places of business.

MAYOR PLEASES DELEGATION.

Mayor Curley very greatly pleased a delegation from the Francis G. Kane Post, American Legion, accompanied by five members of the auxiliary, when they called at City Hall Wednesday to renew the request of a city building for post headquarters.

A year ago the City Council, in behalf of the post, asked Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, to vacate the building in Kane square, Dorchester, used by the paving department, so that the veterans might establish themselves there. Mr. Rourke replied that the property was needed by his department.

The visit to the Mayor Wednesday was for a renewal of the request. The Mayor suggested that the post take possession of the old ward room at Meeting House Hill, no longer of use to the city, at a rental of $1 a year.

This plan pleased the delegation, which was headed by Christopher J. O'Neil, and the joy was emphasized by the loud exhortation of one of the women: "All come forward and sign the pledge cards for the next governor of Massachusetts."

Each member of the delegation had held one of the pledge cards in his hand as he entered the mayor's office, so no time was lost in affixing signatures.

LAND-TAKING IN BRIGHTON.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners on request of the Public Works Department for a taking of land by right of eminent domain for sewerage works, lands, rights and easements and said works to be constructed as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston known as Brighton district and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Arthur C. Harvey Company, bounded:

Westerly by Hichborn street sixteen and 5-100 feet; northerly by other land supposed to belong to Arthur C. Harvey Company by two measurements, one hundred ten and 47-100 feet and three hundred ninety and 18-100 feet; easterly by land supposed to belong to Louis S. Drake and land supposed to belong to David Owens sixteen and 3-100 feet; southerly by other land supposed to belong to Arthur C. Harvey Company by two measurements, one hundred twelve and 84-100 feet, and three hundred ninety and 29-100 feet, containing eight thousand and thirty square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Louis S. Drake, bounded:

Westerly by land hereinbefore described as taken from Arthur C. Harvey Company six and 1-100 feet; northerly by other land supposed to belong to Louis S. Drake two hundred ninety-three and 63-100 feet; easterly by Everett street six feet; southerly by land supposed to belong to David Owens two hundred ninety-three and 85-100 feet; containing one thousand seven hundred sixty-two square feet more or less.

A parcel of land supposed to belong to David Owens, bounded:

Westerly by land hereinbefore described as taken from Arthur C. Harvey Company ten and 2-100 feet; northerly by land hereinbefore described as taken from Louis S. Drake two hundred ninety-three and 85-100 feet; easterly by Everett street ten and 2-100 feet; southerly by other land supposed to belong to David Owens two hundred ninety-three and 90-100 feet; containing two thousand nine hundred thirty-nine square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 798 linear feet of 12-inch pipe sanitary sewer and 798 linear feet of 5-foot 6-inch circular concrete surface drain.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the improvement ordered herein.

Ordered, That this Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easements and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the land of the Arthur C. Harvey Company on the northerly side of said easement and the land of said company to a depth of about one hundred feet on the southerly side and the land of Louis S. Drake and David Owens, on Everett street, will receive benefit or advantage other than the general advantage to all real estate of said city, from the improvement ordered herein, each of said parcels to the amount set against it herein; said parcels and the supposed owners thereof are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 512, Sewerage Works, Hichborn street, Brighton, April 30, 1923, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer Street Laying-Out Department," on file in the office of said department.

MAYOR INVITES MUSICIANS.

Mayor Curley sent the following telegram Wednesday to Mr. K. M. Skinner of the National Association of Organists, Hotel Rochester, Rochester, N. Y.:

Boston, the cradle of musical culture in America, the home of the Boston Conservatory of Music, the home and workshop of Chickering, who established the primacy of the American piano, the headquarters of the Boston Symphony Orchestra and the site of Symphony Hall and its famous organ, invites the National Association of Organists to hold its 1924 convention here.

I can promise you a hearty welcome and a sympathetic atmosphere in this cultural center devoted to music, the arts, education, and the higher life. In addition, Boston is the Hub from which radiate points and places of scenic beauty and historic interest unequalled in America that every good American should see and know. Boston's latching is out.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 361.

The commanding officers of Divisions 2, 3 and 16 have recently called to my attention the following meritorious police work performed by patrolmen of their divisions:

On July 19, 1923, at about 9.30 a. m., as Patrolman George F. Cassell of Division 16 was passing through Adams square, he noticed an Indian motorcycle standing in front of a store on Washington street, and having in mind the motorcycle that had been stolen recently from his division, went over to the machine and examined it carefully. He found the motor number to be No. 81V750, which was the number of the stolen motorcycle, and that the words "Police Department" had been painted over and the word "Indian" substituted.

Patrolman Cassell waited for the operator to appear, and although the latter assaulted him and injured him so severely as to oblige him later to go to the hospital and spend the remainder of the day there under observation, the officer overpowered the operator and brought him to Station 2 where he was booked for larceny and for assault on a police officer; the motorcycle was taken to Station 16.

I am very much gratified to learn of this exceedingly clever piece of police work on the part of Patrolman Cassell, and I take pleasure in commending him for the acumen, courage and fortitude he displayed in connection with this arrest.

In the forenoon of August 10, 1923, Patrolman Alfred H. Perkins of Division 3 and August H. Barthel of Division 2 were called into a lodging house on Howard street, where they found in a room on the top floor a man lying in bed, apparently dead, with the gas escaping from a wall bracket. The officers immediately turned off the gas, opened the windows, and applied the Schaefer or prone method of resuscitation to the unconscious man, also telephoning to the station house for the auto patrol. By the time the wagon arrived, the man was breathing freely, and Patrolman Daniel T. Lynch of Division 3, who had accompanied the wagon, continued to work on the man on the way to the hospital, where he was kept for treatment. He was released the following day fully recovered.

It is with great pleasure that I learn of such intelligent application by these three officers of the instructions received in the department and I warmly commend them for the quickness of thought and action which enabled them to save a human life.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

CITY GOLF NETS $8,700.

Almost $9,000 has already been realized from the golf grounds at Franklin Park, according to a report made by James B. Shea, head of the Park Department. Of this sum $7,890 was realized from 789 seasonal permits, $40 from one-day permits at $1 each and $800 from the rental of 400 lockers, making a total of $8,730. The indications are that this figure may reach $10,000 before the close of the season.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners upon request of the Public Works Commissioner for a taking of land by eminent domain for sewerage works, lands, rights and easements and said works to be constructed are as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or fixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston known as Dorchester and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Alabama street, bounded:

Southwesterly by another part of Alabama street, eight feet; northwesterly by another part of Alabama street, by three measurements, one hundred ninety-seven and 62-100 feet, ninety-two and 32-100 feet, and eighty and 9-100 feet; again southwesterly by another part of Alabama street, one and 25-100 feet; again northwesterly by another part of Alabama street, by two measurements, ninety-one and 71-100 feet and one hundred and eighty feet; again southwesterly by another part of Alabama street, eighteen feet; again northwesterly by Elene street, forty feet; northwesterly by another part of Alabama street, nineteen feet; again northwesterly by another part of Alabama street, two and 26-100 feet; southeasterly by another part of Alabama street, two hundred six and 37-

100 feet; again northwesterly by another part of Alabama street, six feet; again southeasterly by another part of Alabama street, by two measurements, two hundred nineteen and 81-100 feet and seventy-one and 14-100 feet; again southwesterly by another part of Alabama street, twelve and 6-100 feet; again southeasterly by the southeast line of Alabama street, ten feet; again southwesterly by another part of Alabama street, twelve and 89-100 feet; again southwesterly by another part of Alabama street, by three measurements, seventy-nine and 68-100 feet, ninety-two feet, and one hundred ninety-seven and 51-100 feet; containing ten thousand one hundred and thirty-five square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, on Alabama street, supposed to belong to Wellington Holbrook, John B. Holbrook, Grace Holbrook, trustees, bounded:

Northwesterly by Alabama street, ten feet; northwesterly by other land of said Wellington Holbrook, John B. Holbrook, Grace Holbrook, trustees, one hundred feet; southeasterly by land supposed to belong to Louis H. Marcil, ten feet; southwesterly by other land of said Wellington Holbrook, John B. Holbrook, Grace Holbrook, trustees, one hundred feet; containing one thousand square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, on Colorado street, supposed to belong to Louis H. Marcil, bounded:

Southwesterly by Colorado street, ten feet; southwesterly by other land of said Louis H. Marcil, one hundred feet; northwesterly by land supposed to belong to Wellington Holbrook, John B. Holbrook, Grace Holbrook, trustees, ten feet; northwesterly by other land of said Louis H. Marcil, one hundred feet; containing one thousand square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 553 linear feet of 12-inch by 15-inch concrete sanitary sewer, 360 linear feet of 12-inch pipe sanitary sewer, 290 linear feet of 3-foot 6-inch concrete surface drain, 120 linear feet of 24-inch pipe surface drain, in the above described premises, being part of the private way known as Alabama street, between Currier street and Almont street; also in private land, between Colorado street and Almont street, 200 linear feet of 12-inch by 15-inch concrete sanitary sewer, 200 linear feet of 3-foot 6-inch concrete surface drain.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the improvement ordered herein.

Ordered, That this Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easements and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of land on the northwesterly side of Alabama street, between Currier street and Almont street, and the lots of land on the southeasterly side of Alabama street, between Currier street and Almont street, with the exception of the lot at the southeasterly corner of Alabama street and Almont street, will receive benefit or advantage other than the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement ordered herein; said parcels and the supposed owners thereof are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 505, Sewerage Works, Alabama street, Dorchester, April 17, 1923, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer Street Laying-Out Department," on file in the office of said department.

LAND-TAKING IN CITY PROPER.

The Mayor has approved, upon request of the Commissioner of Public Works, the taking of land by the Board of Street Commissioners for a public improvement consisting of the widening of the easterly side of Harrison avenue, Boston proper, as a highway, for a distance of approximately 81 feet southerly from Exeter place, and named, bounded and described as follows:—

The highway at the southeasterly corner of Harrison avenue and Exeter place, Boston proper, is hereby widened and ordered constructed.

The part of said highway as widened herein, and the land, exclusive of trees or structures standing thereon or affixed thereto, in which an easement for street purposes is hereby taken, is bounded and described as follows:

Northeasterly by the southwest line of Exeter place, six feet; southeasterly by the line of Harrison avenue as hereby widened, by two measurements, forty-seven and 21-100 feet and thirty-three and 35-100 feet; westerly by the easterly line of Harrison avenue as it existed previous to this widening, by three measurements, thirty and 20-100 feet, nineteen and 80-100 feet on a curve of fifty-nine and 12-100 feet radius, and thirty-three and 50-100 feet; containing three hundred and ninety-five square feet, more or less.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforesaid described land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter thereon for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

No betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Voted, That this Board determines that the undementioned estate sustains damages by the making of the public improvement consisting of the widening and construction of the southeasterly corner of Harrison avenue, Boston proper, as a highway, under the order of the Board of even date herewith, in the amount hereinafter set against it, and awards said amount therefor.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewer Service).

Michael Della Russo has been granted an extension of time for completion of contract for building sewerage works in Public Alley No. 937, between Boylston street and a point about 133 feet southerly, Roxbury, from August 20, 1923, to September 20, 1923, thirty-one days, occasioned by the delay in starting the work, permitted because petitioners' apartment property would not be ready for occupancy until October, 1923.

AUTHORITY TO DO WORK.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Public Works Department:

To resurface with bituminous macadam and regulate M street, from East First street to East Second street, with division forces, without advertisement, the estimated cost for labor and material being $3,000. This is maintenance work and can be done as advantageously by day labor methods as any work now necessary.

REVISED REGULATIONS OF GAS-FITTING AS AMENDED UNDER AUTHORITY OF CHAPTER 265, ACTS OF 1897.

The following amendments are made in the Revised Regulations to go into effect November 1, 1923.

Section 10 is hereby amended by striking out the words "and one at the outlet side" in the third line, so as to read as follows:

SECTION 10. There shall be a main cock on the service pipe close to the foundation wall, one cock at the inlet side of each meter. When service pipes are over two inches, brass or composition seated valves shall be used.

Section 12 is hereby amended by striking out the present paragraph and inserting the following:

SECTION 12. All gas pipes shall be of wrought iron or steel, all fittings of malleable iron, except above two inches, when cast iron if not concealed will be allowed. All meter connections other than slide flange type are to be made with rigid iron connections of a type approved by the board of health and the building commissioner.

Section 13 is hereby amended by striking out the present paragraph and inserting the following:

SECTION 13. All fuel gas appliances whose safety depends upon a constant burning pilot light must be connected to a separate meter or to a fuel meter, close to the meter.

July 9, 1923.

Adopted by BOARD OF GASFITTING EXAMINERS.

DANIEL F. EGO, Secretary,
JOHN H. MAHONY, Chairman.

CITY HOLDS LARGEST REAL ESTATE TAX AUCTION.

The new law which requires taxes to be collected in the year in which they are assessed resulted in the largest real estate tax auction sale in the history of Boston.

The sale was held at the office of William M. McMorro, City Collector, in City Hall Annex, with City Auctioneer Foy presiding.

More than 4,000 parcels of property, on which more than $500,000 is due the city in taxes, are involved in the sale and in most cases the original owners did not appear. However, the owners have two years in which to recover their property through the payment of the original tax plus costs, interest and other charges, wherein the tax title collector makes his money.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

The Mayor has approved the plan of the Commissioner of Public Works for the following construction work:

A sanitary sewer of 20-inch by 20-inch concrete in East First street, between O street, and Acadia street, in the South Boston district, at an estimated cost of $2,500.

A sanitary sewer of 15-inch earthen pipe in Montclair avenue, between Merlin street, and 429 feet southwesterly, in the West Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $4,163. This sewer is to be built in the old taking.

MAYOR PLANS BIG MILITARY WEEK FOR BOSTON IN 1924.

Mayor Curley is planning for a big military week in Boston in the fall of next year. State Commander William H. Doyle of the American Legion has received a letter from the Mayor asking that the Legion plan to hold its state convention in Boston in 1924, in conjunction with the state department conventions of the G. A. R., Spanish War Veterans and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

It is not probable that Boston will get the state convention of the Legion. According to State Adjutant Leo A. Spillane, Pittsfield and Brockton are waging a warm fight for the convention, and one of them is likely to get it.

However, it has been suggested that Mayor Curley make an attempt to get the national convention of the Legion for Boston in the fall of 1924. This year the convention is to be held at San Francisco, the week of October 19. The first national convention was held in St. Louis, the second in Minneapolis, the third in Cleveland, the fourth in Kansas City and the fifth in New Orleans.

Since this year's convention is to be held on the West Coast, local Legion officials feel that it would be logical to hold the next one in the East.

DAMAGES AWARDED.

Annie M. Lindstrom, 7 Charles street, Dorchester, has agreed to accept the sum of $8,000 as full payment for all land taken from, all rights acquired in, and all damages occasioned to her estate on Charles street by the taking made for schoolhouse purposes on Charles street, under the order of the Board of Street Commissioners of April 27, 1923.

Ellen E. Hennessey, for C. C. Hennessey, 55 Dakota street, Dorchester, has accepted the sum of $225 as full payment for all land taken from, all rights acquired in, and all damages occasioned to her estate on Kingman (formerly Dakota) road by the laying out and construction of said road under the order of the Board of Street Commissioners of June 14, 1922.

CONTRACT AMENDED.

John Bowen Company has been allowed to amend their contract for alterations of the School Administration Building, 15 Beacon street, Boston, by striking out the words and figures: "November 27, 1922," on page 12, section 3, and substituting therefor the words and figures: "September 29, 1923," so that the beginning of the last paragraph of said section 3 on page 12 shall read: "The work is to be commenced on or about July 27, 1922, and is to be completed on or before September 29, 1923."

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

De Christoforo Brothers Company have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for laying and relaying water pipes in Arnold street, Cleveland street, Linwood street, Perkins avenue and River street, and Winslow street, Hyde Park. Items ordered: Searching for service pipes, removing and rebuilding culvert walls, locating old main pipe, repairing leaking services and capping old 4-inch pipe, at an estimated cost of $100.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, August 20, 1923.

ORDERED, That the salaries of Industrial Instructors Dorchester, East Boston and Hyde Park High Schools, and High School of Practical Arts) who have not reached the maximum salary of the rank, or who have not served one year on the maximum salary of the rank, shall not be reduced because of the reduction in the minimum salary of the rank as provided in the schedule for the year ending Aug. 31, 1924, but the salaries of such teachers shall be advanced upon their anniversaries until the maximum of the rank is reached.

11. ORDERED, That the superintendent is authorized to fix the compensation of lecturers employed in school centers and whose compensation is not fixed in the salary schedule; provided, that such compensation, including any service or other charges, shall in no case exceed forty dollars ($40) per evening. The eleven orders were passed collectively and unanimously.

AMENDMENT TO THE REGULATIONS.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the regulations be amended as follows:

Section 318. Strike out the Section and substitute the following:

Section 318. 1. Teachers, members of the supervising staff, clerical assistants, bookkeepers, chief attendance officer, attendance officers and supervisor of licensed minors whose compensation is established at a fixed rate per annum and who do not serve the whole of the school year either because they do not begin on the opening of school in September, or those who do not complete the year because of death, resignation, retirement or discharge, shall be entitled to the same fraction of the salary for the whole year as the ratio of the number of school days or days of service while they were in the service is to the whole number of school days or days of service between September 1 and August 31, but with the deductions required by the regulations on account of any absence from duty.

DISCONTINUANCE OF TEN-PAYMENT PLAN.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the ten-payment plan for certain teachers and members of the supervising staff, adopted Oct. 27, 1916 (pages 196-197, Minutes 1919), is hereby discontinued.

NOTICE TO BOARD OF ASSESSORS OF APPROPRIATIONS.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the Board of Assessors is hereby notified that the School Committee has appropriated under authority granted it by the Legislature of Massachusetts, the sum of $12,772,711.06 for salaries of instructors, salaries of officers, salaries of custodians, fuel and light, supplies and incidentals, pensions to attendance officers and custodians, physical education, school physicians and nurses, pensions to teachers, extended use of the public schools, and the alteration and repair of school buildings and for furniture, fixtures, and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing schoolyards, for the financial year beginning Feb. 1, 1923.

Of this amount, $12,129,647.34 should be included by said Board in the total amount to be raised by taxation, the balance, $643,063.72, to be obtained as follows:

WEST ROXBURY SECTION SOON TO HAVE NEW MODERN POLICE STATION.

OLD WEST ROXBURY COURTHOUSE TO BE REMODELED INTO UP-TO-DATE, WELL APPOINTED HEADQUARTERS FOR DIVISION 13. BIDS BEING CALLED FOR NOW.

NEW STATION HOUSE FOR DIVISION 13, WEST ROXBURY—WORK SOON TO START.

West Roxbury citizens are not being neglected by Mayor Curley in the matter of civic improvements any more than are other sections of the city. The latest improvement planned for that section is the alteration of the old West Roxbury Courthouse into a new police station for Division 13.

The improvements in the building are to cost in the vicinity of $100,000 and contracts for the work are being called for at the present time. Work will be started as soon as the contract is signed. The building is to be 52 feet by 70 feet and is two stories high. On the first floor will be located a garage and a men's cell room containing space for thirteen cells.

On the second floor there will be a large guard room, adjoining which will be a sergeant's lobby and library, as well as a toilet room equipped with showers, etc. Here, also, will be located sleeping quarters and toilet rooms for the wagon drivers. The old courthouse will be connected with the police station by means of a connecting wing with a corridor and a janitor's office.

The basement of the present station will also be altered and when finished will contain a women's cell room with six cells, a matron's suite and conveniences. There will also be a large locker room and a room for physicians on this floor. The building is located on Maple place and Starr lane, Jamaica Plain. Louis St. Amand is the architect.

AN EXPLANATION.

In the issue of the City Record of August 4 and subsequent numbers advertising the sale of estates for unpaid taxes, etc., appeared an item for street improvement for $10.94 in the name of Daniel J. O'Connor, Ward 22.

It appears that the original street assessment was revised but the assessors failed to notify the City Collector, in consequence of which the advertisement was an error which the collector very much regrets.

City Collector.

NO INCREASE IN TAX RATE.

MAYOR CURLEY AND BOARD OF ASSESSORS SUCCESSFUL IN PREVENTING ADDING TO BURDEN OF CITIZENS DESPITE INCREASE IN EXPENDITURES.

The tax rate for 1923 as determined upon by the Assessing Board of the City of Boston will be the same as last year, namely, $24.70 per thousand of valuation.

A study of the figures and facts as submitted by the Board of Assessors is of great interest and apparently legislative action will shortly be necessary to protect real estate from the burden shifted upon it annually since the adoption of the income tax in 1916.

The change in the National Bank Tax Law during the present year represents a loss in taxable valuation of $18,054,206; while the change from individuals and partnership business in the city to that of Massachusetts corporations represents a further reduction of about $5,000,000.

Under the present system of distribution of corporation tax revenue the loss to the city this year represents a considerable sum, the amount in the past two years being approximately three quarters of a million dollars.

The adoption of the General Pension Act applicable to all city employees represents an increase in expenditure of $997,128, while the increase for police and fire protection is in excess of one half million dollars additional, and county expenses have increased approximately $200,000.

Provided the reduction in revenue from corporation and national bank taxes had not been so materially reduced this year it would have been possible through the gain of $52,700,000 on real estate to reduce the tax rate. Under the circumstances, while it is pleasing to know that the rate established furnishes no excuse for gouging landlords to advance rents of unfortunate tenants, it is, nevertheless, necessary that the Assessing Department and the Law Department make an immediate and exhaustive study as to ways and means of relieving real estate from the burden which it is now required to bear and the adoption of such changes as will compel money invested other than in realty to pay its just share of the cost of government.

PUBLIC LIBRARY EXHIBITION.

The Public Library has listed "Fifty Books of 1923" for exhibition in the Fine Arts Department of the Boston Public Library through September.

There may also be seen a memorial exhibition of Francis Parkman, the historian, who was born September 16, 1823.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

[From Boston Centennial Poem by NATHAN HARKELL DOLE.]

TELLS PRESIDENT COOLIDGE PEOPLE OF STATE WANT COAL—DENIES CLAIM OF FEDERAL IMPOTENCY.

MAYOR CURLEY MAKES THRILLING ADDRESS ON THE TOILERS' PROBLEMS DURING LABOR DAY ADDRESS ON BOSTON COMMON BEFORE CROWD OF UNION WORKERS.

This is Labor's Day—the day set apart for rest and relaxation once a year, when they who toil may come together for counsel and consideration; for congratulation for work well done and difficulties overcome, and for a renewal of pledges of union and effort in the days to come.

The things of most importance in achievement of worth-while victory for organized labor in the last quarter of a century have been the American Federation of Labor under the able leadership of Samuel Gompers, and the development of the public conscience as to the rights of workers resulting from the encyclical of his Holiness Pope Leo XIII, delivered thirty-two years ago. Here are the salient points of them delivered to a world torn by conflict and ruled by rapacity and greed, and they are worthy of study today:

His Holiness said:

(1) Mutual agreement results in pleasantness of life and beauty of good order; while perpetual conflict necessarily produces confusion and savage barbarism.

(2) Labor is an honorable calling; it is shameful and inhuman to treat men like chattels to make money by or look upon merely as so much muscle and physical power.

(3) It is the duty of the commonwealth to shield from misery those on whom it so largely depends—the working classes.

(4) The employer must never tax his work-people beyond their strength or employ them on work unsuited to their sex or age. His great and principal duty is to give everyone a fair wage; to exercise pressure upon the indigent and destitute for the sake of gain and to gather one's profits out of the need of another is condemned by all laws, human and divine.

(5) The first concern of all is to save the poor workers from the cruelty of greedy speculators who use human beings as mere instruments of money making.

(6) Laws are only binding when they are in accordance with right, reason and the eternal laws of God.

(7) It is neither just nor right so to grind men down with excessive labor as to stupefy their minds and wear out their bodies. Those who work in mines and quarries and extract coal, stone and metals from the bowels of the earth should have shorter hours.

(8) Wage-earners who are undoubtedly among the weak and necessitous should be specially cared for and protected by the government.

(9) Paternal authority can neither be abolished nor absorbed by the state.

(10) The safety of the common earth is the first law. The people are the commonwealth, the whole not the few. Whenever the general interest suffers or is threatened with mischief, which can in no other way be met or be prevented, the public authority must step in and deal with it.

Many of the trials and dangers that confronted us a year ago have passed; but still old problems return to vex us—problems that lie at the roots of our daily life and which must be solved in justice and humanity if our civilization is to continue and our democracy to endure. Unemployment was then rife, the idleness of willing workers able and anxious to work, but standing in the streets, waiting, discontented and unhappy, without work and wage. At this hour unemployment is not acute; but it will return to us again and again, like a half-cured disease, until our government takes measures to make it impossible; and until the men and workers of America tell their representatives that industry and the marketing of its products are not to be made the football of partisan politics and that the national good must outclass any party's triumphs, we must expect to see the evil of unemployment plague us.

Thirty-two years ago that great Christian leader, Leo XIII, laid down the philosophy of the relations of capital and labor with a precision and clarity none could misunderstand, stating the duty of each to the other, of both to the state and the state to them. With wisdom and simplicity he stated the limitations of government, the primacy of man and his family, and stressed the duties and responsibilities which are obligatory upon him who labors and him who employs labor.

We very much need today to turn back those thirty-two years and read once more the deliverances of that great pontiff, for the evils he discussed and the theories he formulated then demand our attention today.

The winter of New England is only a few weeks ahead of us and a strike of the coal miners reminds us that unless the industrial peace of the coal regions is secured at an early date we will be faced by the sufferings and dangers of the last winter. This is a question of paramount importance and one that must be answered rightly and finally; for if the present refusal of owner and worker continues the people of a dozen commonwealths will be the victims of their obstinacy, and America will demand to know by what right, constitutional, legal or natural, a handful of greedy mine owners can pass a sentence of disease and death on millions of their fellow citizens. The miners agreed to accept the terms offered by Governor Pinchot; the mine owners refused and the public is to be the victim of the defiance of public opinion.

Governor Coolidge gained the presidency through the national reputation he achieved by his alleged settlement of the Boston police strike and by what was termed his vigor, firmness and resolute insistence on law and order. The coal strike and the coal supply of New York and New England constitute a problem more important than the Boston police strike. It is an acute presentation of the age-old question—the rights of property versus the rights of man, of greed against humanity; and that question President Coolidge must answer, for he cannot evade it or dodge it, and upon his answer depends his whole political future.

Already the President has said his Law Department has advised him the government lacks law and authority to compel the only solution in sight—the seizure and working of the mines; he is told the Constitution forbids it. This excuse will not answer. It is a cowardly evasion.

The government of the United States is the people of the United States. The Constitution was made for the people, not the people for the Constitution. In time of war, when the lives of the people are threatened by foreign invaders or domestic enemies, the Constitution is suspended, since self-preservation is the first law of nature and nations. No President can find any difficulty in securing the legal opinion he needs to enable him to act in times of national danger. Roosevelt found no obstacles to protecting the people from these same people, and President Coolidge must take his courage in his hands and act or forever hold his peace. Here is his golden opportunity to prove his endowment of that vigor, firmness and resolution whose alleged possession raised him to his high office.

Labor is willing to work under and for the government. Mining capital is concerned only for its usurious profits; the people of America will stand behind the President, and the people who are the law and the prophets in this emergency are superior to the constitutional interpretations of the corporation lawyers that clutter up the Department of Justice. President Coolidge has the position and power to act; he can secure the sort of opinion he wants if he is desirous of acting, and the people will back him up. What we want is coal.

When he acts and acts wisely and resolutely the miners will go back to work and the people will get coal without gouging and the mine owners will get a reasonable price for the coal. God placed in the ground a raw material that is a finished product, upon which not one drop of human sweat was expended in the process of creating it.

Let this be the message we send to the President: That humanity must be served and that our faith in him must be justified by his service to us.

In this national crisis, as in all the others, the voice of labor must be heard on this day of labor. Labor is the genesis of all capital; it is the source of all national strength and prosperity; without labor the coal mines would be silent, the field sterile and the factory idle, the forest given over to the beast and bird; for labor—the man and the woman who work—makes industry and civilization possible and the republic a great living, splendid reality. The man or combination of men who forget that humanity, men the people, come first in the scheme of creation and civilization is unfit to live in this republic of ours. Man was here before the state; the Constitution and the law is superior to them; it is their function to preserve and conserve man and society from the greed and cruelty of the strong and predatory; and when they fail to do so their usefulness vanishes and the reason for their continuance ceases to exist.

The men of New England who work with hand and brain wait with interest the decisive action of President Coolidge; he must choose between the public enemies in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts who own the anthracite mines and the millions of workers who must be saved from the terrors of a New England winter with empty coal bins. The comfort and content, the health and happiness of the workers of New England depend upon their coal supply in this winter—coal in sufficient supply and reasonable prices.

If they are denied this, New England industry will be imperiled, its prosperity menaced, its peace endangered. It is up to President Coolidge. If he is the brave and resolute defender of law and order and the foe of public enemies he is reputed to be he will grasp the nettle. New England needs coal, not league nor courts. It awaits his action.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Permission to award contracts for work, materials and supplies, in accordance, with recommendation of department heads, has been approved by the Mayor.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Upon August 30 the Mayor approved a contract with the Northeastern Construction Company for the installation of shower baths at the headquarters of Engine Company 20. A communication from Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn was as follows:

Boston, August 28, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—In response to an advertisement in the City Record of August 4 and 11, the following proposals were received at this office for the installation of shower baths at the quarters of Engine Company 20, Neponset, on Wednesday, August 15, at which time they were publicly opened and read:

Patrick F. Russo, $2,500; Northeastern Construction Company, $2,535.28; John P. Curley, $3,295.

Upon comparing these bids at the auditor's office it was found that a bid had been deposited there from Stephen J. Connolly in the amount of $1,398. No bid was received from Mr. Connolly at fire headquarters.

The Corporation Counsel has advised me that it would be proper to disregard the bid of Mr. Connolly.

Subject to your Honor's approval, I will disregard the bid of Stephen J. Connolly and award the contract for the installation of shower baths at the quarters of Engine Company 20, Walnut street, Neponset, to the Northeastern Construction Company, 430 Medford street, Charlestown, for the sum of $2,535.28. The Northeastern Construction Company was the second lowest bidder, there being a difference of only $35.28 between them and the lowest bidder. The Northeastern Construction Company is a well established concern and has already performed work for the Boston Fire Department in a very satisfactory manner. Little is known of Patrick R. Russo, and in view of the slight difference in the bids it is my opinion that the best interests of the city would be served by awarding the contract to a concern whom we know is a thoroughly reliable and satisfactory concern, namely, the Northeastern Construction Company.

THEODORE A. GLYNN,
Fire Commissioner.

Upon September 4 the Mayor approved a contract with the Radio Sales and Service Company for the installation of radio sets on each of the three fireboats and in the fire alarm office. Bid for the work, opened August 29, was as follows:

Radio Sales and Service Company, $6,992.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewer Service).

Upon September 6 the Mayor approved a contract with M. D. Russo for sewerage works in Border street, from Sumner street to Central square, East Boston. Bids for the work, opened August 30, were as follows:

M. D. Russo, $12,523.50; James J. Conway, $13,699; Timothy Coughlin, $13,738.75; C. & R. Construction Company, $13,838; William Barrett & Co., $13,987; DeCristoforo & Brothers Company, $14,318.50; V. Barletta, $14,370.50; J. W. O'Connell, $14,976.43; C. Russo, $15,373.50; Zoppo & Civitarese, $16,003.50; Anthony Baruffaldi Company, $19,456.50.

Upon September 4 the Mayor approved a contract with W. H. Ellis & Son Company for bulkhead at end of Farragut road extension, South Boston. Bids for the work, opened August 29, were as follows:

W. H. Ellis & Son Company, $3,821; W. A. Norton Company, $4,127; Lawler Brothers, $5,237.50.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Water Service).

Upon August 30 the Mayor approved a contract with Vozzella & Caponi for laying and relaying water pipes in Dunbar street, Garnet road, Quinn way and Redlands road, West Roxbury; Dana avenue, Folsom street and Pine street, Hyde Park. Bids for the work, opened August 27, were as follows:

Vozzella & Caponi, $5,998; Zoppo & Civitarese, $6,035.25; J. Guarino & Co., $6,227.20; DeCristoforo & Brothers Company, $6,272; C. Russo, $6,333.50; J. Williams & Co., $6,707.50; J. T. Shea, Jr., $7,557.50; D. DiPietro, $7,645.50.

Upon August 31 the Mayor approved a contract with John Williams & Co. for laying and relaying water pipes in West Broadway, between C and D streets, South Boston. Bids for the work, opened August 28, were as follows:

John Williams & Co., $928.50; John T. Shea, Jr., $1,203.50; DeCristoforo & Brothers Company, $1,553.50; Vozzella & Caponi, $1,828.50; C. Russo, $2,118.50.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon September 4 the Mayor approved a contract with the Merchants Provision Company for furnishing meats to the various city departments during September, 1923. Bids for the supply, opened August 30, were as follows:

Boston Sanatorium.

250 Pounds Veal.—Merchants Provision Company, 10 cents per pound; William A. Doe Company, 11 cents per pound; Munro-Sexton Company, 13 cents per pound; Blackstone Supply Company, 18 cents per pound.

J. F. Murphy, $2,939; M. J. Ahern, $3,373; Henry J. Lyons Company, $3,533; Capital Plumbing and Heating Company, $3,900.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sanitary Service).

Upon September 5 the Mayor approved the awarding of additional contract work to the Murray Engineering Company for repairing and strengthening piles at the Albany street refuse receiving station, without advertising. A communication from Edward F. Murphy, Acting Commissioner of Public Works, was as follows:

BOSTON, August 31, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

At the Albany street refuse receiving station forty piles in addition to the number specified in the contract of the Murray Engineering Company for repairing structures at three garbage dumps should be repaired and strengthened. The condition of these piles was revealed by the removal of the floor. These repairs, which should be made at once so as to prevent the subsequent closing of the station with resulting interference with ash and garbage collections and disposal, can be made by the Murray Engineering Company by increasing the quantity of work to be done under Item 5 of its contract.

In addition, fifteen spurshores or inclined piles will have to be cut off, refitted and rebolted.

The estimated cost of this work is $1,710, for which the approval of your Honor is respectfully requested.

Yours respectfully,

E. F. MURPHY,
Acting Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon August 30 the Mayor approved a contract with the American LaFrance Fire Engine Company, Inc., for furnishing to the Fire Department ten Ross thawing devices. A communication from Frank P. Rock, Superintendent of Supplies, was as follows:

BOSTON, August 28, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract to the American LaFrance Fire Engine Company, Inc., without publicly advertising for same, for furnishing to the Fire Department ten Ross thawing devices at a price of $270 each, delivered to the repair shop, Bristol street.

As the American LaFrance Fire Engine Company, Inc. is the agent for the sale of the Ross thawing devices it would be impossible to secure any lower prices through the medium of public advertisement, and for this reason the permission asked for above is requested.

Yours respectfully,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

ACTS TO STOP RENT GOUGING.

Mayor Curley sent the following letter to Herbert A. Ellis, chairman of the Rent and Housing Commission of the City of Boston:

"I am in receipt of the inclosed letter from residents of Hyde Park who are fearful, from notices received, that the adoption of a single fare in the Hyde Park district would be used as a pretext for realty owners to advance rents. Personally I know of no reason why this method of gouging the tenants should be permitted, and you are hereby directed to not only place the staff of your department at work investigating the proposed increases, but you are at liberty to inform the Corporation Counsel that I am desirous that the aid of the Law Department be invoked in the criminal prosecution of any landlord guilty of extortion in the matter of rentals."

MAYOR CURLEY MAKES THIRD EFFORT TO GET APPROPRIATION FOR JAPANESE EARTHQUAKE VICTIMS—COUNCIL LAGGARD.

MAKES THREE ATTEMPTS TO GET QUORUM OF MEMBERS SO AS TO RUSH $10,000 TO AID OF SUFFERERS FROM EARTHQUAKE HOLOCAUST OF LAST WEEK.

After attempting unsuccessfully to secure a meeting of the City Council for the purpose of getting a $10,000 appropriation for the victims of the Japanese disaster on two occasions Mayor Curley on Thursday issued another letter to the members of the city government asking for a meeting and action on Saturday, September 8. The first attempt by the Mayor was for a meeting on Wednesday. In calling for that meeting the Mayor said:

"The disaster that has befallen Japan and the great loss and suffering sustained by the people of that country merits the sympathy and immediate aid of the entire world. That the City of Boston, which has ever been foremost in every movement for the benefit of humanity from the beginning of our government, may take appropriate action, you are requested to attend a special meeting of the City Council at the Council Chamber, City Hall, School street, Boston, Wednesday, September 5, at 12 m."

The second effort was for a meeting on Thursday, and when there failed to be present a quorum the Mayor then sent out the following letter:

DEAR SIR,—A special meeting of the Boston City Council will be held at City Hall, School street, upon Saturday, September 8, at 11.30 a. m., and I am especially desirous that you make a special effort to be present. Two meetings have been previously called for the purpose of appropriating a sum of money to aid in relieving distress in Japan resulting from the earthquake, tidal wave and conflagration.

I had sincerely hoped that Boston might be the first of American cities to set the example in the matter of a contribution that would represent all of the people of the city.

Through the failure of the Council to attend in sufficient numbers to permit of the transaction of public business the City of Boston is denied this great honor.

I beg to direct your attention to the fact that when the question of the winning of the World War was in the balance it was a representative of the Japanese government in the person of Ambassador Ishi, at that time a guest of the city and representing his government, who made the declaration as to the position Japan would take in the World War and the declaration made by him upon this occasion was supported by his government.

When disaster overtook our fellow Americans in San Francisco, the government of Japan contributed $100,000.

The friendly relations that obtain today between the Republic of China and our own republic are unquestionably due in large measure to the position taken by America upon the question of the Boxer indemnity and the insistent demand of our government for an open-door policy.

The opportunity for removing the barrier created by propagandists which might, if permitted to grow unchecked, at some time result in a war between the United States and Japan, can best be removed through the extension of the hand of brotherhood and the purse of one of the few nations today solvent in the world.

I trust that as a means for the promotion of a better understanding you will make a special effort to be present at the meeting upon Saturday and by your vote in favor of a substantial appropriation for the aid of the people of Japan be a party to an expression by the people of Boston through its city government of the good will that America extends in the hour of distress to the Japanese nation.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

future are: The Charles Sumner District School, Poplar street, Roslindale, intermediate school; Hugh O'Brien Annex, Shirley street, Roxbury, elementary school; High School for Boys, Dunbar avenue, Dorchester; Theodore Lyman School, Gove street, East Boston, elementary school; addition to the Julia Ward Howe School, Dale street, Roxbury; addition to the William L. Garrison School, Hutchins street, Roxbury; addition to the Winship School, Dighton street, Brighton; addition to the Thomas Gardner School, Brentwood street, Brighton.

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

J. P. Dwyer Company have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for piping and other equipment for new boilers at Calf Pasture pumping station, dated March 15, 1923. Items ordered: Place three pairs of 4-inch, 7.5-pound channels, 5 feet, 7 inches long, and two adjusting screws 1 1/2-inch diameter, for supporting steam pipes (see sketch); place additional valves, two 3-inch gate valves, bronze body, one 24-inch globe valve, iron body on water lines; two 24-inch O. S. Y. gate valves on feed pump exhausts; relocate discharge feed lines to fit feed pumps—at an estimated cost of $250. Extra work previously ordered (Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5), $1,825.

M. Dell Russo has been directed to perform the following additional work under contract for laying and relaying water pipes in Canterbury street, West Roxbury; Harvard street, Dorchester; Bostonia avenue, North Crescent circuit and Regent street, Brighton; dated June 23, 1923. Items ordered: Laying 380 feet 8-inch pipe in North Crescent circuit, Brighton, from Regent street to end of street at an estimated cost of $500.

Murray Engineering Company have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for repairing structures at three garbage dumps, dated October 14, 1922. Items ordered: Cut off, refit and bolt about fifteen spur shores at $10 per spur shore; the work to be done at the Albany street dump at an estimated cost of $150.

AUTHORITY TO DO WORK.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Commissioner of Public Works for authority to widen the street at the easterly corner of E. Augustus street and West Eighth street, at St. Augustine's school, with division forces, without advertisement, the estimated cost for labor and material being $1,000. This is an assessable street and can be done as advantageously by day labor methods as any work now necessary.

ABATEMENT OF TAXES.

Mary Frances Roome has agreed to accept the sum of $150 as full payment for all land taken from, all rights acquired in and all damages occasioned to her estate on Hyde Park avenue by the widening of Hyde Park avenue under the order of the Board of Street Commissioners of October 24, 1916, it being agreed that assessments upon said estate in the amounts, $100.26 (lot 162) and $100 (lot 163) and $100.26 (lot 164), for the making of said improvement shall be abated in full.

281 BUILDINGS HOUSE BOSTON'S SCHOOL ARMY, WITH A SEAT FOR EACH CHILD.

Boston's entire school population of more than 125,000 were able to attend full time when the schools reopened Wednesday, except in the Dorchester and East Boston High Schools, where 15 per cent attend on the two-platoon system. There is a seat for every child, with these exceptions. For the first time in eight years, no new portable schools have been erected.

Six new buildings, with fifty-six classrooms and accommodations for 2,240 pupils, opened their doors for the first time and eight others are under construction and will soon be ready for occupancy. Plans for sixteen more are being drawn and contracts for their construction will be awarded at the rate of one every month, through the cooperation of the Mayor and the School Committee, until the program is completed and Boston's school property will reach a valuation of $47,000,000. There are now 281 buildings in use.

The number of pupils per classroom, formerly as high as sixty, has been reduced to forty, and in the high schools to thirty-six.

Every school in the city has had some repairs during the vacation season, and the total expenditure has been $1,200,000.

The six new buildings opened for the first time were:

The Theodore Roosevelt School, School street, Eggleston square, intermediate school; William McKinley School, St. Mary's street, Back Bay, elementary school; Theodore Parker School, Church and Centre streets, West Roxbury, elementary school; Dorchester Center School, Park street, special school; Andrew Jackson School, Armington street, Brighton, elementary school; John L. HYDE PARK CITIZENS JUBILATE OVER MAYOR'S SUCCESSFUL FARE FIGHT.

Mayor Curley was feted royally last Friday night, August 31, by Hyde Park citizens when he joined their celebration of victory in the twenty-year battle for a single fare between Hyde Park and the city proper. The first car of the Boston Elevated Railway Company to run in the district, with Mayor Curley, Chairman James F. Jackson of the Boston Elevated Board of Trustees and other notables on board, passed along Hyde Park avenue from the old Hyde Park line to Cleary square, carrying its passengers to the formal exercises in the Hyde Park Municipal Building.

Thousands of persons lined the streets, red fire was burned everywhere, and houses along the route were brilliantly illuminated. The Municipal Building was crowded to overflow. The Mayor was obliged to address an overflow gathering of more than 5,000 outside of the building.

When the Mayor and his party arrived at the Hyde Park line, where they were supposed to board the first of two special cars awaiting them, they were invited by members of the Cecil W. Fogg Post Band of Hyde Park, American Legion, to ride with them upon an open flat car, which preceded the two special closed cars.

The Mayor immediately accepted the invitation, and, accompanied by Chairman Jackson, Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn, Col. Thomas F. Sullivan, chairman of the Boston Transit Commission; City Councilor James Moriarty, City Treasurer John J. Curley, Representative Frank B. Phinney, President F. Peter McGrath of the Hyde Park Board of Trade, ex-Representative David M. Murray and Edwin C. Jenney, rode into Hyde Park with the band. The two special cars followed filled with members of the Hyde Park Citizens' Committee and representatives of various civic and fraternal organizations.

At the Municipal Building, President McGrath of the Board of Trade opened the meeting with an address of welcome, introducing ex-Representative Murray as the presiding officer. Mr. Murray, who, twenty years ago, filed the first bill demanding a single unit of fare for Hyde Park, aroused much enthusiasm by remarking that the Democrats were prepared to make Mayor Curley the next Governor of Massachusetts. This statement was received with cheers.

Addresses were made by Mayor Curley, Chairman Jackson and Representative Phinney, after which the Mayor was presented a gold-headed silk umbrella, inscribed "To Hon. James M. Curley, from Hyde Park's Citizens, August 31, 1923." The presentation was made by Mr. Jenney.

The Mayor then presented President McGrath, in behalf of the Board of Trade, the framed quill with which he signed the order on August 28, giving the single fare to Hyde Park. Mr. Phinney then presented Mr. McGrath the quill used by Governor Cox in signing the bill permitting the City of Boston to purchase the Hyde Park lines of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company and release them to the Elevated.

The Hyde Park Aerie of Eagles orchestra played at the exercises and Miss Agnes R. Fulton and Miss Teresa Nelson sang a song dedicated to the Mayor, entitled "Curley Is Your Friend."

MEDICAL EXPERTS OF WORLD TO VISIT BOSTON AT HEALTH SHOW.

Boston is preparing to entertain the biggest health show ever presented to the public in New England. The Boston Health Department, the Massachusetts Department of Public Health and the Boston Health Exhibit Committee will have it in charge. It will open October 6 in Mechanics Hall and will continue through October 13.

One of the most constructive features will be the examination, free of charge, of children and adults by Boston's most famous physicians and surgeons. Seventy-five children a day are to be given an absolutely free examination.

Applications for such an examination are now being received by the City Commissioner of Health in the City Hall Annex. When the application is made, an appointment hour will be given the applicant.

Then all the applicant need do is to present himself or herself at the Boston Health Show clinic on the day and hour mentioned, and the doctors and surgeons will do the rest.

Boston's medical organizations are behind the exposition. Other agencies are the Suffolk County Medical Society, the Norfolk County Medical Society, the Massachusetts Homoeopathic Medical Society and the New England Pediatric Society. The beneficiaries will be the Boston Health League, Inc., and the New England Health Institute.

Many educational exhibits will be shown, as the show is to be "not a disease show but a real show."

To show how environment aids health there will be an exhibit by the City Planning Board and other exhibits showing housing, sanitary engineering, ventilation, food inspection and adulteration, and milk inspection.

The idea of the health show is to promote health and community welfare, and with this in mind the health departments of the City of Boston and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts have prepared special educational displays for the exposition.

Among these are a large number of ingenious mechanical devices, which are attractive and highly effective in teaching important health lessons. There will be no gruesome or offensive displays.

Each day there will be a program of popular events. A health pageant written especially for this occasion, demonstrations of physical culture, gymnastic and aesthetic dancing, athletic contests, life saving demonstrations, a better baby contest, music, public dancing and motion pictures are among the attractions to be offered.

Plans for swimming and diving contests are now being prepared and numerous other features are under consideration.

Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, Commissioner of the Boston Health Department, is chairman of the executive committee. Serving with him are Dr. Eugene R. Kelly, Commissioner of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health; Henry Copley Greene, executive secretary of the Health Service, Metropolitan Chapter of the American Red Cross; Dr. Lila Owen Burbank, vice chairman Health Exhibit Committee, and Miss Mary Beard, chairman of the Health Exhibit committee.

On the board of control are Robert W. Kelso, executive secretary Boston Council of Social Agencies; Dr. Mary R. Lake-man, William D. Brown, Girl Scouts; Dr. William W. Howell, Norfolk County Medical Society; Miss Mabel R. Wilson, Children's Hospital Social Service; Miss Ruth Page Sweet, Y. W. C. A.; Donald North, Boy Scouts; Dr. Samuel Clement, Homoeopathic Medical Society; Horace Morrison, Boston Health League; G. H. Roehrig, Y. M. C. A.; Mrs. Eva Whiting White, Community Service, and Dr. Robert H. Vose, Suffolk County Medical Society.

Dr. Lila Owen Burbank is chairman of the program committee, which has many subcommittees.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACT.

Timothy Coughlin has been granted extension of time for completion of the contract for building sewerage works in Warren avenue, from existing sewer 170 feet northwest of Summit street about 90 feet southeasterly, and in Wilton street, from 235 feet southeast of Hyde Park avenue about 150 feet southeasterly. Hyde Park, from September 1, 1923, to September 27, 1923—26 days, occasioned by the fact that hard rock was encountered in the bottom of the deep cut, taking longer to do the work than was anticipated.

C. Russo has been granted an extension of time for completion of contract for building sewerage works in Fremont place and Fremont place extension, from existing sewer 150 feet northeasterly, Dorchester, from September 1, 1923, to September 15, 1923—fourteen days, occasioned by the fact that the difficult nature of the work took longer than was anticipated.

PLANS FOR AIRPORT'S DEDICATION COMPLETED.

Elaborate plans have been made for the opening of Boston's airport at East Boston September 8.

There will be many flying events and a great number of machines from the army, the navy and the Postoffice Department, as well as commercial machines, will take part.

Following is a tentative program of events prepared by the committee:

9-11 a. m.—Exhibition of planes and test flying.

11 a. m.—Formation flying by army planes from Boston and Mitchell Field, New York, and navy scouting and torpedo planes from the Aircraft Squadron, Atlantic Fleet, and Aircraft Carrier Langley.

12-2 p. m.—Exhibition of all types of planes, with competent guides in attendance to describe construction and use of each type.

2 p. m.—Racing program starts, with duplication of famous Boston Light flight. Course: Airport to Squantum, to Boston Light, to Airport.

2:30 p. m.—Mystery race, for commercial and visiting airplanes.

3:15 p. m.—Demonstration flight of bombers, United States air mail planes, etc.

3:30 p. m.—Formation and exhibition flying of navy planes from Aircraft Squadron, Atlantic Fleet, and Aircraft Carrier Langley.

4:30 p. m.—Finish of four-city race.

ANSWERS REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE.

MAYOR CURLEY SETS ORGANIZATION RIGHT ON MATTER OF FINANCES OF CITY AND USE OF FUND BEING HELD IN RESERVE.

Mayor Curley today sent the following communication to Mr. William E. Chamberlain, Secretary of the Boston Real Estate Exchange, relative to tax levy of the City of Boston:

I am duly in receipt of your letter of the 4th instant supplemented by a statement of the directors of the Boston Real Estate Exchange, and approved at the September meeting of the organization, relative to the tax levy of the City of Boston.

Replying thereto, I beg to advise that over a long period of years the financial officers of the City of Boston have taken just pride in the financial reputation of the city, which has been clearly indicated through the flotation of its various bond issues. Any public statements that may tend to destroy this reputation are unfortunate, particularly when the matters discussed in such statements are not based on ascertainable facts.

I regret to advise that the communication of the Boston Real Estate Exchange is inaccurate concerning the finances of the City of Boston. The statement that "at the beginning of the present fiscal year, all the debts of the City of Boston, except funded indebtedness, had been paid" is entirely misleading, for the reason that there was at the time mentioned, a cash deficit of $792,664.36, which was certainly a lien upon the taxes to be collected during the year. The statement that $3,828,425 of back taxes had been collected up to August 1, is also misleading, because it includes interest on taxes of $168,975.22 which could not possibly be used, as this amount is part of the $500,000 interest estimated upon which the appropriations of the year were based, and to use it as suggested, would be to use the same amount twice.

I desire to particularly emphasize the fact that there is no present intent to accumulate in the treasury of the city any amount of money differing from the practice of previous years. It should be clearly remembered that the cash surplus or deficit existing at the end of a financial year is always carefully computed, and in those years when a cash surplus exists, it is available for additional appropriating power to the amount authorized under the tax limit. The amount of free cash at the end of each financial year is always deducted from the amount required to be raised by taxation.

The amount of old taxes collected from February 1 each year is available for cash payments during the year, and again enters into the determination of the cash surplus or deficit at the end of that year. As I clearly brought out in my answer to the chairman of the Finance Commission, if all the taxes levied in a year were collected before the end of that year, there would be no need of using the old collections, as is the custom at present. The experience of the city has been that several millions of the current tax levy remain uncollected at the end of the year, and therefore to take care of necessary payments for the liabilities incurred during the year, it is necessary to make use of old and current taxes for the payment of these liabilities.

To follow the suggestion of the Boston Real Estate Exchange, the city would be obliged at the end of each year to borrow, in anticipation of taxes, several millions of dollars, upon which interest would be paid, resulting possibly, in the situation in which some of our municipalities find themselves, of not being able to pay off their temporary loans within a year. This is indicated by legislation, which one city found necessary to seek this year, in order to refund or extend the repayment of temporary loans as far back as the year 1917. The policy of the city in effect for these many years, and in effect this year, is in accord with sound financial theory.

In passing, it might well be assumed, that if there was an amount available for the reduction of taxes, I would be the first to seek a lower rate by the use of any available funds. While the law provides that the estimated income, other than taxes, may be used by the assessors in the determination of the rate, it may be interesting to know that the amounts received from the Boston Elevated Railway during the past two years, being in the nature of unestimated revenue; have both been available to the assessors for the reduction of taxes, thus clearly showing the intention of the administration to make available any possible amounts for the reduction of the tax rate.

In conclusion, it should be stated that this whole matter concerning the use of old taxes was thoroughly considered by the State Committee on Municipal Finance in hearings held upon House Bill No. 860, presented by the chairman of the Finance Commission, during the early part of this year. As a result, the committee voted "leave to withdraw" on the bill submitted, clearly indicating that they were entirely satisfied with the conduct of the finances of the city.

Should you desire any further information concerning the financial affairs of the city, I know that Mr. Rupert S. Carven, the City Auditor, would deem it a pleasure to confer with you.

MAYOR PRAISES FIREMEN AT NAMING OF BOATS.

More than three thousand firemen and friends were guests of the Metropolitan Firemen's Post of the American Legion at the station of Fireboat 44, Northern Avenue Bridge, Monday afternoon, for the ceremonies attending the naming of the three fireboats in the Boston Fire Department, after members of the department, who died in service during the World War.

Music was furnished by an army band and a squad from the United States navy fired three volleys over the three boats after relatives of the men from whom they were named unveiled bronze tablets mounted on the pilot houses.

The oldest boat in the service, which for many years has been known as Engine 31, was christened the "Thomas A. Ring." Engine 44 became the "Angus J. McDonald," and Engine 47 was named the "Thomas P. Dowd." Margaret Ring, a goddaughter, pulled the string for the unveiling of the tablet on Engine 31; Mrs. Sarah McDonald, mother of the hero, acted on Engine 44, and Miss Mary Moran, a niece, acted for the Dowd family on Engine 47.

Coleman C. Curran of Ladder 4, commander of the Metropolitan Firemen's Post of the American Legion, was master of ceremonies and, with Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn, led the parade to the station. Mr. Curran also introduced the speakers and led in the prayer.

Mayor Curley, the first speaker introduced, said in part:

"The names of John P. Dowd, Angus J. McDonald and Thomas A. Ring shall be recognized as meaning service and should be a stimulant for men to perform more patriotic and heroic service, if such is possible. It is impossible to allay the grief of the relatives of these heroes, but we will perpetuate their memories.

"The war in which these men gave up their lives was for the purpose of bringing world peace, but here we have in less than five years after its end Greece and Italy in the throes of war and the rest of Europe on the verge, with nobody knowing what the boundaries will be.

"Today throughout this broad land of ours propagandists are at work appealing for pacifism, but we owe it to the flag that America never become a pacifist nation, but be prepared at all times to protect the flag and those under it, and each and every one of us should do our part, no matter how small, to make the United States supreme on water and in the air."

Commissioner Glynn said he felt sure that the crews of these boats every time they left their docks would feel inspired to do their utmost in keeping up the reputation made by the Boston Fire Department of "100 per cent service."

Others who spoke were Acting Chief of Department Daniel F. Sennott, Lieut. J. P. Brown of the headquarters staff of the 1st Naval District, and John Reth, first vice commander of the Massachusetts State Branch of the American Legion.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACT.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Water Service).

John Williams & Co. have been granted an extension of time for the completion of the contract for laying and replacing water pipes in Almont street, Canaan street, Colorado street, Currier street, Hobron street, Kennebec street and Mattapan street, Dorchester, and Ainsworth street, Harrison street, Maynard street, Metropolitan avenue, South street and Wright road, West Roxbury, dated May 31, from August 18, 1923, to October 20, 1923, for the reason that the contractor was delayed by ledge excavation.

CLAIMS.

The Mayor, upon the indorsement of the Corporation Counsel, has approved the following claims:

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

WARNS AGAINST THOSE WHO WOULD SOW SEED OF PERNICIOUS DOCTRINES AGAINST AMERICA.

MAYOR CURLEY DELIVERS MEMORABLE ADDRESS AT THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE FOUNDING OF HOLYOKE, SATURDAY AFTERNOON, SEPTEMBER 1, EXTOLLING VIRTUES OF THAT MUNICIPALITY.

Mayor Curley delivered the following address at the celebration of the founding of Holyoke:

Fifty years ago Holyoke, a town incorporated in 1850, was chartered as a city; and the intervening years have been full of that initiative and accomplishment and throbbing with that energy and courage that have made it one of the most progressive and prosperous industrial communities in New England.

The growth and development of this city, named for Elizur Holyoke, from the loneliness of the wilderness to the home of 70,000 happy workers constitute a chapter of history that is an epic of courage and resolution. It is the story of the men and women who braved the terror and savagery of the forest and frontier of the seventeenth century and of their children and the home-seekers who came after them. It is the story of the men of vision who visualized the powers and possibilities of the tremendous falls that thundered amid the hills and woods and whose waters ran untrammelled to the sea.

It is the story of those who saw the hamlet grow into a village; and the village blossom into a town; and whose faith and patience saw in their mind's eye the hour when foresight, knowledge, science and capital would combine to harness the roaring cataract, put it to work for the use of man, and repeat here in the shadow of Hoosac's forests the industrial miracle that had filled the Merrimac Valley with cities and mills and homes.

The simple savage who roamed the wilderness that was here in remote years, stood on the banks of the river, and trembled in the presence of the mystery and beauty of the great cataract, to him the visible sign of an invisible spirit; the hunter, trapper and farmer of colonial days may have dreamed dimly of the possibilities and potentialities of what to him was a physical obstacle to trade and travel; and it remained for the enterprise and audacity of the modern Yankee to capture and harness the spirit the Indian saw in the foaming flood and materialize the dream of the colonist; and today the name of Holyoke and the industries that name connotes are known all round the earth.

Holyoke by reason of its major industry is known as the "Paper City," a name of honor and a title of significance in this age of paper, for here, while yet a village, Joseph C. Parsons built and operated the first paper mill of Holyoke.

From that distant day when the first Egyptian took the papyrus leaf and made it over into a material that he called paper, until this hour when Holyoke is turning out its enormous tonnage, paper has been one of the most potent agencies in the progress of civilization. Paper has preserved the thought and registered the libraries of every other race and has placed in the hands of the school boy of 1923 the teaching and philosophy of scholars and sages who were the glory of empires that have perished and civilizations that have vanished.

It has enabled the ends of the earth to hold communion with each other; it has become the handmaid of commerce, banishing barter, building and buttressing banking, simplifying trade and exchange, and making its name the synonym of credit, which is the spokesman of confidence, which is the corner stone of every vital transaction of modern life and the foundation stone of that human amity and intercourse we call civilization. Paper is the first aid to education, knowledge and the distribution of intelligence, and united with the printing press it has disseminated the influences and propagated the agencies that have made human freedom possible, and the establishment of government of the people, for the people an accomplished fact.

Paper is the shield and buckler of the peace, progress and prosperity of human society and it has achieved more victories than all the swords of all the conquerors of all the ages and has accomplished more for human good than any one other product of human activity.

This is no mean city, and Holyoke has achieved no mean honor when it is heralded to the world at large as "The Paper City."

Holyoke has other industries and other claims to honorable distinction; yet to build up a busy city of homes and activities such as this, to provide work and wage and hope and happiness for 70,000 men, women and children, might be boast enough for any American community.

Because much has been given in Holyoke much is expected from her in duty and responsibility; and the call to guard what you have and hold by loyalty to our country and its institutions is always insistent. In the past Holyoke has shown its fidelity to the principles and practices of true Americanism and its sons have answered to call of the country in every crisis, and at no time in the history of this happy land has Berkshire failed to sacrifice its best and its bravest for the preservation of the government that Washington founded, Jackson defended and Lincoln saved.

Today I bring to you the felicitations and good wishes of the capital city of the Commonwealth. Today as in the days of your upbuilding and expansion the citizens of Boston are keenly interested in your progress and prosperity; for our welfare is interlocked with yours today as always. Guard well the sources of your industrial life, the activities upon which the homes and happiness of your workers are founded, and guard well the greater and nobler thing within your gates, the humanity of Holyoke. In proportion as your man power is conserved and the peace and contentment of your people is maintained so will Holyoke grow and prosper. Guard well your law and legislation. Heed not the whispers of fancy and the counsels of false prophets, that seek to lead the nation out into the entanglements of internationalism and the dangers of an illusory humanitarianism.

Stick to the broad, straight road of Americanism whose precept and practice have made Holyoke and America what they are today. When the new men with their new doctrines come preaching, show them Holyoke and its industrial triumphs, its happy homes and contented people. Point out to them the parks and lawns, the schools and churches, and the places of beauty that once were the savage wilderness, and say to them, "These are the fruitage of the seeds planted by Washington and founders of this republic, the proofs of the wisdom of their teaching. These are the evidences of the patience and sagacity, the courage and sacrifice of Lincoln, whose preservation of the Union made them possible. What they taught and wrought made Holyoke possible. We will not hear you nor hearken to the counsels that might lead us back once more to the wilderness."

As President Coolidge said so wisely in other days, "Have faith in Massachusetts." Have faith in the teachings and principles that made her and America. They are as true and as precious today as always.

Time cannot wither nor custom stale their infinite variety and value to Americans.

EXAMINATIONS FOR LIBRARY WORK.

Three examinations will be held during the month of September, on the special libraries floor of the Boston Public Library, as follows:

(a.) On Saturday, September 15, at 9 a. m., an examination for persons desiring employment as "extra" assistants on part time in the Central Library and its branches. This examination will consist of general questions designed to test the intelligence and other mental qualities of the applicant; it will occupy three hours and will be open to persons who have successfully completed at least one year in high school, and are continuing their studies. Those who pass the examination will be eligible for appointment as "extra" assistants, with working hours in the afternoon and evening of week days, on Sunday, and during school vacations.

(b.) On Saturday, September 22, an examination for persons of high school education who have not yet qualified in Grade C of the library service. The examination will be divided into two parts: The first, consisting of general questions, at 9 a. m. (three hours allowed), the second consisting of languages, at 2 p. m. (one hour allowed). Those who pass the general questions and one language will become eligible for appointment to library positions of Grade C. The languages submitted for choice will be French, Italian, Spanish, German and Latin.

(c.) On Saturday, September 22, at 9 a. m., an examination for the position of branch librarian, of a and b grades. This examination for which three hours will be allowed, will be open to those who have already passed a Grade B examination with two languages.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 65.

I. MOTOR APPARATUS.

On August 20, 1923, a new American LaFrance type 14 city service ladder truck, fully equipped, was placed in service in the quarters of Ladder Company 23, replacing a horse-drawn truck and three horses.

The old apparatus was placed in reserve and the horses sent to the Veterinary Hospital.

II. DEDICATION OF FIREBOATS.

On Monday, September 3, 1923, at 3 p. m., the three fireboats of the Boston Fire Department will be dedicated to the memory of three members of this department who died during the World War. The exercises will take place at the fire station of Engine Company 44, Northern Avenue Bridge, and will be preceded by a parade starting at the corner of Broad and High streets, at 2:30 p. m.

All members of the department on day off or vacation are invited to participate in the parade and exercises. Members who desire to participate in this event will report to Coleman C. Curran of Ladder Company 4 at the corner of Broad and High streets, at 2:30 p. m. The regulation uniform with white gloves will be worn. War service and organization badges may be worn side of the corporation badge.

III. TRANSFERS.

The following transfers are hereby announced to take effect at 9 a. m., Monday, September 3, 1923:

Charles Connors, from Engine 22 to Engine 3.

Edmund T. Bowler, from Engine 3 to Engine 43.

John J. Frazier, from Engine 43 to Engine 22.

Joseph F. Wallace, from Engine 50 to Engine 9.

Daniel J. Foley, from Engine 9 to Engine 50.

IV. FIRE ALARM BOX CHANGES.

The following changes which have been made in fire alarm boxes are hereby announced for the information of the department:

Box 452, formerly located on Medford street, opposite Mystic street, has been moved to Medford and Pearl streets.

Box 1446, formerly located in the building of A. Shuman Company, has been permanently discontinued.

V. OFFICERS' WINTER CAPS.

Hereafter chin straps on all officers' winter caps, other than chief officers, will be one half inch in width instead of three eighths of an inch. The chin strap on chief officers' caps will remain at one half inch.

By order of Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn.

DANIEL F. SENNOTT,
Acting Chief of Department.

General Order No. 67.

ANNUAL DRILL AND INSPECTION.

The annual drill and inspection of the various companies of the department will commence on Friday, September 7, 1923, at headquarters yard, Bristol street.

The drills will start with the Third Division and continue with the First and Second Divisions.

There will be two drills daily, namely, at 10:30 a. m. and 3:30 p. m.

Deputy chiefs will attend the drills of the companies of their respective districts, and will respond to fires from the headquarters yard.

The evolutions will be similar to those of last year. The company commander will give the commands for each evolution.

Deputy chiefs will designate the companies to report at headquarters yard, without apparatus, and will arrange to cover absent companies by details from their respective divisions.

A department automobile will be provided to convey members to and from headquarters yard.

By order of Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn.

JOHN O. TABER,
Chief of Department.

LABOR BUREAU REPORT.

The records of the Massachusetts Public Employment Office for the month of August show a slight falling off in the number of people wanted by employers from the previous month, while there was a decided gain in the number of positions reported filled.

The figures for August show that 1,431 persons were called for by employers, a decrease of 67, or 5 per cent, from July and a decrease of 69, or 5 per cent, from August a year ago.

The number of positions reported filled was 1,148, an increase of 138, or 14 per cent, over July and an increase of 113, or 11 per cent, over August a year ago. The attendance of applicants for employment shows an increase of 3 per cent over the previous month and an increase of 16 per cent over August a year ago.

During the month 941 service men (628 soldiers and 313 sailors) visited the office and of this number, 98 (68 soldiers and 30 sailors) were referred to firms and 90 (65 soldiers and 25 sailors) secured employment.

The men's skilled department records show that business in all lines of industry has slowed up somewhat. The building industry has been very quiet, with an occasional call for painters and carpenters and a fair supply of applicants for employment on hand. Business in the metal trades has been dull also, with a good supply of applicants for this kind of work.

In the men's unskilled department the heavy call for able-bodied laborers has fallen off considerably, with few applicants for such employment calling at the office. There has been a fair demand for culinary workers, with a small supply of competent men looking for this work.

The opening of the schools and colleges after the summer vacations has resulted in heavy calls for boys for errands, office and factory work, with only a fair supply of boys willing to accept positions at the prices offered.

Work in the women's departments has been very scarce. There has been some demand from candy manufacturers but the supply of experienced help is very small, making it difficult to fill the orders received in this line. There has been some activity in the clothing industry which has been easily met. Housework girls continue to be scarce and the demand is far in excess of the supply.

The number of people called for by employers was 1,431 as compared with 1,500 in 1922; 1,343 in 1921; 2,729 in 1920 and 1,844 in 1919.

The number of positions reported filled was 1,148 as compared with 1,035 in 1922; 976 in 1921; 1,461 in 1920, and 1,211 in 1919.

HALTS RENT GOUGING IN HYDE PARK BY SPECULATORS.

Rent gouging in Hyde Park, based on the inauguration of the single fare last week, was reported to Mayor Curley and he took vigorous measures, including criminal prosecution, to stop such practice.

The information came to the Mayor in a letter signed "five Hyde Park families." The letter said that "tenants are being threatened with rent increases by property owners who have not raised their hands nor spent a penny to bring about the improvement you (Mayor Curley) have brought to a successful conclusion."

"I am personally aware," the writer of the letter says, "that there are four cases where rent payers, fathers of families whose working places are in Boston proper, have been notified that on September 1 their rent will be raised from $3 to $5 a month. The reduction in car fare of these men will be the saving of bus fare, 60 cents a week, or about $2.50 a month, and the increase of rent of $5 a month means a net loss to them of $2.50 a month."

Mayor Curley immediately sent a letter to Herbert A. Ellis, chairman of the Rent and Housing Committee, in which he said: "I am in receipt of a letter from residents of Hyde Park, who are fearful that the adoption of the single fare in the Hyde Park district will be used as a pretext for really owners to advance rents. Personally I know of no reason why this method of gouging tenants should be permitted. You are instructed not only to place the staff of your department at work investigating the proposed increases, but you are at liberty to inform the Corporation Council that I am desirous that the aid of the Law Department be invoked for criminal prosecution of any landlord guilty of extortion in the matter of rentals."

OFFERS FUEL AID.

Mayor Curley has received the following letter, offering aid in a fuel crisis:

HENSHAW MOTOR COMPANY,
909 COMMONWEALTH AVENUE,
Boston, August 29, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR MAYOR CURLEY,—Last winter, under your sponsor and direction, we were able to arrange for the distribution of several carloads of wood during the fuel shortage.

This year the shortage threatens to be as fully acute, and if it meets with your approval we would like, on the behalf of a number of truck owners and operators, to offer to transport and deliver to central points which you may designate a supply of both coal and wood for free distribution to the poor.

It would seem that the right time would be before November 30 and after October 20, preferably some time around Thanksgiving.

All advertising matter would be eliminated, excepting of course the standard permanent signs of truck owners which bear their names.

If it is agreeable to you to sponsor another distribution of this sort, will you be kind enough to let us know?

Yours very truly,

HENSHAW MOTOR COMPANY,
R. S. RICHEY.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT OR "GREATER BOSTON," 1922.

Consists in the most inclusive sense of 40 municipalities, including Boston, or 14 cities and 26 towns, all within 15 miles of the State House. The 7 cities in the first zone, i. e., adjacent to Boston, are these, viz., Cambridge, Chelsea, Everett, Newton, Quincy, Revere and Somerville; the 6 cities in the second zone, not adjacent, are Lynn, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Waltham and Woburn. The 6 adjacent towns are Brookline, Dedham, Milton, Needham, Watertown and Winthrop; the 20 other towns are Arlington, Belmont, Braintree, Canton, Cohasset, Dover, Hingham, Hull, Lexington, Nahant, Reading, Saugus, Stoughton, Swampscott, Wakefield, Wellesley, Weston, Westwood, Weymouth and Winchester.

North and northwest of Boston are situated 11 of the cities and 12 of the towns; south and southwest, 2 cities and 14 towns. Area of Northern Division, 150.8 square miles and population in 1920, 699,685, or a density of 4,619 per square mile; Southern Division, 214.8 square miles and 211,191 population, or density of only 983 per square mile; in the whole Metropolitan District, 4,051 per square mile. In percentages Boston shows 10.5 per cent of District's area and 45.09 per cent of population; Northern Division, 36.2 of area and 42.18 of population; Southern Division, 53.3 of area and 12.73 of population. In the period 1915-1920, increase of population 34,798 larger in Northern than in Southern Division.

Total land area of District, 409.5 square miles; population by census of 1920, 1,658,936 or 4.08 per cent increase over that of 1915. Corrected population for 1920 (Boston's total increased by 54,808) 1,713,744. Of the total population of the State "Greater Boston" has 44.48 per cent; of total valuation, 51.11 per cent; of total value of manufactures, 32.53 per cent.

Total valuation of taxable property in District on April 1, 1922, $2,919,179,075, which exceeds the 1921 valuation by $114,300,660, a gain of 4.07 per cent. Of said total 57.47 per cent was in Boston and 42.53 per cent outside.

The four organized Metropolitan Districts existing for the purpose of constructing and maintaining certain extensive systems of public works under State control are as follows: Metropolitan Park District, established by chapter 407, Acts of 1893, including all the cities and towns except Lexington, and managed by a State Board of five commissioners; Metropolitan Water District, established by chapter 488, Acts of 1895, including 10 cities and 9 towns, and covering an area of 175 square miles; Metropolitan Sewerage District, established by chapter 439, Acts of 1889, consisting of the North System and South System, including 17 cities and towns in the former system and 8 in the latter, and covering an area of 225 square miles; the last two districts managed by a single State board of three commissioners; Charles River Basin District, established by chapter 465, Acts of 1903, including all the cities and towns except Cohasset and Lexington, and in charge of the Metropolitan Park Commission. By Chapter 350, General Acts of 1919, the two Metropolitan boards were abolished and a single Metropolitan Commission of five members was established.

Another Metropolitan District, viz.,

the Fire Prevention District, was organized in 1914 by the enactment of chapter 795. In this district are the 14 cities of "Greater Boston," but only 10 of the towns, to which were added Reading and Rockland, a total of 25 municipalities. The District is in charge of a single commissioner, assisted by a deputy commissioner, both appointed for a term of three years. This office was also abolished by said Chapter 350, the work of same being transferred to Department of Public Safety.

Total gross Metropolitan debt for water, parks, sewers and Charles River Basin improvements on July 1, 1922, $77,599,512; sinking funds, $31,419,635; net debt, $46,179,877 or $1,649,011 less than in 1921. This net debt is divided thus: Water supply, $24,514,519; sewers, $11,265,640; parks, boulevards, etc., $7,351,353; Charles River Basin, $3,081,355.

Of 1922 tax rates, the highest of the cities was Quincy's ($36.20) and the highest among the towns, that of Saugus ($38.00); the lowest among the cities was Boston's ($24.70) and among the towns, that of Weston ($18.90). Mean tax rate of the 13 cities in the District outside of Boston, $32.48 or $1.00 more than in 1921 and $3.38 more than in 1920. Mean tax rate of the 26 towns, $27.72 or $1.16 more than in 1921, and $3.11 more than in 1920.

There were in the District in 1920, 4,471 manufacturing establishments, value of product, $1,421,528,434; capital invested, $846,928,136; value of stock and materials used, $814,021,722; total wages paid $266,902,177; average number of wage earners, 207,066. Rank, 1 to 12 in value of products; (1) Boston, $674,344,180; (2) Cambridge, $156,430,827; (3) Lynn, $143,039,476; (4) Somerville, $81,605,860; (5) Watertown, $56,665,659; (6) Everett, $53,106,185; (7) Quincy, $41,241,061; (8) Chelsea, $36,412,602; (9) Malden, $32,326,117; (10) Waltham, $23,895,120; (11) Weymouth, $21,822,189; (12) Newton, $16,295,778. Boston's total product value was 47.44 per cent of the Metropolitan District's.

STANDARDIZING BOSTON'S ELEMENTARY SCHOOLHOUSES BY MAYOR CURLEY'S PLAN WELL UNDER WAY.

NEW DEPARTURE IN SCHOOLHOUSE BUILDING WILL SAVE CITY'S TAXPAYERS BIG SUMS BY DEFINITE MODELS ALLOWING FOR EXPANSION AS DISTRICTS GROW AND NEEDS INCREASE.

PLANS AND DRAWINGS SHOWING BOSTON'S STANDARDIZED ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS, THE FIRST OF WHICH IS TO BE BUILT IN GERMANTOWN SECTION—WILL SAVE CITY MUCH MONEY.

A new departure in schoolhouse architecture is being worked up under a contract awarded by Schoolhouse Commissioner Glynn, after approval by his Honor Mayor Curley who believes the plan will prove a big saving to the taxpayers. Briefly, the scheme is the standardization of small grade schools so that they will be constructed hereafter on a definite model which will allow for logical expansion of the building to meet the requirements of the population of the district. However, the building will be so designed that an unfinished looking exterior will not appear. The architect of the work is William W. Drummey, 80 Boylston street, Boston.

The initial building, the first one to be erected in the near future in Germantown, contains three classrooms, a nurses' room and a kindergarten on the first floor. The kindergarten is so arranged that it is available for the purposes of a small community hall after regular school hours are over. The basement of the initial building will have full provision for all heating and plumbing necessary for the completed building and also a playground for girls, to be used in foul weather. When the first unit is built the second floor will be constructed complete with the exception of the top flooring. Over this will be a temporary roof. The exterior walls will be run to the sill line of the future second-story windows.

The building will be expanded in units of four classrooms, with the necessary service. The first addition will be a second story containing four classrooms and a teachers' room over the first building already described.

The plan is so designed that it is symmetrical about an axis taken through the center of the corridor. For the second addition, the first plan is folded over so that an additional four classrooms and a master's office are constructed over a new basement which contains a boys' playground and additional space for lunchrooms, shops and storage.

The final unit of four rooms, making the building a sixteen-room school with all the necessary service, is constructed in a second story over the second addition. This last addition contains four classrooms and an emergency room.

The exterior will be brick with limestone sills, cornice, entrance, etc., over a granite base course.

The classrooms will conform to the existing standards of the Boston schools. The corridors and stair walls will be fireproofed in every way, but rubber carpeted, which will give the silence and cleanliness so necessary to a schoolhouse.

Several new methods of construction will be used, notably metal lumber instead of wood in the classroom floors and

MUNICIPAL SERVICE.

Complaints, inquiries or suggestions regarding the work of municipal departments should be made in writing to the officials directly in charge. The failure of such officials to make reply within a reasonable length of time should be brought to the attention of the Mayor. Communications should be directed as follows:

To the BOARD OF STREET COMMISSIONERS, Room 401, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the laying out, relocation, widening and the discontinuance of highways; the taking of real property for municipal purposes; the assessments of betterments for streets and sewers; the plotting of undeveloped areas for streets and the opening of private ways; the granting of licenses for the storage or sale of merchandise in public streets; the regulation of street traffic; the making of specific repairs in public streets, the naming of public streets, the planting and removal of trees in public ways, the issuing of licenses for the storage of gasoline, oil and other inflammable substances or explosive compounds, the use of the public ways for any permanent or temporary obstruction or projection in, under or over the same, including the location of conduits, poles and posts for telephone, telegraph, street railway or illuminating purposes, signs, marqueses, bay windows, coal holes and vaults.

To the COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WORKS, Room 511, City Hall Annex, for information as to the watering, cleaning, lighting and repairing of streets, the construction and care of sewers and catch-basins, the operation of the ferries, the maintenance of bridges and drawbridges and the removal of ashes and soil.

To Room 604, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the supplying or metering of water and the water charges of the city.

To the HEALTH DEPARTMENT, Room 1107, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the inspection of milk, vinegar, meat, fish and vegetables, the issuance of permits for stables, slaughter houses, etc., smoke nuisances, the existence of contagious diseases or public health nuisances.

To the BOARD OF PARK COMMISSIONERS, 33 Beacon street, for information as to the care of the Common, Public Garden, Franklin Park, Franklin Field, Commonwealth avenue, Back Bay Fens, Marine Park and the small parks and playgrounds in general throughout the city, and as to the extermination of gypsy moths and the charges made for such service. Application may be made to this department for information regarding the public baths and gymnasiums maintained by the city, and with regard to municipal indoor concerts and band concerts; also information relative to Mount Hope, Evergreen, Fairview and other public cemeteries owned by the City of Boston.

To the SCHOOL COMMITTEE, 15 Beacon street, for information relative to the operation of the schools of the city.

To the SCHOOLHOUSE COMMISSIONERS, Room 1007, City Hall Annex, for information as to the construction and repair of school buildings.

To the BOARD OF EXAMINERS, Room 1001, City Hall Annex, for information regarding the licensing of persons having charge or control of the work of construction, alteration, removal or tearing down of buildings.

To the WIRE DIVISION OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT, Fire Department Headquarters, 60 Bristol street, for all information relative to the erection of poles, the building of conduits, the installation of all overhead and underground construction and electrical apparatus, as well as for general information relative to the entire division. To Room 906, City Hall Annex, for permits for the installing of wires and electrical apparatus within buildings in the City of Boston, and for the payment of fees incident to the granting of the privileges above named, and which must be paid in advance.

lead-lined iron pipe instead of brass for plumbing pipes. These materials will be less costly than those now used and will have a much longer life. In the case of the metal lumber, the fire hazard is brought to a minimum.

The architect has studied extensively the best that is being done in schoolhouse construction throughout the major cities of the West and it is expected that Boston, through the farsightedness of its Mayor and Schoolhouse Commissioners, will profit thereby.

URGES BOSTON AS AIRPORT.

Mayor Curley on Saturday, September 8, sent the following letter to the Postmaster-General of the United States, Washington, D. C.

HON. HARRY C. NEW, Postmaster General, Washington, D. C.:

DEAR SIR.—The United States Post Office Department after months of planning and experimenting has established routes, aeroplane stations, shops and all the necessary equipment for the inauguration and maintenance of an air-mail service, transcontinental in its scope and operation.

I most respectfully suggest that New England and Boston are of first importance in the industrial and commercial life of this republic, that their interests are nation-wide and their contributions to the activity, efficiency and financial status of the Post Office Department are worthy of consideration. I therefore urge upon you and the department the desirability and necessity of including Boston in the new scheme of air-postal service and ask that you give the matter your early consideration.

In this connection I take pleasure in advising you that Boston has today at Jeffries Point, East Boston, established and dedicated an airport, spacious, convenient and adapted to air service of every character, military, naval, commercial mail and transport; and you will find this new public utility a useful adjunct to the air-mail service you are inaugurating and developing.

Trusting you will favor me with an early response and prompt action, I have the honor to remain,

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

AUTHORITY TO DO WORK.

The Mayor has granted the request of the Commissioner of Public Works to remove existing eggstone and repave roadway in Harrison avenue (easterly side) for a distance of about 51 feet south from Exeter place, without advertising, the estimated cost for labor and material being $1,000. This is an assessable street and the work can be done as advantageously by day labor methods as any work now necessary.

CLAIMS DISALLOWED.

The Law Department has disapproved twenty-one claims against the city, aggregating $3,160.09, classified as follows:

Against the Building Department, one, amounting to $13.27; against the Fire Department, one, amounting to $10; against the Park and Recreation Department, two, amounting to $70; against the Police Department, three, amounting to $428.17; against the Public Works Department, ten, amounting to $1,827.50; against the Schoolhouse Department, two, amounting to $545; against the Street Laying-Out Department, one, amounting to $86.15; against the Transit Department, one, amounting to $200.

All these claims have been disapproved for the reason that there appeared to be no legal liability on the part of the city.

DEPARTMENT CHANGES.

The following changes in the number, rating and compensation of city employees have been made during the week ending Thursday, September 13:

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT

Margaret J. Driscoll has been continued in employment as temporary stenographer for a period of 10 days at $4 a day.

MAYOR CURLEY CHALLENGES TO DEBATE HEAD OF MAINE KU KLUX KLAN ORDER.

HURLS BACK AT F. EUGENE FARNSWORTH ATTACK OF ORGANIZATION'S HEAD WHEN "KING KLEAGLE" SINGLES OUT BOSTON'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE FOR VENTING OF SPLEEN OF BIGOTRY.

Mayor Curley issued the following statement in answer to 'Gene Farnsworth of the Ku Klux Klan, who in an address in Maine attacked the Mayor:

It is a far cry from Titus Oates to 'Gene Farnsworth, from the ripest scoundrel of the days of King Charles the Second to the most impudent faker of the America of 1923; yet both of these gentry were occupied in the same game of getting easy money from credulous people and both adopted and used the same game to enrich themselves—the invention of plots against Catholics, the stirring up of religious dissension, the slander and maligning of their neighbors, and furious appeals to Protestants to hate and destroy those whom they charged with seeking to destroy the Protestant religion. The conspiracies and inventions of Titus Oates sent many innocent people to death and prison; the activities of 'Gene Farnsworth are setting neighbors against neighbors, and stirring up conditions that may lead to riots and bloodshed and bring shame to the American name.

Titus Oates, being discovered and exposed, ended on the gallows tree on Tyburn Hill. The probabilities are that Farnsworth will earn a coat of tar and feathers some night, unless some good citizen ends his career by spraying him with insect powder.

In the end the only things that are hurt by these noisy and unscrupulous professional champions of Protestantism are the good name and character of Protestantism.

Some facts concerning the past of this impudent charlatan might be interesting as showing how far an unscrupulous rogue may go in befooling ignorant and credulous people and how easily fantastic fiction can masquerade as religious truth and rank prejudice pass for pure Protestantism.

Farnsworth, who poses as an American and patriot, was born in New Brunswick of poor and humble parents and after he learned to read and write he went down to St. Stephens across the river from Calais, Me., where he got a job as barber's boy in the shop of "Lady" Johnson, a harmless and effeminate shaver. Such learning as he had was supplemented by newspaper reading; he was taught politeness from his master, and acquired speech and sophistication from the shop's patrons, and early learned that while it is wise to work your friends it is folly to labor for them. In his barber days he found a guide, philosopher and friend in Richard K. Fox's "Police Gazette."

He left the barber shops to join the Salvation Army and no one could testify longer or shout louder than Farnsworth, but there was no money in it for him. He then branched out selling stock to gulls that prudent people didn't touch and the law didn't reach; and then in Medford he organized a "movie" concern, that is, he had stock printed, that sold on promises of great wealth and that collapsed to the grief of the dupes who invested in it. Then the barber turned mesmerist and called himself "Professor" and worked the small towns of New England and was doing well feeling the bumps of the bumpkins, until one of the subjects, or victims, of his hypnotism died on his hands. He went back to organizing movies and stung stockholders and magazines, but the worries of the law and the courts convinced him that stock selling and trimming were getting to be hazardous, and observation led him to believe that his long suit was Americanism, patriotism and religion.

He heard the call to action and went to Boston where the good ship "Loyal Coalition," laden with pseudo patriotism, was on the rocks and whose secretary, Telfair Minton, and its treasurer, Joslin, refused to abandon the old bark as long as a dollar remained in the treasury or a dupe on the roll.

The Loyal Coalition had been having a hard time; new dupes were hard to get and the old ones had taken to the woods; the police had locked up and run out of town its officers and spouters, and only Minton and a bad odor remained.

Farnsworth became president and proceeded to denounce and declaim, but as the unfortunates he had stung around Boston began to get busy and Joslin the treasurer hung on to what he had there was mighty poor picking for a professional patriot in the Hub. Moreover the game was overworked and there wasn't enough loose change to go round.

Farnsworth beat it for the woods of Maine and left Flag Flapper Minton and Joslin the stakeholder to work the Loyal Coalition for themselves; it was a squeezed orange. And now the New Brunswick barber, mesmerist, stock pedler, lecturer, fireman, pseudo patriot and bogus American is recruiting sergeant for the Ku Klux Klan, filling the ears of rural Maine with slanders of the good citizens of the Pine Tree State, bringing the blush of shame to the face of decent Protestantism, villifying the officials and government of the state and its cities, and doing his pestilential best to control elections and foment civil war.

Is it any wonder that the religious Americans and Protestants of the State of Maine burn with indignation at the impudence and clamor of this graduate of "Lady" Johnson's New Brunswick barber shop? Think of this noisy, little disturber of the peace of Maine attempting to dictate to the intelligence and culture of a state that still honors the memory of Reed and Hale and a host of worthy sons. Fancy this little Simon Tappertit of New Brunswick trying to rattle around in Tom Reed's shoes and scattering his filthy threats and slanders against the eminent churchmen and leaders of religion in this great American state.

If this scandal is allowed to continue Portland should take down the splendid bronze statue erected to the memory of its great son Tom Reed and throw it into the mud of the harbor. Is it not time for decent Protestantism to put an end to this monstrous thing, born in the ignorance and barbarism of Georgia, and redeem its good name from the shame heaped upon it? Have the manhood and Americanism of Portland and Maine ceased to function? If not let them act and drive this wretched little scoundrel and grafter from the state before his mischievous activities produce evils that it may take years to remedy.

I do not ask Maine to mobilize its militia or Portland to call out its police; I do ask that the State Board of Health abate this nuisance and arrest this immoral and insectiferous plague of vermin infesting the land, when some town constable may be instructed to take Francis Eugene Farnsworth by the scruff of the neck, lead him to the bank of the St. Croix river and kick him back into the underbrush of New Brunswick, whence he sprang.

The cure for Farnsworth and his Ku Klux Klan is a stout boot and a pint of disinfectant. If the State of Maine with its almost a million of inhabitants is willing to be overawed by a noisy band of yaps and ignoramuses, led by a gabby grafter, it should get out of the American Union and sign up with Soviet Russia and Turkey.

The Constitution, with its guaranty of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness without regard to race, creed or color, was drafted and adopted by assemblies, the major portion of whom were of the Protestant faith. It has served the American nation for more than 134 years. Its guaranties have been the magnet through which the pure womanhood and sturdy manhood of substantially every race, creed and clime in the world have been attracted to America. The population has increased from slightly in excess of three millions of souls in 1789 to about 120 millions living under the American flag at the present time.

Since the day when the Constitution was adopted this nation has been involved in wars with Great Britain, with the Indians, with Mexico, its own great Civil War, War with Spain and the World War. In every crisis the people of America without regard to race, creed or color served and sacrificed as members of one large family whose only credentials were character as individuals and loyalty to flag and country as Americans.

These are the only guaranties necessary for the stability, progress and future happiness of America, and he who would impair the most sacred and important fundamental of the American Constitution and who would erect barriers to limit the progress of any woman or man, whether he be Jew or Gentile, black or white, because of the accident of birth which is never within the control of the individual and which invariably determines the religion of the individual, is a menace to free government and should be so regarded by intelligent Americans.

I personally believe that Kleagle Farnsworth is a mountebank of the lowest order and that when the votes are counted in Maine upon Monday that this section of New England, loyal in every crisis in the nation's history, can be depended upon to uphold the form of government under which we live and whose cornerstone Kleague Farnsworth would destroy.

His challenge directed to me I accept as an American and shall be pleased to pay the entire expenses of a joint debate upon the demerits of the foul and un-American cause which he represents in any hall that he may select in Massachusetts.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

Upon September 11 the Mayor approved a contract with the Edison Electric Illuminating Company for furnishing and installing underground conduits and cables to supply electric service to the Columbus Park Bath House, South Boston. A communication from Daniel J. Byrne, secretary of the Park Commission, was as follows:

Boston, September 6, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR:—This Board respectfully asks your authority to award a contract, without advertising, to the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, 39 Boylston street, Boston, for furnishing and installing underground conduits and cable to supply electric service to the Columbus Park Bath House, South Boston, on a cost plus 15 per cent basis, the sum of said contract to amount approximately to about $3,840.63.

The reason for this request is that the work of this kind, which has been done by the Edison Electric Illuminating Company in the past, has been superior to the work done by various contractors under advertised competitive bidding.

In addition to the above, the Edison Company is to furnish the conduit cable and other work in the park roadway to connect with above work, at an estimated expense of $1,881.63.

The Board is very anxious to get this work started and believes that it will be inadvisable to advertise for proposals for this class of work.

Respectfully yours,

DANIEL J. BYRNE,
Secretary.

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

The following additions to and deductions from contracts have been approved:

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

John P. Curley has been allowed to make the following additions and deductions on the work at Engine House 28 in connection with his contract:

Item 1—Reinforcing floor under shower, $26.50. Item 2—Reinforcing floor under dormitories, $60. Item 3—Cutting four granite sills 9 feet 6 inches, $120; cutting two granite sills 4 feet, $35; extra concrete for raising floor 2 feet high on piers and shelves, $37. Item 4—Changing two steel beams from 10-inch I-beams, 25 pounds, to 12-inch I-beams, 31.5 pounds, $15.25; extra handling, $10; cutting timbers, $8.80. Item 5—Making twelve wooden boxes for steam pipes, $12. Total addition, $324.55. Deduction: Concrete in patrol room, $12. Net addition, $312.55. Original contract, $4,999; net addition, $312.55; total contract, $5,311.55.

MAYOR ACTS FOR DORCHESTER TRANSPORTATION CONVENIENCE.

On Monday Mayor Curley sent to the City Council the following statement on Dorchester Tunnel facilities:

Boston, September 10, 1923.

To the City Council:

GENTLEMEN,—The Massachusetts Legislature, session of 1923, adopted an act providing for the extension of rapid transit facilities in the Dorchester district of the City of Boston.

Under the Initiative and Referendum Act it is customary to wait ninety days subsequent to the passage of any legislative act before acting thereunder. The required time having elapsed, it is now within the province of the city government of Boston to accept the act as contained in chapter 480 of the acts of the year 1923.

The acceptance of this act and the extension of rapid transit facilities provided therein mark the termination of a contest waged by the people of Dorchester for a period of nearly twenty years to secure modern transportation facilities. The benefits which should result as a consequence of increased and improved transportation facilities in Dorchester is of such a character that I sincerely trust the City Council in its wisdom will act favorably and without delay upon the adoption of the accompanying order, the acceptance of which is hereby recommended.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

Upon request of the Public Works Department the Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for a public improvement consisting of the laying out and construction of Braden street, West Roxbury district, as a highway, from Washington street to Rosindale brook, bounded and described as follows:

A highway named Braden street is hereby laid out, from Washington street to Rosindale brook.

For the making of the aforesaid improvement an easement for street purposes is taken in the following described land exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto:

A triangular parcel at the easterly end of Braden street now or formerly owned by John A. Havey and Walter C. Richardson, containing three hundred and seventy square feet, more or less.

The land, owners unknown, running from Washington street to Rosindale brook, now known as Braden street.

Said highway is bounded and described as follows:

Northwest by Washington street, forty feet; northeast by the northeasterly line of said Braden street as hereby laid out, by two measurements, eighty-five feet and eight hundred twenty-three and 11-100 feet; southeast by the southeasterly line of said Braden street as hereby laid out, forty-two and 50-100 feet; and southwest by the southwest-erly line of said Braden street as hereby laid out, by two measurements, eight hundred fourteen and 70-100 feet and ninety-one feet.

No betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Voted,—That this Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the making of the public improvement consisting of the laying out of Braden street, West Roxbury, as a highway, from Washington street to Rosindale brook, under the order of the Board of even date herewith, and awards no damages therefor.

DAMAGES AWARDED.

Henry V. Cunningham, attorney for Salvini and Theresa Zarella, has agreed to accept the sum of $7,745.40 as full payment for all land taken from, all rights acquired in and all damages occasioned to their estate on Chelsea street by the relocation of said street under the order of the Board of October 9, 1922; this acceptance is made on the condition that any assessment levied on said estate on account of said improvement shall be assumed by the City of Boston.

BOSTON GETS G. A. R. CONVENTION IN 1924.

Mayor Curley was especially gratified last week to receive a telegram from Hon. E. Mark Sullivan, Corporation Counsel, in Milwaukee, Wis., advising that the members of the Grand Army of the Republic had voted to hold their encampment of 1924 in Boston.

The telegram of Mr. Sullivan was as follows:

September 7, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

Grand Army Convention voted this morning to hold their encampment of 1924 in Boston.

E. MARK SULLIVAN,
Hotel Wisconsin, Milwaukee.

CLAIMS.

The Mayor, upon recommendation of the Corporation Counsel, has approved the following claims:

Old Colony Trust Company, Trustee, 17 Court street, in the sum of $79.20, for refund of assessment on Public Alley No. 818, paid twice.

Hagop H. Paretehanian, 73 Cornhill, in the sum of $165.92, as payment made to the city owing to an error of the City Collector (statement by the Collector).

Peter Pinardi, 426 Frankfort street, East Boston, in the amount of $47.50, for clothing taken from him while he was at the City Hospital, April and May, 1923.

FOR DORCHESTER TUNNEL WORK.

His Honor the Mayor has signed the order providing for rapid transit in the Dorchester section of Boston and forwarded the pen with which the order had been signed to Charles A. Ufford, the father of the project for the extension of rapid transit facilities in the Dorchester section of Boston.

His Honor stated in his communication to Mr. Ufford that unquestionably were it not for Mr. Ufford's persistence and his intelligent direction rapid transit for the Dorchester section might long have been delayed instead of now being absolutely assured.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

The Davis Foundry Company has been given an extension of time for the completion of the contract for furnishing cast-iron special castings for the High Pressure Fire Service from September 1, 1923, to December 1, 1923, due to labor troubles and to difficulty in obtaining raw material.

LAND-TAKING IN EAST BOSTON.

Upon request of the Public Works Department the Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for a public improvement consisting of the laying out and construction of Trumbull street, East Boston district, as a highway, from Saratoga street to Bennington street, with the name of Trident street or some other distinctive name bounded and described as follows:

A highway named Trident street is hereby laid out, from Saratoga street to Bennington street.

Said highway and the land, exclusive of trees or other structures standing upon or affixed thereto, in which an easement for street purposes is hereby taken, is bounded and described as follows:

Northwest by Saratoga street, fifty feet; northeast by the northeasterly line of said Trident street as hereby laid out, two hundred and 90-100 feet; southeast by Bennington street fifty and 1-100 feet; and southwest by the southwesterly line of said Trident street as hereby laid out, two hundred feet.

No betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Voted, That this Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the making of the public improvement consisting of the laying out of Trident street (formerly Trumbull street), East Boston district, as a highway, from Saratoga street to Bennington street, under the order of the Board of even date herewith, and awards no damages therefor.

MAYOR HONORS DEPARTED CITIZEN.

Mayor Curley issued the following department order Thursday, September 13:

To the Heads of Departments:

GENTLEMEN,—The burial of a former president of the Boston Board of Aldermen, Hon. John H. Lee, will take place upon Saturday, September 15, 1923.

A lifetime of honorable and faithful service in behalf of the city and its people merits observance and you are accordingly directed to have the flags upon all city buildings in the control of your department placed at half-mast on Saturday, September 15, 1923.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR CURLEY ANSWERS "KING KLEAGLE" FARNSWORTH OF KU KLUX.

Mayor Curley issued the following in answer to Eugene Farnsworth, kleagle of the Ku Klux Klan at Portland, Me.:

In the matter of "King Kleagle" Farnsworth and his fantastic Ku Klux Klan, I note that he denies his Canadian origin and says he was born in Columbia Falls. He should be able to produce documentary evidence of his American birth if he can, or give the place and date of his American naturalization. His record is such that any statement of his must be supported by evidence.

The record he gives of himself is inaccurate and intended to deceive; and anybody with his record and practices shows much shrewdness in avoiding a debate with anybody. Even the foolish people who tie themselves up with such a mischief-making, anti-American mob as the Ku Klux Klan would hardly stand with a fellow with a past such as Farnsworth has. When he says he never attacked the Catholic religion he is simply telling a barefaced lie. If to attack and malign a man because he is a Catholic is not attacking his religion then language has no meaning.

The mean ingratitude and total lack of patriotism of those who pretended to forget the services during the World War of those specially selected for attack by the Ku Klux Klan show their utter lack of character and intelligence. Where was Farnsworth during the World War? Where were the majority of the Ku Klux Klan then?

This whole cheap and tawdry business of absurd regalias, nocturnal meetings, noisy defiance of authority, threats to the weak and helpless and the slander of people and their most sacred sentiments is utterly repugnant to decent American manhood and fair play. Catholicism and Judaism may be baited by it but they won't be hurt. Protestantism will be the only sufferer from this wretched propaganda of hatred and lawlessness; and it is the duty of self-respecting American Protestants to purge themselves of this stigma cast upon them by this organized mass of ignorance and intolerance led by such discredited mercenaries and mischief makers as this Farnsworth.

Of course this thing will pass, but it will leave behind it a trail of suspicion and distrust that is an evil thing in an American community. It is the duty of Americans to repudiate, reject and destroy Ku Klux Klanism which claims to represent them.

An American LaFrance combination chemical and ladder truck was placed in service in the quarters of Ladder Company 7, Meeting House Hill, replacing a city service ladder truck of another type.

There were 381 repair jobs performed on apparatus by inside shop mechanics, as well as forty-two jobs by the emergency crew. Mechanics other than auto repairers, such as blacksmiths, machinists, woodworkers, etc., performed 385 jobs.

An electrical elevator was placed in service in the headquarters building for the convenience of the public who are obliged to visit this building on matters pertaining to the Fire Department, as well as to make application for wiring permits, gasoline permits, etc. For many years the people who came to this building were obliged to climb three or four flights of stairs. An elevator has been a necessity for some time, but seems to have been lost sight of for some reason or other.

On August 14 the Fire Commissioner received from Mr. Lewis A. Crossett a contribution for $100 in appreciation of the work performed by members of this department at a fire in his residence, 304 Commonwealth avenue, the check being turned over to the Boston Firemen's Relief Fund.

The Fire Commissioner also received a check for $50 from the Factory Mutual Building Association of Boston in appreciation of the work performed by members of this department at a fire in their building on July 28. This check was likewise turned over to the Boston Firemen's Relief Fund.

The department drill school for probationers was completed during the month, and fourteen men in attendance at this school passed all the requirements in a satisfactory manner.

During the month the Wire Division issued 1,766 permits for interior electrical construction and fees amounting to $6,338.87 were collected for same.

Seventy-four grants for underground conduits were passed and plans were approved for same.

Yours very truly,

THEODORE A. GLYNN,
Fire Commissioner.

MAYOR TRIES TO BUY ARMY BASE.

Receiving information that the Government is about to turn over the Army Base at South Boston to private concerns, Mayor Curley has once more taken steps to save the passing of control, and held a conference with President Howard Coonley of the Chamber of Commerce, finding the latter of a similar mind.

Subsequently the Mayor sent the following telegram to President Edward Farley, United States Shipping Board, Washington, D. C.:

"I have conferred with Howard Coonley, president Boston Chamber of Commerce, with a view to having the chamber submit a proposal for the taking over and operating the Army Base at Boston for the benefit of the port of Boston and the state. Mr. Coonley is now working on a proposition in which the city and the chamber will be jointly interested, and respectfully requests that the United States Shipping Board withhold action in the matter of disposition by sale, lease or otherwise of the Army Base, until such time as the proposal has been submitted to you, which will be within thirty days.

Some months ago, similar news as to the intent of the Shipping Board reached the Mayor, and he then undertook to induce the Commonwealth to take over the property, which was returning a profit of $30,000 a month, but Governor Cox's attitude was adverse.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS COST $11,778,471.

It cost $11,778,471 to run the Boston public schools for the financial year ending January 31, 1923, according to the detailed report submitted by William T. Keough, Business Agent, at a special meeting of the Boston School Committee, Monday evening, September 10, in the administration building at 15 Beacon street.

Of the amount, $8,297,755.32 went for general school purposes, including Americanization and vocational guidance work. Repairs, alterations, protection against fire and fire hazard and new furniture and furnishings for old buildings, including new lighting fixtures, cost $1,099,999.84. The item of fuel and light is charged with an expense of $640,606.31. The balance of the money expended is explained in detail.

The committee received a notification from the Schoolhouse Commissioners that the latter have taken over for occupancy five school buildings as follows: Theodore Roosevelt, George Putnam District; Andrew Jackson, Washington-Allston District; Theodore Parker, Robert G. Shaw District; William McKinley, Prince District, and the John Marshall District School. The committee was also notified that the commissioners accepted the work on the administration building.

FIRE DEPARTMENT REPORT.

Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn has presented the following report to Mayor Curley on activities of his department for the month of August:

Boston, September 7, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR.—I submit below a report of the activities of the Boston Fire Department for the month ending August 31, 1923.

High pressure station No. 1 was in operation during the month for one hour and fifty-seven minutes, the pumps having been started in response to alarms from fourteen boxes.

High pressure station No. 2 was in operation during the month for one hour and thirty minutes, the pumps having been started in response to alarms from eleven boxes.

Two new fire alarm boxes were installed, one at the corner of Medford and Cottage streets, Charlestown, and the other at Glenwood avenue and Loring street, Hyde Park.

New motor apparatus was installed as follows:

An American LaFrance 750-gallon combination pumper and hose car and an American LaFrance combination chemical and hose car were placed in service in the quarters of Engine Company 34, Western avenue, Brighton, displacing five horses.

An American LaFrance city service ladder truck was placed in service in the quarters of Ladder Company 23, Washington street, Grove Hall, displacing three horses.

An American LaFrance 750-gallon combination pumper and hose car was installed in the quarters of Engine Company 17, Meeting House Hill, replacing a tractor-drawn steam fire engine.

General Order No. 366.

A trial board consisting of Captains Gallivan, Kneeland and McDevitt having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Robert Lucy of Division 7, charging him with conduct unbecoming an officer, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty. In accordance with which it is hereby ordered that the said Patrolman Robert Lucy perform one hundred and five hours' punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 367.

Commanding officers will again read to their officers at roll call General

Order No. 155, appointing instructors, as I find after investigation that the system established in this department by this general order, of having instructors aid officers with cases in court, is at times disregarded, and that some members of the department, either believing themselves beyond the need of instruction or indifferent to or neglectful of the fact that these instructors were appointed to aid them, have appeared in court unassisted, with the result that because of improper presentation of the case defendants have been discharged.

No case should be presented to a court until all necessary and proper witnesses are present. If any such witness is absent and cannot be reached at the time when the case comes up for trial, a continuance to a time when all witnesses may be present should be requested of the court.

If an officer presenting a case wishes another officer or officers to be present, division commanders upon request will see that the desired witness is there regardless of what rank he may hold in this department, and no officer should hesitate about encroaching on the spare time of other officers of this department.

Members of the department should bear in mind that only a fair and accurate presentation of a case before the court impresses the presiding justice, and that every intelligent tribunal knows that vindictiveness and indulgence in personalities on the part of an officer are the earmarks of a weak case. See Section 4, Rule 40, of the Rules and Regulations.

Officers must see that summonses for which applications have been made are signed with due diligence and not allowed to remain unnecessarily in the offices of the various clerks of court.

The attention of the department is also called at this time to Section 15 of Rule 36 of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, which forbids members of this department, either directly or indirectly, to concern themselves in making any compromise or arrangement between thieves or other criminals and persons who have suffered by their acts, with a view to permitting the criminals to escape the penalties provided by law.

It has been brought to my attention that there is a growing practice in this department of attorneys for defendants and police officers who are complainants, and persons who have suffered by the acts of the defendants, holding conversations in the various court corridors with the evident intention of compromising or fixing up criminal cases. Such a practice must be stopped, and all officers who have cases in court are hereby notified that they shall not take part in any conversation bearing on a compromise in any criminal case except in the presence of the tribunal which is to hear the case.

General Order No. 370.

The resignation of Patrolman Frank G. Bird of Division 19 having been presented, it is hereby accepted, to take effect Wednesday, September 12, 1923, at 7.45 o'clock a. m.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 371.

The resignation of Patrolman Orville E. Burnworth of Division 17 having been presented while charges against him are pending, it is hereby accepted, to take effect Wednesday, September 12, 1923, at 7:45 o'clock a. m., seven days' notice waived.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

JITNEYS FOR HYDE PARK.

The approval by the Mayor on Wednesday, September 12, of three petitions for jitney licenses in Hyde Park will provide a new service connecting with all parts of Dedham, Revere and Corriganville, thereby providing the Hyde Park section of Boston with a car service such as had never previously been enjoyed and equal to that enjoyed by any other portion of the city served by the Boston Elevated system.

PROVINCE STREET WIDENING TO START.

Despite the fact that the establishment of a building line for Province street still is in process of litigation in the courts, Mayor Curley is determined to proceed with the widening of the street to a uniform width of 120 feet. The street now is about twelve feet wide on the School street end and about the same at the Bromfield street end, but the middle is 28 feet wide.

Chairman Noyes of the Street Commission holds that the building line and the widening are distinct matters and has set eleven o'clock, September 26, as the date for holding a public hearing on the latter.

Months ago the City Council voted $1,100,000 for the widening, so that the money is available for carrying out the plan. "Making of highways" was the designation under which the appropriation was made. This is a blanket term applied usually to appropriations for new highways in outlying districts but can be equally well used to cover new downtown work.

Agreements have been made by the street commissioner whereby the Boston Five Cents Savings Bank will cede to the city, without cost, land valued at $55,100 and now forming part of the bank's quarters at the corner of School and Province streets. George U. Crocker and others associated with him agreed to cede $50,000 worth of land on the Bromfield street end of Province street.

Both the bank and the Crocker interests agree to give these parcels of land free provided the city does not assess betterments due to the street widening on their other properties.

Thus far no settlement has been reached between the city and the Olympia Realty Company, owner of the Province Building, which is completed on the Washington street end but is not yet finished on Province street.

BOSTON GAINS $36,390,294 IN VALUATION.

Although the total valuation of real estate in Boston shows an increase of $52,312,700 this year, according to figures given by the assessors, personal property has slumped by $15,922,406, leaving the net gain in total valuation $36,390,294. This year's total valuation (real and personal) is $1,714,100,000. The real estate is valued at $1,553,941,100 and the personal property at $160,158,900.

The total net gain this year while less than one-half what it was a year ago still is noticeably more than in 1921, when it was $23,278,163. In 1920 the net total gain in valuation was $44,304,992 and in 1919, $29,931,490.

This year's falling off in personal assessments is said to be largely due to the new law dealing with the taxation of national bank stock.

Ward 5, which takes in the shopping district, shows an increase of $18,127,200 in real estate. Ward 8 gave an increase of $5,921,600, accounted for by new residences around Beacon Hill and new apartment houses in the Back Bay. The Park square development also contributed largely. Ward 7 furnished an increase of $4,498,000. Business expansion in Massachusetts and Huntington avenues, as well as Boylston street, swelled the total there. New warehouses and other development along the waterfront increased by $3,600,000 the Ward 9 total for real estate.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works, being the lands, rights and easements herein-after described.

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston known as West Roxbury and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as North avenue, bounded:

Southwesterly by another part of North avenue and by easement taken by the City of Boston for sewerage purposes in North avenue July 28, 1921, thirty-seven feet; northwesterly by another part of North avenue, seventeen and 37-100 feet; northeasterly by the northeast line of North avenue, twenty-three and 96-100 feet; southeasterly by another part of North avenue, fifteen and 60-100 feet; containing four hundred and fifty-seven square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, in North avenue, supposed to belong to Delia Carrier, bounded:

NO CITY AID FOR JAPAN.

The City Council, called in special session by Mayor Curley Saturday, September 8, failed to pass the $10,000 appropriation for the relief fund of Japan, although Mayor Curley made a personal appeal. It was the third special meeting of the week, the other two resulting in no action because of insufficient attendance.

The vote Saturday was 5 to 3 in favor of the appropriation, but six votes were required.

On the roll call Councilors Hagan and Healey voted with President Lane, while Councilors Brickley, Gilbody, Moriarty, Walsh and Watson voted for the Mayor's order. Councilor Donoghue was absent.

Mayor Curley, in his address to the City Council, declared "There are times when precedent should be waived, and this is one. I have no desire to pass on the question of legality. Let somebody else raise it. This is a time for us to stand up as Americans, and do something more than simply pass resolutions of sympathy. Let somebody else take the matter to the courts if they desire to." The City of Boston should set an example of whole-hearted good will, in the interest of humanity. Detroit has already appropriated $25,000."

The Mayor also argued that the appropriation would be wise even from the standpoint of our own self-interest, constituting the best means to check the propaganda which has been promoting hostility between the United States and Japan. He pointed out that the Japanese ambassador, while in this city in 1914, made the announcement that his nation would cast in its lot with the allies in the World War, "whereas, had Japan sided with Central Europe, the result of the war would at least have been much longer delayed." The Mayor also recalled that Japan gave $100,000 to the relief of San Francisco at the time of the earthquake in that city.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

Upon request of the Public Works Department the Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for a public improvement, consisting of the laying out and construction of Clement park, Dorchester district, as a highway, from Centre street to Dayton street, with the name of Clementine park or some other distinctive name.

The highway named Clementine park is hereby laid out, from Centre street to Dayton street, and ordered constructed.

For the making of the aforesaid improvement an easement for street purposes is taken in the following described land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto:

The land, owners unknown, being the private way known as Clement park, lying between Centre street and Dayton street.

The highway named Clementine park, as hereby laid out and ordered constructed, is bounded:

Northerly by Dayton street, thirty-nine and 69-100 feet; southeasterly by the line of Clementine park as hereby laid out, fifteen and 37-100 feet on a curve of ten feet radius; easterly by the line of Clementine park as hereby laid out, one hundred forty-six and 40-100 feet; again southeasterly by the line of Clementine park as hereby laid out, thirty-one and 42-100 feet on a curve of twenty feet radius; again easterly by the line of Clementine park as hereby laid out, by two measurements, eighty and 85-100 feet and one hundred thirty-one and 2-100 feet; northeasterly by the line of Clementine park as hereby laid out, seventeen and 93-100 feet on a curve of ten feet radius; southerly by Centre street, fifty-three and 53-100 feet; westerly by the line of Clementine park as hereby laid out, by two measurements, one hundred fifty-two and 10-100 feet and one hundred thirty and 86-100 feet; again northerly by the line of Clementine park as hereby laid out, thirty feet; again westerly by the line of Clementine park as hereby laid out, one hundred twenty-five and 7-100 feet.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforesaid described land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered. That this Board estimates that all the lots of abutting land on the easterly side of Clementine park, as hereby ordered laid out, will receive benefit or advantage other than the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered, each of the particular lots to the amount respectively set against it herein; said lots and the supposed owners thereof are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Clementine park, Dorchester, Assessment Plan, May 22, 1923, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer Street, Laying-Out Department" on file in the office of said department.

Ordered. That this Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the making of the public improvement consisting of the laying out and construction of Clementine (formerly Clement) park, Dorchester district, as a highway, from Centre street to Dayton street, under an order of the Board of even date herewith, and awards no damages therefor.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

Upon request of the Public Works Department the Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for a public improvement, consisting of the laying out and construction of Halford road, West Roxbury district, as a highway, from Church street to Theodore Parker road, bounded and described as follows:

The highway named Halford road is hereby laid out, from Church street to Theodore Parker road, and ordered constructed.

For the making of the aforesaid improvement an easement for street purposes is taken in the following described land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto:

The land, owners unknown, being the private way known as Halford road, lying between Church street and Theodore Parker road.

The highway named Halford road, as hereby laid out and ordered constructed, is bounded:

Northerly by the northwest line of Halford road, as hereby laid out, three hundred fifty-six and 63-100 feet; northeasterly by Church street, forty and 99-100 feet; southeasterly by the southeast line of Halford road, as hereby laid out, three hundred sixty-five and 58-100 feet; southeasterly by Theodore Parker road, forty feet.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforesaid described land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered. That this Board estimates that the lots of abutting land on both sides of said Halford road, as hereby ordered laid out, will receive benefit or advantage, other than the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered, each of the particular lots to the amount respectively set against it herein; said lots and the supposed owners thereof are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Halford Road, West Roxbury, Assessment Plan, June 22, 1923 F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," on file in the office of said department.
